BATTLE SHIFTS TO SENATE AS HOUSE OK'S DAM BILL

Desperate Onslaughts by Enemies Fail to Prevent Victory for Boulder Canyon Act

WASHINGTON, May 25. (Exclusive)—Without a record vote [illegible] this afternoon passed the Swing-Johnson Boulder [illegible] providing for construction on the Colorado River of a [illegible] dam and power dam to supply flood protection for [illegible] Valley of California and parts of Arizona, water [illegible] in those States and Nevada and domestic water for [illegible] and other cities in the Southern California coastal [illegible] as well as hydroelectric power for the same regions.

The measure passed on a viva voce vote after a motion to [illegible] it to the Irrigation Committee was lost on a roll call, [illegible]. That was the test and following it those fighting the [illegible]-save Representative Leatherwood of Utah. He de- [illegible] roll call on passage but got little support and was over [illegible].

ORATORS ON THEIR TOES

Seven Youths to Clash Tonight

Finalists Will Meet Coolidge This Noon and Later Rehearse for Fray

One Speaker Fighting Cold; Much Entertainment to Follow Contest

WASHINGTON, May 25. (Exclusive)—The seven high-school youths representing various sections of the country who are here as finalists in the fifth National Oratorical Contest tomorrow night met and got acquainted for the first time today at a luncheon at the Central High School auditorium.

Tomorrow noon they will meet again and go in a group to be presented to President Coolidge at the White House.

This is all there is to the pre-finals program of entertainment arranged by Randolph Leigh, director-general of the contest. Leigh is going light on showing the contestants around prior to their test, on the theory that what they need most in preparation is to be permitted to lead their own lives and set their own schedules.

They will fraternize and doubtless become real chums later on when all go together on an eleven-week trip abroad, financed by leading newspapers in recognition of their forensic skill.

But for the present they are sworn enemies and tomorrow night at Washington Auditorium they face each other in a stern combat from which one will emerge the national champion orator, a title which should go far toward assuring success in later life in the law, politics or whatever profession he may embrace.

ALL ARRIVED BUT ONE

After the visit to the White House tomorrow noon the finalists will be allowed entrance to the auditorium, where they may rehearse and try

BANDIT GUNS KILL AGAIN

Fleeing Outlaws Slay Captive

Planes Aid Large Posses in Hot Pursuit of Four Who Murdered Bankers

Kidnaped Doctor's Body Found and Cashier's Life Also Believed Taken

DIGHTON (Kan.) May 25. (AP)—Fleeing before heavily armed posses aided by two airplanes the four desperadoes who Wednesday shot down two officers of the First National Bank of Lamar, Colo., today killed Dr. W. W. Wineinger of Dighton, whom they abducted Wednesday night.

Officers expressed fear that E. A. Kessinger, assistant cashier of the bank, who was kidnaped in the hold-up, also has been slain. Reports reached here during the day that Kessinger's body has been found near Scott City, Kan.

The killers were being hotly pursued late today and are reported to be in the vicinity of Modoc, Kan., after a mad flight over the Western Kansas prairies.

FOUND NEAR OAKLEY.

The body of Dr. Wineinger, who was lured away from home Wednesday night supposedly to dress the wounds sustained by one of the robbers in a gun fight in the bank, was found twenty-five miles south of Oakley, Kan.

He had been shot in the back of the head with a shotgun and apparently tossed over an embankment at the bottom of which his motor car was found. The body, which was still warm when found by possemen, was brought here this afternoon.

Dr. Wineinger was made captive through a ruse, one of the gunmen summoning him away from home with a story that a man had been severely injured in a tractor accident.

PLANES DROP NOTES

Spurred on by the cold-blooded killings more than 400 heavily armed men in motor cars continued the hunt for the desperadoes, assisted by the airplanes.

Lieut. Reavis of Lowry Field, Denver, scoured the countryside by air and dropped notes to the possemen as the chase proceeded.

The pursuers were prepared for a pitched battle as it was thought the killers would fight to the last to prevent being taken. The bandits are reported to be armed with a machine gun. Sheriff Alderman of Lamar, arrived here early today by airplane and organized the search. The fugitives are believed to be traveling in two motor cars, which were sighted from the air near here this morning. The cars were hotly pursued up the brakes of Smoky Hill River after the occupants of the plane notified officers here.

BELIEVED TO HAVE FUNDS

The robbers are believed to have in their possession $10,000 in cash and an equal amount in Liberty Bonds taken in the raid on the Lamar bank.

A. N. Parrish, president of the institution, and his son, John Parrish, the cashier, were shot and killed during the hold-up. The younger Parrish wounded one of the raiders in the arm and in the side.

In the belief that the desperadoes are attempting to escape west into Colorado or Wyoming, Sheriff Carroll of Cheyenne, Wyo., organized a squad of expert riflemen and left for Sterling and Hugo, Colo. The Cheyenne Sheriff acted after receiving word that the fugitives had been sighted at Benklemen, in the extreme southwestern part of Nebraska.

AIRPLANE LEAVES WITH MACHINE GUNS

DENVER, May 25. (AP)—Carrying several machine guns, a four-passenger airplane piloted by Eddie Brooks of Lowry Field, took off from here today for Western Kansas to supply officers with additional weapons in the pursuit of the four fugitives who held up the First National Bank of Lamar, Colo., last Wednesday.

MINE TOMB SURRENDERS LIVING MAN

Pennsylvania Rescuers Find Miner Alive Amid Bodies of Comrades

MATHER (Pa.) May 25. (AP)—A miner was found alive tonight in the mine of the Mather Collieries Company here, where an explosion occurred last Saturday, after having been entombed for more than 120 hours.

The miner's name was given as John Wade, a negro, and he was located by rescue workers who had been exploring the workings since the blast. Wade, officials said, was found about two miles back in the mine.

His condition, while said to be serious because of lack of food and water, was described as not critical, although he is unable to talk.

One hundred and seventy bodies had been removed from the mine tonight. Upward of thirty men still are unaccounted for.

CARRANZA ENDS HOP TO MEXICO

Latin Flyer Completes Trip from San Diego and Sets Record in Own Land

MEXICO CITY, May 25. (AP)—Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexican army aviator, arrived in his monoplane the Mexico Excelsior from San Diego, Cal., at 12:06 o'clock this afternoon, landing at Valhuena air field.

Capt. Carranza was met at the field by President Calles, Gen. Jose Alvarez, chief of the Presidential staff, and Minister of War Amaro. Dwight W. Morrow, American Ambassador, and members of the American Embassy staff, as well as a large crowd, also were on hand.

The captain's flight was the longest nonstop hop ever made by a Mexican aviator, covering 1575 miles in a little less than nineteen hours.

Eleven Mexican army planes escorted the captain to the landing place.

Calles to Decide in Church Cases

MEXICO CITY, May 25. (Exclusive)—The cases of all foreigners who are accused of violating Mexico's church laws will be decided by President Calles, who will determine if the accused shall be punished by expulsion under the constitutional Article XXXIII, which deals with undesirable aliens, the Interior Secretary announced today.

Governors and officials of all States have been advised to send all such accused foreigners here for disposition. Church-law violations are decreasing throughout Mexico, the Secretary added.

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—Senator Norbeck of South Dakota is confined to his home today under care of his physician, with an acute attack of indigestion.

Lexington Test Develops Speed of 33.04 Knots

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur said today the new airplane carrier Lexington has attained a speed of 33.04 knots with 148,000 horsepower in her standardization run off San Pedro, Cal., greater speed, he said, than was expected.

Recently the trials of the carrier were suspended because defective blading was found in some of the turbines. The blading was removed, reducing the horsepower from 180,000 to 148,000. The contract speed is 33.7 knots. Secretary Wilbur said that when the blading is replaced it is expected the Lexington will exceed this requirement.

Sandberg Given Confirmation for Shipping Board

WASHINGTON, May 25. (Exclusive)—Capt. Samuel Sandberg of Los Angeles tonight was notified by wire by Senator Shortridge that his nomination for membership on the United States Shipping Board had been confirmed in executive session by the Senate.

Capt. Sandberg will be urged to come to Washington as soon as possible, as his term starts on June 9 and runs for six years.

ANGELENO HONORED BY LOAN LEAGUE

DALLAS (Tex.) May 25. (AP)—Walter F. McDowell, Tacoma, Wash., was elected president of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations here today. Other officers elected included R. Holtby Myers, Los Angeles, vice-president.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] News is that Congress has promised the country that it will adjourn next Tuesday. Let's hope we can depend on it. If they do, it will be their first promise they have kept this session. If they only hadn't promised it there might be more grounds for hope. They just distributed $225,000,000 of Andy's hard-earned savings. If your part of the country didn't get its share it is because your Congressman didn't take a bag with him.

Andy Payne of Claremore, Okla., wins foot race, but is liable to have to run back to Los Angeles to get his money. They got Henry Ford running foot races now. He must have left home in one of his own.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PARACHUTE LEAP SAVES ARMY FLYER

Civilian Killed in One of Two Mitchel Field Accidents of One Hour

MITCHEL FIELD (N. Y.) May 25 (Exclusive)—A civilian flyer was killed and an army pilot was forced to take a parachute jump from his burning plane in two air accidents occurring within an hour today in sight of Mitchel Field.

Herbert C. Doyle, treasurer of the Sleeper Radio Corporation, Long Island City, who has been flying since he built his first plane in Rochester, N. Y., when he was 17 years of age, was killed in the crash of an Ireland Meteor, ninety-horsepower biplane of his own design.

He had made a short flight over Brooklyn, landed and was taking off for a business trip for Philadelphia, when in making a turn, the plane went out of control, slipping 200 feet to the ground. Doyle died instantly.

A short time before this tragic flight, Lieut. Stanley M. Umstead, testing a new Curtiss P-5 plane—one of the Army's swiftest fighting ships—found his craft afire presumably from a gas-line leak at 3000 feet. He started to clamber out of his seat, but a parachute strap caught. He is a large man and the seat was narrow. The plane fluttering crazily, dropped 1500 feet before he struggled clear and, sitting on the fuselage, pulled the parachute rip cord. The parachute opened, yanked him from the plunging plane and he came down to land virtually unhurt.

FORD SEEKS TO REALIGN RAILROADS

Applications Now Before Interstate Commission in Rearrangement Move

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—A rearrangement of his railroad properties is being undertaken by Henry Ford.

In a series of applications to the Interstate Commerce Commission today the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, the main system, owned by the Ford interests, asks permission to take over the Detroit and Ironton and the Ford Transportation Company, the latter described as the owner of a considerable amount of railroad equipment.

The Detroit and Ironton now operates about twenty miles of line, but has under construction fifty-four additional miles between Durban, Mich., and Malinta, O., which will constitute a cut-off of a distance over the entire Detroit-Toledo and Ironton route.

The applications declare considerable amounts of money can be saved by operating all three concerns as a single unit.

SILENCE HINTS DISASTER TO NORTH POLE AIRSHIP

Italia Long Overdue From Flight; Storm and Fog Reported Before Radio Fails

LONDON, May 26. (Saturday) (AP)—Up to 4 a.m. today nothing has reached London from any source revealing the whereabouts of the polar dirigible Italia.

A late Reuter dispatch from Kings Bay confirms earlier Associated Press advices that the Nobile base ship Citta di Milano will wait until noon before attempting to go in search of the aircraft. But experts believe that the steamer will not be able to get through the ice barrier extending from Spitzbergen to Northeast Island.

HOPE ENTERTAINED OF HAVEN IN SIBERIA

(Copyright, 1928, by Associated Press.)

KINGS BAY (Spitzbergen) May 26. (Saturday, 12:30 a.m.)—At midnight, forty-seven hours after the dirigible Italia had left the North Pole, she still was missing from her base here.

Watchers on the steamer Citta di Milano thought that she had possibly headed toward Nova Zembia on the Siberian coast, where there is a radio station. If further word does not come by noon today the base ship will start north on a search if ice conditions permit.

STORM RISING FAST KINGS BAY REPORTS

LONDON, May 25. (AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen quotes a telegram from Kings Bay as saying that a rising storm confronts the dirigible Italia on her voyage back from the flight to the North Pole.

The advices state that the return journey was started in clear weather but that a dense fog was encountered later and moisture from it formed ice on the Italia. A breeze from the southwest increased steadily until this morning it had gained the proportions of a storm.

ICE MAY HAVE BROKEN RADIO ANTENNA

KINGS BAY (Spitsbergen) May 25. (AP). (9:30 p.m.)—No sign of the dirigible Italia, in which Gen. Umberto Nobile and a crew of fifteen others is voyaging back from the North Pole, had come to the watchers here early this evening. The ship was then sixty-five hours out from her start to the Pole and had been en route from the top of the world for nearly forty-three hours. A strong wind is blowing.

Ice forming from a fog through which the ship was battling had way against a quartering gale probably has broken her wireless antenna and prevented communication with the base ship here, the Citta di Milano, but the operators on the base ship are constantly listening for possible signals.

Although members of the expedition here are confident that the dirigible will win her way through the adverse conditions they have begun to discuss other possible landing places for their companions.

They say that the Italia may make for Vadsoe, Norway, where there is a mooring mast to which the airship was attached before she completed her voyage from Italy to this point, or, possibly with the prevailing wind, she may voyage to the Siberian coast.

VIRTUALLY SAME CREW

The Italia is well-stocked for emergencies. She had aboard when she left here 8200 kilograms of gasoline and food enough for one month. The subsistence stores consist principally of pemmican and chocolate.

The sixteen men aboard are the same as on the previous trip of the expedition except that the journalist, Tom Masselli, is replaced by the journalist Lanr and the wireless operator Pedretti by Operator Trjek-oslovake and Behonnek, a scientist.

The crew of the Citta di Milano already has begun preparations to go to the assistance of the Italia if she calls for help. They will be able to sail on very short notice.

The commander of the Citta di Milano has asked the coal company here to furnish assistance in hauling the airship into her hangar when she arrives, and all employees of the concern are standing by.

FARM VETO SUSTAINED

Coolidge Scores in Senate Bout

Four Votes Lacking of Total Necessary for Repassage of Legislation

McNary Declares Time Left Inadequate to Enact New Aid Measure

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—President Coolidge and the Senate came to grips today on his veto of the McNary-Haugen farm-relief bill and the President won.

The vote was fifty for repassage over the veto and thirty-one to sustain the veto. A switch of four votes would have passed the measure, and the lack of them eliminated any prospect for farm-relief legislation at this session.

Action followed a brief but bristling attack on the veto from both sides of the chamber and a declaration by Chairman McNary of the Agriculture Committee, co-author of the measure, that it is too late to enact any other legislation at this session. That course has been suggested by the President.

McNARY COMMENT

Senator McNary, Republican, of Oregon, further declared that while he had stated to President Coolidge, when informed that a veto was being written, that he would seek to have a bill repassed without the equalization fee, he feels "by the action of the veto it seems the President even has foreclosed that avenue, which might have benefited somewhat the farmers."

It was the first showdown between Congress and the President on the McNary-Haugen relief bill which troubled Congress several years before it finally got the measure to the White House last year. At that time Mr. Coolidge wrote a veto message almost as stinging as the one sent to the Senate two days ago when he returned the legislation again. No attempt was made last year to override the veto.

PARTY LINES BROKEN

Party lines were broken on the veto roll call, nineteen Republicans and twelve Democrats voting to sustain it, while twenty-nine Democrats, twenty Republicans and the lone Farmer-Labor Senator lined up against the President. Four Republicans were paired for the veto with four Republicans for and four Democrats against it.

Those voting to pass the bill over the veto were:

Republicans: Blaine, Brookhart, Capper, Couzens, Cutting, Deneen, Howell, Johnson, LaFollette, McMaster, McNary, Norris, Nye, Oddie, Pine, Robinson of Indiana, Schall, Steiwer, Vandenberg and Watson—20.

Democrats — Ashurst, Barkley, Black, Bratton, Broussard, Caraway, Copeland, Dill, George, Harris, Harrison, Hawes, Hayden, Heflin, Kendrick, Locher, McKellar, Neely, Overman, Pittman, Robinson of Arkansas; Sheppard, Simmons, Smith, Steck, Stephens, Thomas, Wagner and Wheeler—29.

Farmer-Labor—Shipstead—1.

Total—50.

OPPOSED TO PASSAGE

Those voting against passage were:

Republicans—Bingham, Borah,

DOG LEADS TO FINDING OF BODY OF MISTRESS

WHITEWATER (Wis.) May 25. (Exclusive)—The fealty of a dog which refused to leave the vicinity of a pond caused a second search to be made and resulted in the discovery of the body of Mrs. Nellie Hulse, 63 years of age, who disappeared from her home several days ago. Mrs. Hulse had left a suicide note, but previous dragging of the pond had failed to locate the body.

PEKING BATTLE GAINS FURY

Manchurians Hurl Almost Their Entire Strength Into Defense of Capital

[Copyright, 1928, by Chicago Tribune.]

PEKING, May 25. (Exclusive)—There is increasingly heavy fighting along the lines 100 miles south of Peking. The bulk of the Manchurian armies is engaged, although 60,000 Kirin troops are assigned to the protection of Tien-tsin and Peking, with a reserve army exceeding 25,000 held for emergencies.

The battle seems heaviest on the western end near Paotingfu, from where 1500 wounded have reached Peking. It is estimated that the Chinese have evacuated less than 20 per cent of their casualties.

BATTLE OBJECTIVE

The apparent object of the present battle is to drive a breach between the Shansi army and Gen. Feng Yu-Hsiang's troops. The left on the railway south of Peking is not importantly engaged, indicating that the southern campaign is aimed at Peking, avoiding Tien-tsin on account of the danger of foreign complications, since approximately 16,000 protocol troops are guarding the foreign concessions.

The Nanking government has not replied to the Japanese note regarding the occupation of Manchuria, etc., should Tien-tsin and Peking be reached, but the Peking government replied this evening, saying it never would agree to Japan's contention that it is necessary to adopt effective measures. The reply asserts that such action

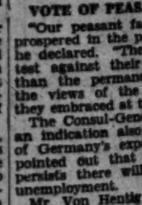
GERMAN ENVOY AWED BY CITY

Vast Scale of Improvements Marvel to Visitor

New Consul-General on Coast Lauds Southland

Conditions in Fatherland Cause of Laments

The vast scale of the new improvements visible on all sides in Los Angeles and adjacent [illegible] bewildering [illegible] one section to the [illegible] growth of [illegible] cities of the Old West, O. Von Hentig, newly appointed Consul-General of Germany for the Pacific Southwest States, declared yesterday.



W. O. VON HENTIG

"It would seem," he said, "that with these [illegible] structures [illegible] everywhere I go that you had [illegible] ple buildings for your needs [illegible] yet on all sides I see the [illegible] work for new office buildings, [illegible] tels, hospitals, apartment-[illegible] and homes. A development like [illegible] would be impossible in the Old World."

Mr. Von Hentig arrived in San Francisco only a few days ago to take up his duties as Consul-General, relieving K. Ziegler, who held that office for the past [illegible] years. He came here [illegible] order to be able to attend the [illegible] catory exercises for the [illegible] Southwest Exposition at Long [illegible] today.

ACCOMPANIED BY SISTER

He is accompanied by his sister, Eva Maria Von Hentig, who has won considerable recognition in Germany as an actress.

SIEGFRIED C. HAGEN

They were met on their arrival in the city yesterday by Siegfried C. Hagen, local German Consul, who conducted them on a tour of the city. During their brief visit they are stopping at the Biltmore.

The new Consul-General [illegible] said the trade between this [illegible] the United States and Ger- [illegible] has been showing steady [illegible] The only thing that will [illegible] future expansion of that trade, [illegible] said, will be conditions within [illegible] many. At present, he declared, [illegible] are none too promising. He [illegible] uted the big gains made by [illegible] Communist and Socialist parties [illegible] the recent election to the [illegible] factory condition of the [illegible] farmer.

VOTE OF PEASANT FARMERS

"Our peasant farmers have prospered in the past year or so," he declared. "Their vote is a protest against their condition, [illegible] than the permanent adoption [illegible] the views of the political [illegible] they embraced at the past election.

The Consul-General said that [illegible] an indication also of a falling [illegible] of Germany's export markets [illegible] pointed out that if the condition [illegible] persists there will be considerable [illegible] unemployment.

Mr. Von Hentig is a veteran [illegible] the diplomatic service, though [illegible] still is a comparatively young man. He put in several years in the Orient before the opening of the [illegible] War and since has spent consider- [illegible] ble time in Poland and other European countries.

First National President Gives Banquet as Tribute to W. R. Rothacker

Honoring Watterson R. Rothacker, vice-president and general manager of First National Productions, [illegible] a dinner was given at the Ambassador last night by Carl B. Hawley, president of First National Pictures, now concluding [illegible] month's stay here.

Hawley took advantage of the occasion to express official appreciation from himself and the board of directors for Rothacker's successful reorganization of the studio since his completion of the current building program.

In tribute to Rothacker all the stars of First National gathered at the banquet table, as well as production heads and a number of out-of-town officers.

The actors present included Colleen Moore, Richard Barthelmess, Corinne Griffith, Milton Sills, Jack Dove, Jack Mulhall, Kay Hammond, Harry Langdon, Ken Maynard, Charles Murray and [illegible] White.

Hearing in Zoning Plea Postponed

The hearing of the application of the Hollywood Cemetery Association for business zoning of the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage of its cemetery property between Gower street and Van Ness avenue, originally set for yesterday afternoon was postponed by the City Planning Commission until 2:30 p.m. on July 26, next. A large number of cemetery lot owners attended, prepared to protest against the business zoning, as they [illegible] when the matter first was presented a year ago.

Representatives of the cemetery association said that the time had been brief to acquaint the lot owners of the commission's hearing and asked for the postponement which was granted. The City Planning Commission will send [illegible] notices to all cemetery lot owners at their last known addresses, informing them of the hearing [illegible] July 26.

QUIZ NETS HUGE SUM

Sinclair Group Pays Taxes

Two Millions Due on Incomes Recovered as Result of Senate Inquiry

Secretary Mellon Reports Receipt in His Reply to Official Query

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—A total of more than $2,000,000 in income taxes has been recovered as the result of a Senate investigation into the Liberty Bond oil profits of the Continental Trading Company. Secretary Mellon today informed the Senate in reply to a resolution asking the information that of this amount $806,097.19 was recovered from H. M. Blackmer of Denver, James E. O'Neil, former president of the Prarie Oil and Gas Company, and the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company.

The taxes received include $151,597 from Blackmer, $151,301 from O'Neil and $246,033 in principal and $57,160 in interest from the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company. Other items collected total $1,396,900.

The taxes assessed were the regular corporation taxes on the income of the Continental Trading Company, whose profits were divided among Harry F. Sinclair, Robert W. Stewart, O'Neil and Blackmer. Penalties were added for nanpayment. The individuals still have their personal income tax to pay on the amounts they received, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, said.

QUIZ DISCLOSURES

It developed during the investigation of the Continental Oil deal by which that company bought 36,333,333 barrels of oil from the Denver Humphrey's interests and sold it back to Standard Oil of Indiana and Sinclair companies, that Stewart, Sinclair and O'Neil had turned profits of the Continental back to their companies. Blackmer's is held in trust in New York.

The communication from Secretary Mellon reads:

"While this department has availed itself of the information obtained by the Committee on Public Lands and Surveys of the Senate, the department had made an independent investigation of various matters connected therewith.

"We are unable to say that the payments hereinafter referred to are wholly the result of disclosures made before the said committee, but as the result of these disclosures and the department's own investigations these payments have been made.

"You are advised that these investigations disclosed that the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., of Canada was liable to the United States for income taxes for the years 1922 and 1923 in the final amount of $393,853.42. The corporation, having failed to file income-tax returns for those years, was held liable also for penalty for 15 per cent, or $98,-113.36, making a total liability of $492,066.78 plus interest. Jeopardy assessments were made against the corporation on March 13, 1928.

STEPS FOR COLLECTION

"The corporation being out of existence, steps were taken to collect the liability from the transferees of the corporate assets, Messrs. James A. O'Neil, Henry (sic) M. Blackmer, Harry F. Sinclair and Robert W. Stewart. On April 25, 1928, the attorney for O'Neil requested the immediate assessment of one-fourth of the corporate tax liability against his client and on May 9, 1928, he made the payment on behalf of Mr. O'Neil in the sum of $151,305.91 representing one-fourth of the taxes and penalties of the corporation, plus interest to the date of assessment against Mr. O'Neil.

"On May 9, 1928, the attorney for Mr. Blackmer made a payment on behalf of his client in the full amount of $151,597.10, representing one-fourth of the liability of the corporation for taxes and penalties plus interest to date of assessment against Mr. Blackmer. On May 10, 1928, the president and general counsel of the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company of Tulsa, Okla., paid on behalf of the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., the balance of the latter's liability amounting to $246,033.38, plus interest in the sum of $57,160.80, a total payment of $303,194.18. The amount thus collected in full satisfaction of the corporation's liability for taxes, penalties and interest was $806,097.19.

FURTHER RESULT

"A further result of these investigations was the payment from other sources of $1,398,910.09 additional tax. Inasmuch as these matters are the subject of further investigation, it is deemed incompatible with the public interest to disclose the names or names of the persons involved.

"The department is taking appropriate steps to determine the liability of all individuals or corporations for taxes and penalties based upon the receipt of income from the assets mentioned in Senate Resolution 235, but I feel it is not compatible with the public interest to disclose at this time the details and facts in connection therewith."

TESTS HINT RADIO MAY BE USED AS FEVER INDUCER TO FIGHT ILLS

PRINCETON (N. J.) May 25. (AP) The possibility of inducing fever by radio in order to combat disease was held forth today.

Experiments conducted by Prof. William G. Richards of the department of chemistry at Princeton University and Alfred E. Loomis of the Loomis Laboratories, Tuxedo Park, N. Y., have shown the heating effects of radio waves on salt solutions of similar concentration to that contained in the human blood.

The experiments were begun when it was noticed that men working with six-meter radio sets in the factories of the General Electric Company sometimes fainted or became suddenly ill.

Radio waves from different powered sets were used on salt solutions and it was discovered that the temperature induced varied with the wave length and the concentration. The maximum temperature was induced by a six-meter wave length apparatus on a solution of salt water aproaching the concentration of human blood.

The discovery points to the possibility of the use of radio apparatus as a means of inducing a high temperature of a patient suffering from a disease whose bacilli cannot live in a high blood temperature.

SEPTUAGENARIAN IN POOR BOX ROBBERY

MIWAUKEE, May 25. (AP)—George Fox, who says that he has spent all but twenty-three of his seventy-six years in jails throughout the country, faces another stretch as the result of attempting to rob the poor box at St. Augustine's Church here. An ingenious alarm arranged by the pastor led to his apprehension yesterday.

ORATORS WILL CLASH TONIGHT

out the acoustics and otherwise get the feeling of the huge building where in the evening they are to put forth their best efforts to win the national title.

The seven finalists who came to Washington are the winners of sectional preliminaries. The youngest is 16 years of age, Joe West, a senior at Central High School, Omaha, Neb., who is competing under the banner of the Omaha Bee-News. He was winner in the largest zone in the country.

The others are: Elliott Norquit, 18, senior at Southwest High, Kansas City, Mo., appearing under the chaperonage of the Kansas City Star; James R. Moore, 17, senior at Somerset High, Somerset, Ky., under auspices of the Louisville Courier-Journal; Charles J. Olson Jr., 17, senior at Classical High School, Worcester, Mass., sent here by the Worcester Telegram; Frederic Johnson of St. Joseph's High School, Cairo, Ill., sent by the Chicago Daily News; Ralph Zabludofsky, 18, high-school student at Brooklyn, N. Y., contesting under the auspices of the New York Times, and Benjamin Hinden, 18, Central High senior of Washington, D. C., sponsored by the Washington Star; Jimmie Moore of Somerset, Ky., hailing right from the State which has produced some of the greatest orators of the nation, was the only finalist who had not arrived in Washington by mid-afternoon but it is reported he will be here some time this evening.

BOY ORATOR HONORED

When Joe West of Omaha, "the boy orator of the plains," as he is called by the newspapers of his State, arrived at Union Station this morning, he was met by the entire Nebraska delegation in the House of Representatives and with his mother was taken to the House office building for a reception.

A check tonight showed all but one keyed up for the forensic battle of their lives tomorrow night. Young Olson, whose departure from Worcester was delayed half a day by illness, was confined to his hotel room by a severe cold. He is trying his best to throw it off and tonight is said to be feeling considerably better, although not up to scratch.

This young orator, Zabludofsky from Brooklyn, appears to be quite a figure back in his own high school. He is president of the general organization of the school, is active in debates and music and just before he left home all three of these activities made demands upon his time. He sang in a school opera the night before he left Brooklyn and engaged in two debates the day before that. He says about all he will do before the contest finals is rest.

PROGRAM OUTLINED

After the contest tomorrow night the lid is off on entertainment and a full program has been made up. Sunday morning the youthful oratorical stars will go on an extensive sight-seeing tour, winding up with a good old-fashioned southern cooked dinner in historic Alexandria, Va. Sunday night at 8 o'clock all hands will show up in evening clothes for a banquet at the home of John Hays Hammond, internationally known engineer, philanthropist and honorary president of the Constitution Club.

Before leaving the capital, the seven finalists will arrange at the State Department for their passports abroad and will obtain from contest headquarters free portmanteau. The trip to Europe starts June 30.

Judges at the contest tomorrow night will be Justices Sanford, Stone, Butler and Vandevanter of the United States Supreme Court, Mr. Leigh will preside and Secretary Hoover will deliver an address. Each contestant will be given ten minutes. Timekeepers will be Rear-Admiral R. H. Leigh and Maj.-Gen. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps. The famous Marine Band will play and Reginald Werrenrath, noted baritone, will sing. The decision of the judges will be announced by John Hays Hammond, and the national cup presented to the winner by Fleming Newbold, business manager of the Washington Star.

would be a violation of Chinese sovereignty, saying that whether the localities specified are peaceful or otherwise, the Chinese assume responsibility for the protection of foreign residents. The note also asserts that Japan's action violates the nine-power treaty signed at Washington in 1922.

A military conference of the southern factions Saturday at Hsuchowfu is expected to determine whether Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek or Gen. Feng Yu-Hsiang shall dominate the Nationalists, with indications favoring the latter.

Japanese military circles have obtained information that Gen. Fiang through the agency of C. T. Wang, prospective Nationalist Foreign Minister, has been assured an immediate Russian loan for the asserted extension westward of the Belgian dominated railway on Honan Province through Shensi and Kansu provinces.

JAPANESE TROOPS ARRIVE AT TIEN-TSIN

TIEN-TSIN, May 25. (AP)—Eight hundred Japanese troops of the third division arrived last night. The arrival of 3000 more was expected today. This will bring the Japanese forces in Tien-tsin to 4500, equipped with twelve field guns and nine airplanes.

land owned by American interests would put it to immediate use and establish an ownership which this country could never set aside.

DEMAND FOR TREATY

Douglas was joined in his demand for a treaty by Representative French of Idaho, who asserted that "the conscience of the world" would never permit the United States to recover this water after Mexico had built up communities through its use.

Representative Swing of California, author of the bill, denounced the amendment as "another attempt to tie up the whole project by putting it in the hands of Mexico" and denied that Mexico would acquire any legal right to additional waters she might put to use as the result of the equated flow from the dam. He declared this country could recover the water at any time. "Yes," shouted Douglas, "by going to war."

POWER PLANT PROVISO

One important amendment was adopted. It was offered by Representative Davenport of New York and provided that the government must build the power plant. The bill as it stood would have permitted the construction of the dam by private interests if a satisfactory arrangement could be made. Representative Swing objected to the amendment saying the matter should be left to the government engineers, but finally yielded and approval was given viva voce. The amendment drew ardent support from Representatives La Guardia, Black and other New York government ownership and operation advocates.

An amendment introduced by McGregor of New York specifying that no liability should ever attach to the government from any catastrophe in connection with the project was defeated. McGregor said he expected to pick up a paper "about 1950" and read that an earthquake had crushed Boulder dam. This precipitated a heated debate between Swing and Douglas as to whether Boulder Canyon is subject to earth disturbances.

ARIZONA GIVEN TIME

Swing put in an amendment which was approved giving Arizona until January 1, 1929, instead of June 1 this year, to come into a lower basin compact dividing water between California, Arizona and Nevada.

Approval also was given an amendment by Moore of Virginia requiring an annual report to Congress by the Secretary of the Interior on the progress and operation of the project and another by Representative Smith of Idaho, chairman of the Irrigation Committee, setting forth with finality that nothing in the act shall be construed as giving Mexico right to additional water.

Then came the roll call on the motion to send the bill back to committee and finally its passage with Douglas shouting a final warning that "this bill is rotten to the core."

IMPERIAL VALLEY FOLK CELEBRATE VICTORY

BRAWLEY, May 25. (AP) — The towns of Imperial Valley put on wild celebrations nearing hysteria today when the news came that the Boulder dam bill had passed in the House. The streets of El Centro and Imperial were jammed with hastily formed parades of automobiles with mufflers open and horns screeching an accompaniment to fire whistles and clanging bells.

Brawley is planning a monster parade and celebration for tonight.

Not since the signing of the armistice has such general and widespread joy manifested itself in the towns of the valley.

MAYOR CRYER ISSUES GRATIFIED STATEMENT

Mayor Cryer yesterday issued the following statement expressing his gratification of the adoption by the House of Representatives in Washington of the Boulder dam bill:

"The passage of the Swing-Johnson bill by the House of Representatives is wonderful news for Los Angeles and for all of Southern California.

"The success of the bill in the House indicates that it will pass the Senate as soon as it can be forced to a vote. Under the rules of that body a minority has the power to delay action, but I am confident that, as was the case in the House, the Boulder dam bill will pass the Senate when a vote is reached.

"The building of the high dam is indispensable to the economic welfare and future growth of Southern California.

"We are absolutely dependent upon the Colorado River for a supply of domestic water for the growing cities of our section of the great Southwest.

"While this need exists it seems almost criminal negligence to allow the life-giving waters of a great river to waste themselves in the sea, threatening destruction by floods, to some of America's richest valleys.

"The overwhelming arguments in favor of this proposed legislation overcame the opposition in the House and I am sure they will be equally effective in the Senate.

"Great credit is due to Congressman Swing, to Chairman Smith of the House Committee on Irrigation and Arid Lands, and to all who had a part in putting this bill 'over the top' in the lower House of Congress.

"Every effort should be made to bring assistance to Senator Johnson in the gallant fight he is making in the more difficult forum, the Senate.

"When success comes, as it surely will, the future of Southern California is assured."

EL CENTRO ARRANGES GREAT DEMONSTRATION

EL CENTRO, May 25. (Exclusive)—Business was suspended temporarily and El Centro residents joined in a noisy demonstration here this afternoon when news dispatches from Washington heralded the passage of the Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill by the House of Representatives. Fire and police vehicles raced through the streets sounding their sirens, while motorists paraded through town tooting their horns and shouting their joy.

The American Conservation Club announced late in the afternoon that an organized demonstration would be held at the City Plaza at 7 p.m. followed by a parade of ranchers and townspeople. Invitations were sent broadside throughout the county asking residents to attend the mass meeting.

YOUNG RENEWS LAUDS OF SWING-JOHNSON . ILL

SANTA ANA, May 25. (AP)—The Swing-Johnson bill for the building of Boulder dam on the Colorado River was declared "the most constructive piece of legislation considered by Congress during this generation," in a statement issued by Gov. Young of California here tonight expressing his gratification at the passage of the measure by the House of Representatives.

"Never before has California been so strongly united on any issue," said the Governor. "Both in national and State affairs it is a time when harmony should prevail and a fine and loyal support of those who are now making the great fight in Washington is all that is necessary to crown that fight with a glorious success."

POSTMAN PLAYS "POSTOFFICE"

Kisses Go With Letters He Delivers Until Police Interfere

CHICAGO, May 25. (AP)—A kiss with every special-delivery letter was the formula William Carago, 18 years of age, followed until police put a stop to it.

Entering the Bell Telephone Company offices he swept toward Miss Edith Tyrone, a clerk.

"Special delivery, lady," he announced, plunking a kiss on the cheek before she could defend herself.

At the next stop he offered osculations in rapid succession to the Misses Leah Dakele, Hedwig Shardey, Josephine Zuccala and Genevieve Hitchcock, each time meeting rebuff. By this time police arrived.

Young Carago told officers he guessed the good old game of "postoffice" is not as popular with the girls as it used to be.

THREE DEAD IN COOLIDGE DAM MISHAP

Fall from High Line Skip 300 Feet Above Riverbed; Two from Los Angeles

GLOBE (Ariz.) May 25. (AP)—Three men were killed at Coolidge Dam near here last night when they were thrown from a high-line skip to the bed of the Gila River, 300 feet below.

Five of the other twelve men riding in the skip were injured. The dead men are Clyde Lovin of El Centro, Cal.; Dewey Bedford, carpenter foreman, and Dewey Adair, carpenter, both of Los Angeles.

The skip was bringing fifteen men across the river when it struck a guy wire. A. A. Hart, one of the injured, although struck by the wire as the skip swung from beneath him, grasped hold of it and was knocked to safety by the skip as it swung into place again.

Richardson Hints He's Not Anxious to Enter Race

SANTA CRUZ, May 25. (AP)—Friend W. Richardson, former Governor of California, after addressing the Santa Cruz Rotary Club here today, discussed briefly the possibility of his candidacy for the United States Senate.

"If an available candidate other than myself can be found in Southern California," said the former Governor, "I will support him rather than myself. As a matter of fact I do not care to make the race if another candidate can be found."

Dry Agents May Wear Uniforms

WASHINGTON, May 25. (Exclusive) — Prohibition Commissioner Doran announced today that serious consideration is being given to the uniforming of all prohibition agents engaged in patrol work along the highways. This move will be made, it was said, in order to minimize the chances of prohibition agents being mistaken for highwaymen as has happened so often in the past.

Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary in charge of customs, Coast Guard and prohibition, said that extra efforts will be made to see that all members of the customs and Coast Guard wear their uniforms while on duty.

Moros Warmly Greet Stimson

JOLO (Island of Sulu) May 25. (AP)—Gov.-Gen. Stimson, making his first visit to Moro Land since his appointment, was warmly greeted here today by thousands of Moros.

Among those to extend greetings was the Sultan of Sulu. The Moros, seemingly pleased with Gov.-Gen. Stimson's administration, expressed the hope that he would see that they are given their rights.

SHOALS BILL FIGHT ENDS

Measure Ready for Coolidge

Stormy Scenes Mark Battle as Vote Puts Project Through House and Senate

Enemies Hoping for Veto; Two-thirds Majority Short in Both Branches

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—Hedged about with expressed hopes of its Tennessee opponents for a veto, the bill creating a government corporation to operate the Muscle Shoals nitrogen plant fought its way today through Senate and House. It now goes to the President.

The votes adopting the revised conference report, which eliminated authority for commercial manufacture and sale of fertilizer but retained provision for construction of the supplementary Cove Creek Dam in Tennessee, were decisive, but not overwhelming, or sufficient to repass the measure over a veto.

The Senate record was 43 to 34, taken after a twenty-four-hour filibusted, led by McKellar of Tennessee, had broken down. The House vote was 211 to 146, taken amid reiterated shouts of "vote, vote, vote" which rendered almost inaudible and at times choked off entirely attempted speeches against the bill.

LONG BATTLE HALTED

The two votes ended, for the moment at least, a battle that began in Congress almost immediately upon the signing of the armistice that ended the World War. Since that time controversy has raged around the disposition to be made of the huge hydroelectric plant built by the government during the war as a source of nitrogen needed in war explosives. At no time has Congress been without multiplying and utterly differing proposals as to the peace-time use to be made of the plant. Yet the bill passed today is the first definite legislative action on the subject to be sent to the President.

Under the bill, the government corporation, safeguarded by provisions intended to insure that it shall be directed by three men who believe that cheap fertilizer can and will be forthcoming as a result of experiments they are directed to undertake, would be required to produce fixed nitrogen in form for immediate use in the fields; but restricted to experimental work only as to mixed or whole fertilizers. Surplus hydroelectric power developed at Muscle Shoals, above the amount needed by this corporation in its operations, would be leased to consumers directly or through existing power concerns under regulation by the Federal Power Commission.

DAM PROJECT INCLUDED

The Cove Creek Dam project was added by the House and accepted by the Senate only after the all-night effort to defeat the plan by delay in the face of approaching adjournment of Congress. It contemplates a water-storage system on Clinich River, 350 miles upstream from Muscle Shoals, for the triple purpose of flood control, improvement of Tennessee River navigation and stabilization of the power output at Muscle Shoals to an average production of 300,000 horsepower, compared to a present low-water capacity of 100,000 horsepower.

The bill is a consolidation by the conference committee of the resolution put through the Senate by Norris of Nebraska, culminating his ten-year fight for Muscle Shoals legislation, with the bill sponsored by Representative Morin, Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Military Committee. He sat all last night through the McKellar filibuster directing his side of the war to force the bill through at this session of Congress.

BATTLE OF ENDURANCE

The Tennesseean attacked the bill with charges that government pre-emption to the Cove Creek dam site without recompense to the State, is a violation of the Federal Constitution and that it would deprive the State of taxing and of regulatory powers over both lands occupied or flooded and the electric current produced through use of the Cove Creek storage system.

McKellar and Tyson, his colleague, predicted that the State Legislature, when it meets next winter, will authorize a fight before the Supreme Court to test Federal power to take the steps authorized. He relies chiefly, however, he said, on confessing after hours of talking to prevent a vote that he had not the physical strength to hold out to the bitter end, on his conviction that President Coolidge would veto the bill.

Bruce and Tydings of Maryland, Blease of South Carolina, Sackett of Kentucky and King of Utah, who figured in the twenty-four-hour battle of physical endurance against the bill, all assailed it as putting the government into business competition with private power or fertilizer concerns.

FARM MEASURE VETO SUSTAINED

Democrats — Bayard, Blease, Bruce, Edwards, Fletcher, Gerry, Glass, King, Swanson, Tydings, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Walsh of Montana—twelve.

Pairs were announced as follows: Du Pont for the veto with Trammel and Frazier against. Moses for the veto with Jones and Gooding against.

Goff for the veto with Mayfield and Tyson against.

Gould for the veto with Norbeck and Ransdell against.

LINE-UP IN VOTING

Of the ninety-four Senators the line-up of those voting and paired showed twenty-three Republicans and twelve Democrats, a total of thirty-five for the veto and twenty-four Republicans, thirty-three Democrats and the Farmer-Labor Senator, a total of fifty-eight, for repassage of the bill. Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, was absent.

All of the New England Senators voted to sustain the veto but the two Democratic Senators from New York voted for repassage and from that point on west there was a split in both parties.

While the Senate was squaring away for the vote with indications that the veto would be sustained, there developed reports that the President has in mind calling a special session of Congress to take up farm relief after the national conventions but little credence is given to the report by Congressional leaders.

PUBLIC DOMAIN FUND MEASURE DEFEATED

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—The House refused today to override the veto of President Coolidge on the Oddie bill to appropriate more than $10,000,000 for roads through western public domain and Indian lands. The measure previously had been repassed by the Senate over the veto but with the House's rejection it is cast aside.

FARM VETO HELD BAR TO LOWDEN'S SUCCESS

WASHINGTON, May 25. (Exclusive)—The scorching veto of the McNary-Haugen bill by President Coolidge has made impossible the nomination of a Presidential candidate whose platform is based on support of that measure, in the opinion of influential Republican leaders in Washington.

The President has drawn the issue clearly. If the party nominates Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, for example, who has made his pre-convention campaign on the farm issue in opposition to the President, the party would throw the Coolidge administration overboard. Yet the Coolidge administration is the basis of the appeal for continuance in power which the Republicans will make in the coming national campaign.

The farm-bloc uproar which has followed the veto of the McNary-Haugen bill may increase as the time of the Republican national convention approaches. But the more bitter the attacks upon the President from those sources the stronger will be the resistance of friends of the administration. Already from the Middle West come statements by farm leaders that the President's veto message has made his draft for the Presidential nomination impossible.

With few exceptions Senators from the Middle West and Northwest are not taking seriously to the suggestion that if Mr. Hoover or the President or anyone not favoring the McNary-Haugen bill is nominated there will be a third party, an agrarian party, launched after the national convention. Talk of a victory for Al Smith as the Democratic candidate for President in Illinois

Postal Measure Obtains Joint Agreement

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—House and Senate conferees late today reached an agreement on the second deficiency appropriation bill, one of the big measures still awaiting completion before adjournment, and a few minutes later the House without debate approved the conference agreement. The Senate still must act.

A reduction estimated at $6,000,000 annually in mail charges on advertising matter was agreed today by Senate and House conferees on the postal rate bill. The conferees also reached an agreement on all differences between the two bodies on the legislation.

Morrow Bids Calles Adieu

MEXICO CITY, May 25. (AP)—President Calles said farewell to his friend, Dwight W. Megan Lloyd George

LIBERALS' PRINCESS IN BATTLE

Lloyd George's Daughter Faces Stormy Scene in Parliament Race

LLANGEFNI (Anglesey, Wales) May 25. (AP)—Stormy scenes marked the first political success of Miss Megan Lloyd George yesterday, but today the daughter of former Premier David Lloyd George hoped to sit beside her father in the House of Commons as the Liberal member from the Anglesey division.

Local differences among the Liberal electors caused a noisy scene when they met to choose their candidate for the seat. There were three candidates, Miss Lloyd George, Ellis W. Roberts and Col. Lawrence Williams.

Col. Williams in his speech to the Liberal Association showed warm resentment for the support which was being given the young woman and he was frequently halted by hostile comments. The majority, however, apparently wanted Megan as their representative and she got 323 votes to the colonel's fourteen, while Mr. Roberts got 245.

Megan has much of her father's gift of incisive speech. Of her political career, she said in announcing her candidacy:

"I love my father dearly. I admire him as a great chief—my political chief. I am affiliated to his party and want to collaborate in his work."

Rockefeller's Coal Company Closes Mines

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—The Consolidation Coal Company in which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a majority stockholder has taken the first step toward a solution of what it believes is the major ill of the bituminous industry—overproduction—by ordering ten of its mines closed.

Announcement of the action came from Robert G. Hill, chairman of the board of the company, who said that four of the company's mines in the Somerset coal fields of Pennsylvania and six in the Fairmont field of West Virginia are being shut down.

This throws out of employment about 2500 men or 20 per cent of the employees in the two fields affected, "but this means that for the remaining 80 per cent far better conditions will exist," Mr. Hill said.

Two Trainmen Die as Engine Strikes Trailer

DYER (Ind.) May 25. (AP)—The engineer and fireman of Monon train No. 36, en route from Indianapolis to Chicago, were killed today when the train struck the trailer of a milk truck at St. Johns, five miles from here, overturning the engine and derailing five coaches.

William Bellengar, the engineer, of Indianapolis, was pinned under his engine, and Floyd E. Crowder, the fireman, also of Indianapolis, was scalded to death.

Passengers were shaken up but unhurt, the Monon station agent here reports.

No Use Making Beer Flat Raids

CHICAGO, May 25. (AP) — The raiding of beer flats and soft-drink parlors, except in cases where previous evidence has been obtained was ordered discontinued by Police Commissioner Hughes today.

The commissioner said that failure of courts to convict those arrested was the reason for cancellation of his previous instructions, which were for a vigorous drive against the 5000 or more beer flats he believes are operating in Chicago.

MARYLAND GROUP WILL BACK HOOVER

BALTIMORE, May 25. (AP)—Herbert Hoover will receive Maryland's nineteen votes at the Republican national convention at Kansas City, the Republican State convention decided today, when delegates were instructed to cast their ballots for the Commerce Secretary, in accord with the preference expressed in the recent primary.

Resolutions indorsing the Coolidge administration and recommending the nomination of Mr. Hoover, who was lauded as "an able administrator, a conscientious public officer and a citizen with a deep sense of personal and party responsibility," for President were adopted by the State convention.

Fund Voted to Begin Bay Bridge

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (Exclusive)—With the conviction that Congress eventually will sanction a transbay bridge from Rincon Hill to the Alameda Mole, the Board of Supervisors today voted to include a fund of $100,000 in the budget for the coming fiscal year to finance soundings and other preliminary work.

The action was taken over the vehement protest of Supervisor McSheehy, who went to Washington as chairman of the bridge committee and offered an alternate plan of tubing the bay. He has been accused of breaking faith with the city because of his proffer, but today stood by his guns with the contention that a bridge will cost $100,000,000 or more, never can or will be built, and that the only feasible crossing is a tube.

Passage of the item for survey work is contingent upon the acquiescence of Congress, as the Navy and War Departments have objected to the structure.

Film Player's Suit Settled

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—Although counsel for W. C. Fields, stage and screen comedian, said in court today that D. W. Griffith, producer, had turned him down because he "wouldn't do in pictures," it was brought out that Fields has earned $388,000 in the films since 1925.

Fields was being sued by Charles Walton, theatrical agent, for $150,000 which Walton asserted as his share of Fields's earnings for getting him into pictures. Because of Walton's failure to impress Griffith with Fields's possibilities, the comedian's attorney held that the agent was not entitled to any credit for his success. The case was settled for $1950 two hours after it went to trial.

Senate Passes Rate Resolution

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—The Wheeler resolution requesting the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate railroad rates upon live stock, grain and other agricultural products from Montana points to Duluth was adopted today by the Senate.

The resolution asks the commission to determine whether American railroad rates can be lowered to the same charge as made by Canadian railroads. It was introduced by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana.

DOUG AND MARY WILL SAIL FOR HOME SOON

AMSTERDAM, May 25. (AP)—The Dutch Air Company announced today that Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford have postponed their proposed European air tour until August. Meanwhile they will return to America, sailing within a few days.

PRAYER BEGINS VICE HEARINGS

Case of Ousted Phoenix Officials Considered

Wide-Open Gambling Told of by Witnesses

Evidence of Protection Not Yet Adduced

PHOENIX, May 25. (Exclusive)—In progress before the Phoenix Civil Service Commission are hearings demanded by former Chief of Police Brisbois and other officers dismissed by the new City Commission, charged with failure to suppress asserted notorious vice conditions. Witnesses called to back the action of the new city administration gave testimony that in Eddie Doyle's cellar, on Central avenue, gambling games were conducted openly and that "as much as $10,000 to $15,000 was in play at a time." Doyle now is under sentence for traffic in liquor. One former policeman stated that he had been discharged because he persisted in "bringing them in." A half-dozen places were declared to have been "wide open," though, thus far, no evidence has been offered of police protection. Witnesses, including several boys, told of open solicitation at certain points in the city.

Another campaign issue, assertion that a certain type of paving was favored by the city government, is covered by a resolution of the new commission that bids will be received in the future for alternative types.

Something of an innovation has been started by the commissioners in having their sessions started with prayer, the invocations by clergymen of a number of the denominations locally represented. For its antivice crusade, the commission has received resolutions of commendation from the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Laymen's Civic League, the latter an interdenominational religious body.

Inquiry Asked in Legislative Orgy

BOSTON, May 25. (AP)—Investigation by the State Legislature of charges that members of that body held "drunken parties" in the State House was recommended by Gov. Fuller today in a statement read before the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Along with his message Gov. Fuller sent a copy of a letter received from four Boston clergymen concerning the charges.

Gov. Fuller told the Legislature the charges directly involve the Legislature as well as State House employees.

PAROLED CONVICTS GAIN BY DECISION

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (AP)—A paroled convict can hold a civil-service job, the Attorney-General ruled today. The opinion stated that a man convicted of a crime does not lose his status as a citizen unless he is convicted of embezzling public funds.

PALM RANCH

BUY NOW!

SUMMER has come to the West Antelope Valley and harvest time draws near at Palm Ranch. With the ripening of the record-breaking crop, this year's great immediate income opportunity is here. But you must act at once to take advantage of this situation.

Full-bearing apricot orchards, loaded with a bumper yield, are being sold at prices lower than the trees could be reproduced for today. And it is only a matter of days before the crop will be ready for the market. Following rapidly after apricots, pears and almonds will be harvested.

It is small wonder then that the first unit of this famous E. T. Earl Ranch has nearly sold out. Fruit income at once . . . Turkey profits later . . . With no pioneering . . . No waiting. That in brief is the Palm Ranch story and you should—

Theological School Question Bone of Contention

Discussion Slated for Today on Proposed Change

Alabama Clergyman Named as Vice-Moderator

TULSA (Okla.) May 25. (AP)—The controverted report of a committee of eleven proposing a change in the administration of Princeton Theological Seminary at Princeton, N. J., was submitted to the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., here today.

It drew fire from Dr. Ethelbert D. Warfield, president of Wilson College, Chambersburgh, Pa., who, as a member of the committee, submitted a minority report.

Discussion of the report, however, was reserved for tomorrow.

The majority report, presented to the assembly by Dr. W. O. Thompson, president emeritus of Ohio State University, contains as its major provisions a proposal for substituting one board for the board of trustees and board of directors which now control the institution, the new board to be directly responsible to the general assembly. Controversies between the existing boards are described in the report as the cause for its preparation.

BOARD OF THIRTY-THREE

The proposed board would include thirty-three members, eighteen of whom would be ministers and fifteen ruling elders.

The value of physical properties of the institution are estimated at between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000.

Rev. Joseph M. Broady of Birmingham, Ala., has been selected as vice-moderator by Dr. Hugh K. Walker of Los Angeles, newly elected moderator.

Dr. Walker's formal announcement of the appointment of Mr. Broady was presented to the general assembly here today along with designation of the standing committees.

WALKER ELECTION

Dr. Walker was elected moderator at the opening of the assembly yesterday. He was opposed by Rev. J. Ambrose Dunkel of Indianapolis. Dr. Robert E. Speer of New York is the retiring moderator.

Appointments made by Dr. Walker include those of Rev. Joseph A. Stevenson of San Jose, Cal., as chairman of the policy committee; Col. William M. Griffith, Pasadena, as chairman of the finance committee, and Merton H. Fales, Miles City, Mont., as chairman of the committee on leaves of absence.

DEATH FOUND MURDER

Sacramento Man Beaten, Stabbed Coroner's Autopsy Reveals

NAPA, May 25. (Exclusive)—Police and deputy sheriffs were confronted by a murder mystery tonight in their investigation of the death of Edward F. Hepting, whose bruised body was discovered in a Southern Pacific freight car near St. Helena yesterday.

A first impression that Hepting had met death from natural causes was dissipated when Dr. C. H. Bulson of Napa performed an autopsy today and discovered a huge dent in Hepting's skull, a knife gash over one eye and many bruises and lacerations. The skull injury evidently had been inflicted with a bar or club, Dr. Bulson said.

At the same time Mrs. Annie Hepting, mother of the dead man, and her son, Eugene, arrived from Sacramento, their home, with the information that Hepting recently had made several substantial gains in the stock market and that just before he started from San Francisco for Sacramento Thursday he had received $2800 from his brokers for the cashing of some stock.

When his body was discovered in the freight car, his clothes contained 50 cents and a watch. Mrs. Hepting said she believed he had been murdered by someone who knew of his winnings and that they stole the $2800 or more he had on his person and then dumped the body into the freight car.

CHURCH ELECTS THIRD BISHOP

Methodist Conference Ends Three-Day Struggle

Veteran Missionary Chosen to Episcopacy

New Prelate Closes Long Service in India

KANSAS CITY, May 25. (AP)—Ending a deadlock of three days, the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church tonight elected Dr. E. Stanley Jones, a missionary of Sitapur, India, to the post of bishop.

Dr. Jones, author of "The Christ of the Indian Road," and for twenty years a missionary in India, was the third and final bishop to be chosen at this quadrennial session of the conference. The others chosen were R. J. Wade of Chicago and James C. Baker of Urbana, Ill.

The new member of the episcopacy received 560 votes, forty-one more than the necessary two-thirds' majority.

Rabies Epidemic in State Alarms

SACRAMENTO, May 25. (AP)—California's annual rabies invasion is sweeping the State with much more prevalence than ordinarily, the State Department of Public Health reported today. During the past four weeks fifty-one rabid animals, including two cats, have been discovered in Marin, Riverside, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and Stanislaus counties. There have been no human deaths, however, from the disease. One person died last year. Because of the large number of rabid animals discovered, the health department has warned Californians to be especially watchful of dogs whose actions might be suspected as indicating rabies.

Increase Likely in World Court

GENEVA, May 25. (AP)—An increase in the number of judges in the International Court of Justice from eleven to fifteen seems a probability. The recent resignation of John Bassett Moore, American judge on the court, is understood to have led officials to the conviction that the work of the tribunal has been so augmented that the time has arrived to increase the panel.

It is likely that the September session of the Assembly of the League of Nations will be asked to approve a recommendation to the Council to make the increase. Under the plan the number of deputy judges also would be increased from four to six.

Gray's Widow Given Pension

WASHINGTON, May 25. (Exclusive) — President Coolidge today signed a bill giving a pension of $52 per month to Mrs. Maryon Maddox Gray of Santa Rosa, Cal., widow of Capt. Hawthorne C. Gray, who was killed last fall while making a balloon altitude flight from Scott Field, Ill.

On the flight Gray shattered all existing altitude records but the performance was refused recognition by the International Aviation Society because he was not in possession of his instruments when the balloon landed. Gray's wrecked balloon and body were found in Tennessee.

SEVEN DIE IN FLAMES

WELLINGTON (N. Z.) May 25. (Exclusive)—Alfred Woller, a settler, and five children, from 6 to 13 years of age, and another boy, 13, were burned to death in his farmhouse near Hawer.

NEW YORK TOLD TO LABEL SELF

State Senator Fears Aviators May Not Know When They Reach City

NEW YORK, May 25. (Exclusive)—New York City is more intrigued today by the revelation that it has no signs by which aviators flying above the city can tell where they are. State Senator Webb of Putnam county, who is chairman of the joint legislative committee on aviation, made the discovery.

Mayor Walker got a letter from Senator Webb today suggesting that a large white "New York City" sign be painted on some conspicuous building here so that aviators approaching from the ocean or across country will know where they are.

"A splendid idea," exclaimed the Mayor. "With that sign up flyers will no longer confuse this town with Patogue, Hohokus, Hoboken or Hongkong."

HUNDREDS DESTITUTE IN STORMS

Hail in Alabama Lays Waste 600 Square Miles of Farm Lands

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) May 25. (AP) — Approximately 200 families have been left destitute as a result of terrific hailstorms in West Central Alabama.

Loss to crops and property is estimated today at more than $500,000. Approximately 600 square miles of farm land practically was laid waste by the storms of Tuesday, the extent of which was revealed only today. It was estimated that 16,000 acres of cotton and 6000 acres of corn were ruined.

Appeals have been made to the National Red Cross for aid.

Group Will Map School Aviation

SACRAMENTO, May 25. (AP)—What place, if any, aeronautics should occupy in California high-school curricula will be investigated by a committee of educators including William Rutherford, principal of Galt Joint Union High School, first to give high-school instruction in flying.

The committee, picked by William John Cooper, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be headed by Nicholas Ricciardi, chief of the division of city secondary education. Other members will be Dr. B. M. Woods, University of California; Arthur G. Paul, Riverside; W. A. Dunn, Los Angeles; James E. Addicott, San Francisco, and W. A. Tenney, Oakland.

Six Bands Yet in Trophy Race

JOLIET (Ill.) May 25. (AP) — The little tally sheets in the possession of the judges hold the secret of which six high school bands will strive for the national Class A title here tomorrow.

The last of the sixteen bands from the larger schools of the country today completed their trial in the high-school band tournament. The six with the highest standing will play for the first place trophy tomorrow.

Class B bands also will determine their winner tomorrow. The bands on the program tonight included Modesto, Cal.

Japan Approves Kellogg Scheme

TOKIO, May 25. (AP)—The Japanese Cabinet today approved formally the Japanese note to the United States on the Kellogg proposal to outlaw war. It is understood that the reply is a blanket approval of the plan.

The Emperor's sanction is necessary before the reply can be handed to Charles MacVeagh American Ambassador.

FLORENCE REYNOLDS, ACTRESS, ENDS LIFE

NEW YORK, May 25. (Exclusive) Florence Reynolds, attractive 30-year-old vaudeville actress, committed suicide today in her attic room in a rooming-house. Her body was found in a kneeling position at her tidy bed, elbows propped on the blue quilt and with the hands clasped, as if in prayer, holding a gas tube, attached to a floor jet, to the mouth. A long letter, freshly written in a nervous hand, explained her act. It told of a broken romance with a man she referred to only as "Bruce."

INTERFRAT COUNCIL OFFICERS ELECTED

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 25. (Exclusive)—Douglas Lewis, member of Beta Theta Pi, today was elected president of the Stanford Interfraternity Council. His home is at Menlo Park. Hubbard Moffit of Oakland, Kappa Sigma, and Robert Sims, Long Beach, Delta Kappa Epsilon, were named to the interfraternity board of control.

SUSPECT ARRESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (AP)—Thomas F. Prosser, said to be a fugitive from justice, wanted in Los Angeles for driving a stolen automobile from St. Louis to Southern California, was arrested here today by Federal operatives.

MAN RUN OVER THREE TIMES

Struck and Left by Roadside While Help is Sought

Second Machine Comes Along and Strikes Body

Driver Gets Excited, Backs Over Victim Again

TULARE, May 25.—Tulare county authorities are seeking a hit-and-run driver and trying to establish identification of an unknown one-armed man, about 65 years of age, the victim, who died at the Tulare County Hospital here early this morning from injuries sustained when run over by at least two automobiles last night near Goshen.

Lawrence Miller of Visalia reported running over the man about 8 p.m. yesterday, declaring the old fellow, apparently an itinerant, appeared in front of him before he had time to avoid striking him. Miller said he stopped his machine, left the injured man by the side of the highway and walked back to a farm house for help.

In the meantime a car, bearing three brothers named Hash, stopped to investigate. They stated a small roadster came by, going over the injured man. When hailed by the Hash brothers and informed that he had run over the man, the driver is said to have become excited, backed up the machine and ran over the victim the second time.

A physician and ambulance were summoned from Visalia and the injured man conveyed to the County Hospital here where an operation was performed in an effort to save his life. He died without gaining consciousness. He sustained internal injuries, a crushed chest, broken legs and other injuries.

Little money was found on his person, but a methodical diary revealed some information of his wanderings, but failed to give any clew as to his identity or relatives. Entries indicated that he had lived around San Francisco for some time, losing his arm in an accident only a few years ago. In an effort to earn a living, he tried to get needles to peddle and had some difficulty with an officer of the Salvation Army about this, landing in the San Francisco jail for several weeks in 1926. He was believed enroute to Woodville to work in potato fields when run down.

The man had blue eyes, gray hair and was about five feet six and one-half inches tall. The left arm was off at the shoulder. He was neatly dressed but gave all appearances of being a wanderer. The inquest will be conducted at Coble's parlors tomorrow morning by Coroner J. M. Hadley of Tulare county.

SUPPLY OF LABOR FOR KERN LOW

Cotton, Fruit, Potato and Onion Fields Need Additional Workers

BAKERSFIELD, May 25. — Demand for laborers in Kern county is greater than the supply and unless the situation is relieved immediately it will be necessary to send out of the county for workers, it was revealed today by H. O. Lash, Deputy State Labor Commissioner here, and manager of the State employment office.

"There is little need for an army of unemployed in Bakersfield. 55 Commissioner Lash declared, "for we are unable to fill the demand. Beginning of the fruit truck crop harvest in the county has resulted in a greater demand for labor than we can supply."

Cotton choppers, fruit pickers and workers for the potato and onion fields of Kern are badly needed and farmers and orchardists daily are swamping the State office with appeals for workers.

"We have jobs for a number of families in the orchards and potato fields of the county and we need a number of teams, too," the commissioner said.

POSSE HUNTS MAN

Sheriff's Band Seeks Fugitive Who Shot at Woman in Home

LAKEPORT, May 25. (AP)—A posse of 100 men under command of the Sheriff is hunting the outskirts of Lakeport today for an unidentified man who fired a shot last night at Mrs. Lee Stoddard here.

The man called at the Stoddard home and asked for food. Seeing a revolver in his hand, Mrs. Stoddard slammed the door. He fired a shot through the door and fled. Mrs. Stoddard was uninjured.

Later Sheriff McKelley was fired upon from ambush and narrowly escaped being hit when a bullet crashed through a window of his automobile. The fugitive is believed to be hiding in the foothills, which are heavily grown with long grass and oak timber.

THIRTY VOTERS HALF ENOUGH

Sierra County Hasn't Enough Electors to Qualify Its Candidates

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (Exclusive)—If there are only thirty qualified electors in a district and there are two or more candidates for an office and each must have not less than twenty sponsors to make a petition legal, what is to be done?

That's the situation which confronts Sierra county. It was too much for Dist.-Atty. Neville, so he asked the Attorney-General's office about it and in a letter today that office replied that about the only thing that can be done is to have the electors write in on the ballot the name of the man they favor.

DIVE ENDS IN BROKEN SPINE

Visalia Bank Teller Hits Too-Shallow Water

Vertebra Fractured as Head Strikes River Bottom

Victim Fully Conscious But Cannot Move Body

VISALIA, May 25.—Conscious and with his mind clear, Tony Demello, 26-year-old paying teller at the Visalia branch of the Los Angeles First National Bank, lies paralyzed from the shoulders down at the Kaweah Hospital as a result of a fractured spine, sustained when he dove into shallow water. He was swimming near Old Mill, east of here, striking his head on the river bed.

Extent of Demello's injuries has not been determined, according to Dr. J. H. Betts. However, he seems slightly improved today, according to the hospital matron. Dr. E. R. Fleming of San Francisco has been called into consultation on the case. There is said to be a fracture in the upper part of Demello's spine.

Demello has been here several years and has a wife here. His parents reside near Hanford.

Australia Flight Hop-off Date Set

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (Exclusive)—With the arrival at Oakland airport today of the trimotored monoplane Southern Cross, preparations were begun for a new attempt to conquer the Pacific, but more fully than it ever has been before. Capt. Charles P. Kingsford-Smith and Charles T. P. Ulm, Australian flyers, propose to fly the plane to Australia and announce the tentative date for their hop-off as the 31st inst.

Some of their arrangements already are under way, they said.

They reported that both Wheeler Field, on the Island of Oahu near Honolulu, and the so-called Barking Sands runway of Kauai Island are being prepared to receive them on the first leg of their aerial tour.

The Southern Cross was flown here today from Long Beach and is housed at the Oakland municipal airport.

Air Ambulance Service Invoked

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (Exclusive)—Aerial ambulance service between Bakersfield and this city was invoked today for what is believed to be the first time.

R. L. Wilson and Glavds Moren, who have been undergoing treatment for advanced pulmonary tuberculosis at Stonybrook Tuberculosis Retreat in Kern county, were flown from the Bakersfield airport to the Oakland municipal airport because it was believed the ride would be less exacting than any other means of locomotion.

They were taken into automobiles at Oakland's airport and transferred to a San Francisco hospital, where both are to undergo operations.

Bushman May Lose Property

NEW YORK, May 25. (Exclusive) Unless Francis X. Bushman, film actor, pays his former wife, Mrs. Josephine F. Bushman, $53,580 back alimony, she may attach his property in New York State. Although a judgement for the arrears was handled down in Hollywood, at Mrs. Bushman's request Justice Callahan today recognized the validity of the California edict and made it binding in this jurisdiction.

Mrs. Bushman's affidavit states that the actor has not lived up to his agreement at the time of her divorce to pay her $40,000 and contribute towards the support of their five children.

PEACE PARLEY TODAY IN STUDENTS' STRIKE

PORTSMOUTH (O.) May 25. (AP) Upon the outcome of a "peace conference" called for tomorrow depends the hope today for an end to the pupils' strike at the Glendale High School in New Boston. Four business men, members of the Board of Education, and five delegates from the student body have been asked to attend the meeting. The pupils walked out when the Board of Education failed to reemploy three favored teachers. Obtaining support of parents and residents of New Boston, the pupils have been adamant in their refusal to return to classes.

PRISON RIOT HERO ASKED TO RESIGN

SACRAMENTO, May 25. (AP)—Charles Beard of Sacramento, who was appointed a traffic officer for Nevada county on the strength of heroism displayed in the Thanksgiving Day riots at Folsom prison, today resigned at the request of officials of the State Division of Motor Vehicles. George Moynahan, acting chief inspector of the department, in announcing Beard's resignation said that it was demanded following an occurrence last Saturday night at Colfax in which Beard engaged in fisticuffs with two Mexicans.

LABORER KILLED

PHOENIX, May 25. (Exclusive)—Miguel Romero, a laborer of the Romola project, northwest of Phoenix, apparently was killed by a motor car on the main highway that runs through the project, and his body then laid on the paralleling Santa Fe track, with intent to transfer responsibility. The man's associates found the body before a train came along and, apparently, within a few hours of death. Tracks of a broad-tired vehicle led to the point where the body had been thrown. Physicians say the wounds indicate that Romero had been struck by a truck and tossed upward, receiving body lacerations and a fractured skull.

MRS. CHAPLIN SUBPOENAED

Film Comedian Also May be Called to Testify in Trial of Former Butler's Slayer

MANTI (Utah) May 25. (AP)—Mrs. Lita Grey Chaplin, former wife of Charles Chaplin, film actor, was subpoenaed today by Attorney Lewis Larson, chief counsel for Sheldon Clark, confessed slayer of Don Solovich, former Butler in the Chaplin home, who was found dead on a desolate road near Gunnison, Utah, last January and Dist.-Atty. Keller announced that he may subpoena Charles Chaplin as a witness for the State. Larson refused to discuss the nature of the testimony he will seek from Mrs. Chaplin, but said that he expects her to throw some light on the strange series of events leading up to the killing of Solovich.

Promises of sensational testimony were made by James E. Poese, Los Angeles private detective and former custodian of the Chaplin Beverly Hills estate, who has been retained by the Solovich estate to make an investigation of the case in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Tia Juana.

When informed that Lita Grey Chaplin had been subpoenaed to appear in his behalf, Clark expressed little surprise, adding that he thought she would be called before the trial was over.

It was revealed by Dist.-Atty. Keller that Lloyd Wright, Chaplin's attorney, has been in communication with him and may come here to protect Chaplin's interests if he is linked with the case through Clark's testimony.

KNOWS NOTHING OF IT, MRS. CHAPLIN DECLARES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (AP)—Mrs. Lita Grey Chaplin, divorced wife of Charlie Chaplin, came to San Francisco today on what she said was a shopping expedition.

When she arrived she learned she had been subpoenaed as a witness in the murder trial of Sheldon Clark at Manti, Utah. Clark is on trial for his life, charged with the murder of Don Solovich, Mrs. Chaplin's former butler.

"I don't know what kind of a witness I'd be," she said. "Solovich worked for me a while and I knew nothing of his activities outside that. I never saw Clark, so far as I can recall, and never heard of him."

Accompanied here by her mother, Mrs. Lillian Grey, and by a friend, Miss Jeanne Bernard, Mrs. Chaplin said she was in San Francisco to buy furniture for her new home in Los Angeles.

ATTORNEY SAYS LITA WILL NOT APPEAR

Roland Rich Wooley, attorney for Mrs. Rita Grey Chaplin, ex-wife of the film comedian, said in Los Angeles yesterday, that no official notice of her subpoena as a witness in the Sheldon Clark trial at Manti had been received, but declared that Mrs. Chaplin would not answer the subpoena at this time as she had no information which could be of any value.

The attorney, who is a second cousin of the judge who signed the order, said: "Don Solovich worked for Mrs. Chaplin as a butler for some time. She relieved him of his duties as such last November. So far as I, her attorney, know, she is not in possession of any information that could assist in the solution of the Solovich murder. I know of no reason why an attempt should be made to bring her into the case. It appears a futile effort."

Princess Fined on Police Charge

BONN (Germany) May 25. (AP)—Princess Victoria of Schaumberg-Lippe, sister of the former Kaiser and wife of Alexander Subkoff, young Russian refugee, now has a conviction against her name in police records, having been fined 30 marks ($5) for violating police regulations in failing to obtain a German visa for a recent visit to Belgium where her husband is in exile.

The Princess accompanied Subkoff's mother and another Russian on a visit to her husband who has been staying in Belgium ever since he was expelled from Germany after a series of escapades.

ALIENS TO GET TRAINING

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—President Cooledge today signed two bills authorizing the Secretary of War to receive two Chinese and two Siamese subjects for instruction at West Point Academy.

Roads to Appeal Wage Increase

CHICAGO, May 25. (AP)—Western railroads will take their fight against a wage increase granted to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen by an arbitration board to the United States Supreme Court.

Counsel for the roads are making plans today to appeal from the District Court's approval of the award, and the affirmation by the circuit Court of Appeals of the lower court's action.

The arbitrators gave the freight employees of the union 35 cents a day more, and those in passenger service 30 cents, by which 55,000 men will benefit. The roads say the award adds $3,000,000 annually to their pay rolls.

The carriers contested the award because it was arrived at after the arbitrators previously had declared their inability to reach a decision.

Bids For Airplane

Sealed bids will be received by the District Purchasing Agent, San Francisco, California, up to and not later than 2 P.M., June 1, 1928, for the hire by the U. S. Government of 2 two-place seaplanes, Northern California, and 1 airplane for Southern California, not less than 200 horsepower, together with necessary pilots and flying personnel to be used in the detection and suppression of forest fires and for other purposes within and near the National Forests of California, during the period July 1 to October 31, 1928, for Northern California and to October 20, 1928, for Southern California. Before final award any person or company submitting the most acceptable bid may be required to show that he has immediately available, or will have available as needed, sufficient funds to provide the necessary hangars and other equipment, and to make necessary to enable him to meet the requirements of the service. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. Before final award is made full information as to the character of the flying and conditions under which it will be required to be taken, and the experience of the pilots should be obtained from the District Forester, Ferry Building, San Francisco, California.

Sights You Never See :-)

UNREASONABLE, isn't it? And yet that's what happens when you put off going to a dentist until an aching tooth forces you to take action—when you should have taken months before.

Teeth are too valuable, too important in their relation to general health to allow them to decay. In spite of your best efforts with a tooth brush decay will attack your teeth.

The commonsense thing to do is to have a dentist look them over once in six months and check up decay. Dentists using the E. R. Parker System will examine your teeth without charge, tell you just what work you need and the exact cost. It's safe! See a dentist today!

ELEPHANT WILL MEET DONKEY

Republicans and Democrats in House Clash on Baseball Diamond Today

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP) One question is to be settled definitely during the present session of Congress: Whether the Democrats or the Republicans in the House are the worst baseball players.

The contest, known as the "biennial Congressional world series baseball game," will be played tomorrow. President Coolidge will throw out the first ball. The Marine band will give a concert before the game and every error and other plays during the contest will be broadcast.

Representative Kelly of Pennsylvania is captain of the Republican team and Representative McMillan of South Carolina leads the Democrats.

State office this year should be in in San Francisco or Santa Cruz.

COMMITTEE NAMED

The committee is Mrs. E. A. Benson, San Francisco, chairman; Mrs. D. C. Clark, San Francisco; Mrs. F. Bolmer, Oakland; Mrs. P. J. Kramer, Oakland; Mrs. James Lytle, Los Angeles.

It was decided that the next State board meeting be held in July, in San Francisco. The selection of the next place of meeting will be decided later.

The convention voted its support of Herbert Hoover's child bill of rights. They advocated a health center in every county and district in the State. A resolution was adopted as proposed by the educational committee of the California Taxpayers' Association, approving the county unit plan of education so as to give the rural child equal educational rights with the child of the city.

BOND ISSUE APPROVED

They also passed a resolution approving the $6,000,000 bond issue for acquiring areas for natural public parks in the State as recommended by the State Park Commission and as presented to the convention by Charles B. Wing.

They recommended that the Congress provide a scholarship for the study of religious education and approved fostering spiritual training and character education. They voted their approval of the bureau of hygiene and public health and recommended that this be considered by the budget bureau.

Development Association Has Election Today

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (Exclusive)—Directors of the California Development Association are scheduled to meet here tomorrow to elect a president, three vice-presidents and a treasurer for the coming fiscal year.

R. B. Hale, retiring president, automatically remains as past president and director. The new directors, named several days ago, and from whom the officers will be chosen, are:

F. W. Bradley, Colbert Coldwell, A. E. C. Dohrmann, R. E. Fisher, R. B. Hale, Frederick J. Koster, Paul Shoup and Charles E. Virden, San Francisco; Arthur S. Bent, William May Garland, J. A. H. Kerr, Maynard McFie, Clinton E. Miller, E. W. Murphy, Henry M. Robinson and Harry Chandler, Los Angeles; Ralph P. Merritt and A. Emory Wishon, Fresno; Hubert H. Briggs, Stockton; C. A. Buffum, Long Beach; Fred W. Kiesel, Sacramento; Joseph R. Knowland, Oakland; Frank A. Miller, Riverside; Dudley V. Saeltzer, Redding, and C. C. Teague, Santa Paula.

Kate M. Mihan's Will Recorded

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (AP)—An estate valued at $400,000 was disposed of today in the will of the late Kate M. Mihan filed for probate here. Specific bequests total $165,000 and the residue was left to the persons named in proportion to the amount of the legacies. Mrs. Mihan was a niece of Thomas I. Bergin, pioneer California lawyer.

Among the bequests was the provision that John A. Mihan of Los Angeles be given $50,000. All but $147,500 of the estate was left to charities.

ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, May 25. (Exclusive)—John H. Strothman, 45 years of age, auditor of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Saving Bank, Minneapolis, died last night in Abbott Hospital after an illness of a month.

John H. Baker, 92 years of age, Duluth's oldest union man and Civil War veteran, died today after a short illness.

Charles Michaud, 81 years of age, founder of Michaud Bros. and head of the business for fifty years' died today at his home.

ASTORS SUED ON FUR GRUB STAKE

Accounting Sought in Deal 150 Years Old

Plaintiffs Claim Slice of Estate's Millions

Musty Parchment Produced in Federal Court

NEW YORK, May 25. (Exclusive.) A musty bit of parchment, bearing the 150-year-old scrawl of a hardy frontiersman who didn't put much faith in the honesty of the original John Jacob Astor, was produced in Federal Court today to substantiate a claim for a generous slice of the present Astor millions.

The heirs of old John Nicholas Emerick, who in 1787 took young Astor on a fur-trading jaunt to the headwaters of the Mississippi, assert that the profits of the century-and-a-half agreement are being withheld from them by the administrators of the Astor estate—an agreement which includes the site of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

TO GET ONE-THIRD

John Jacob Astor was to get one-third of the profits of all his enterprises with Emerick, according to the original agreement, but later, ruing the day when the first met the man who was to found one of New York's great fortunes, Emerick made many safeguards to protect his heirs.

The plaintiffs, descendants of Emerick's brother, declare that a year before Emerick died in 1817, he signed a document which provided that Astor keep in trust his estate for ninety years, at which time the descendants of his two brothers were to receive it.

The plaintiffs are Edna Carnahan, Eau Claire, Wis.; Christiana Campbell, Appleton, Wis., and John Thomas Emerick, Waukegan, Ill.

DEFENDANTS NAMED

They declare in the papers that a present member of the Astor family told them that in 1902 the trust fund for the Emerick partnership amounted to $39,000,000.

The suit asking a true accounting is against Charles Peabody, trustee for John Jacob Astor, Sr.; the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, trustee for John Jacob Astor, son of William B. Astor, and William Vincent Astor, trustee of John Jacob Astor.

Children Die in Auto Camp Fire

TUCSON (Ariz.) May 25. (AP)—The explosion of a gasoline camp stove in an automobile camp tent house today cost the lives of two children. The victims, one 4 years of age, and the other 8 months, were the children of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Edgerton, who came here from Ohio eight months ago.

The parents were at a near-by house when they saw their tent home burst into flames.

Mate Located Here Divorced

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (AP)—Charging that her husband, Elwyn C. Walraven, left her six months after their marriage, and went to Los Angeles, Mrs. Elizabeth Walraven obtained a divorce in Superior Court here today. The wife said that after five years she located Walraven doing a prosperous business in Los Angeles at 600 East Twelfth street.

SOUTHLAND CONCERN AWARDED CONTRACT

PHOENIX, May 25. (Exclusive)—The Edwards Wildey and Dixon Company of Los Angeles this afternoon was awarded a contract for erection of the new Maricopa County Courthouse and Phoenix City Hall on a bid of $741,300 for terra cotta finish. This is exclusive of plumbing and jail equipment. Protests came from local sources against the material and on the award to an outside contractor, with insistance that Arizona tufa be used. A local contractor was second in the bidding, falling behind $8800 on terra cotta and only $84 behind on tufa. For the Courthouse with terra cota finish, the Los Angeles concern bid $470,900 and for the city building $270,400. There is a possibility that the city may take separate contracts, the two buildings being designed as adjacent units, but by different architects.

LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, May 25. (Exclusive)—When Lewis Sumpter of Whitesburg, Ky., discovered a full grown black snake his dog dashed at the snake with his mouth open and the snake sprang at the dog, landing in the canine's mouth and was swallowed. The dog suffered no ill effects.

Fred Schneiter, 62 years of age, for thirty-two years proprietor of Schneiter's Park, died at his home, 3664 Taylor Boulevard.

PEGGY REPORTED ENGAGED

London Paper Declares Betrothal of Actress to Count De Janze an Open Secret

LONDON, May 25. (AP)—The Evening Standard, declaring that it "is able to announce one of the most interesting romances of the year," adds: "It is an open secret among their friends that Miss Peggy Hopkins Joyce, the American actress, is engaged to be married to Count Frederic de Janze. He will be her fifth husband."

Count De Janze formerly was the husband of Miss Alice Silverthorne of Chicago.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce obtained a Paris divorce from Count Gosta Morner in February, 1926. She was married to him in 1924 at Atlantic City.

In June, 1927, the Paris tribunal granted a divorce to De Janze from Countess De Janze, the former Alice Silverthorne of Chicago, who some time before had shot Raymond Vincent De Trafford, a young Englishman, in a compartment of the Calais boat express at the Gare du Nord, Paris, and then attempted suicide. The Countess was freed by the courts on the payment of a small fine.

PEGGY CALLS HIM EXTREMELY NICE BOY

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, whose engagement was reported today by the London Evening Standard, said:

"Oh, I know the Count De Janze. He is an extremely nice boy. Still I am not engaged to him—yet."

NEW TEXT TEACHES YOUNG IDEA TO SHOOT AT PROFIT

NEW YORK, May 25. (Exclusive) In Chicago they teach the young idea to shoot; in New York they are trying to teach it to speculate.

If little Johnny in the fourth grade doesn't get in on a rise in Radio before he's promoted, it may be due principally to his parent's failure to get behind the movement for bigger and better arithmetic text-books, which expound their problems in terms of Wall-street finance.

A couple of Columbia College professors are endeavoring to push the apples and horses of primary addition and subtraction into the discards. They are authorizing an arithmetic text-book, which shows their contempt for rural life. There is not a problem in the book concerning John's three apples and how many he'd have if Mary gave him two more and he ate one on the way home. Instead it goes something like this:

The opening sale of Atlantic Radivision stocks were at 167½, or $167.50 a share. It moved within a 13 3-4-point range and closed 2 points under the day's best at a net gain of 5 7-8. What were the highest and lowest prices paid for this stock during the day? Why does stock sell above par?"

The book already is being used in various cities, including Trenton, N. J., and points west, and is being proposed for acceptance in New York's public schools. Nearly everybody is playing the market either mentally or actually, and the professors believe in practical arithmetic.

FRENCH CONVICT ALSACE REBELS

Tumult Greets Return of Guilty Verdict

Police Suffer Beatings in Quieting Partisans

Crowd Outside Court Cheers for Autonomists

COLMAR (France) May 25. (AP)—Two recently-elected Deputies, Dr. Eugene Ricklin and M. Roose, today stood convicted of having plotted against the state as participants in autonomist movement aimed at making Alsace and Lorraine into a separate and independent republic.

Tumult greeted the conviction of the Deputies and two other autonomist leaders, Schall and Fasshauser. They each were sentenced to one year imprisonment and fiveyears banishment.

There would doubtless have been a military riot if gendarmes had not hurried into court and a military force been ready to control the crowd outside. Fists flew between French and Alsatian partisans. Gendarmes rushing in between them to break up the fighting often emerged with bleeding noses.

The bitterness of the autonomists was unrestrained. Their cries of "Vive Alsace!" were met with cries of "Vive France!"

Eleven defendants were acquitted. Those acquitted passed in line before the convicted leaders and embraced them. The crowd in the courtroom swept through the strong guard to salute the autonomists.

Attorneys for the defense attempted to harangue the crowd outside from the windows. One of them asked the Alsatians to close their shutters as a sign of mourning.

Except for a few minutes in the courtroom after the verdict there was little actual violence, but there was an ominous rumble of mutterings punctuated by loud cries against the verdict.

FIVE TRANSFERRED BY ARMY'S ORDERS

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—Army orders issued here today included the following transfers: Maj. H. C. Sanborn, Santa Monica to Fort Mason, June 10; Capt. A. Schumlip, Los Angeles to Fort Mason, June 10; First Lieutenant V. W. Bishop, Los Angeles to Fort Mason, June 10; First Lieutenant H. I. Siegal Los Angeles to Fort Mason, June 10; Second Lieutenant H. A. Langjahr, Los Angeles to Fort Mason, June 10.

STATE GIRL DELINQUENT LIST LOWER

Juvenile Cases, However, Show General Increase in Reports to Capital

SACRAMENTO, May 25. (AP)—Although juvenile delinquency has gained in California during the past ten months in proportion to the general increase in crime, the increase has been marked by a startling decrease in the number of young girls involved, Clarence S. Morrill, Superintendent of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification, reported today.

Records of persons arrested for crime between July 1, 1927, and April 30, this year, and forwarded to the bureau of filing, number 44,759, of which 6576 were for juveniles. There were, however, only 46 girls involved. Last year 308 of the juveniles trouble were girls and 5525 boys. During 1925-26, 215 of the 5188 juveniles were members of the fairer sex.

Arrests totals for California for the year ended June 30, 1927, were 31,874 and for the preceding twelve months 27,291.

PATHE IS ACTIVE

PRODUCTION CARRIED ON AT FULL SPEED SHORTLY

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Whatever deep waters Pathe may have been through of late, that concern seems sailing triumphantly into the harbor of success now, to judge from the production activities shortly to take place, according to the announcement just issued from the studio.

William Sistrom, general manager, let us in on what Pathe intends to do during the coming year, but his announcement does not include the Cecil B. De Mille plans, as De Mille refuses to divulge those plans until after his return from his vacation, which will be about June 1. However, it is understood that De Mille will make one or two more big features, after which it is likely that he will withdraw to join United Artists.

Twelve specials and sixteen program pictures are listed on the new Pathe schedule, all to be completed by December 31 of this year.

"The Godless Girl," Cecil B. De Mille's latest picture, probably will be a road show; and the James Cruze production, "The Red Mark," which is said to be splendid, will be shown for the first time in August. This is the John Russell story which introduces a widely heralded new personality in Nena Quartero.

Other specials include those starring or featuring William Boyd, Rod La Rocque, Eddie Quillan, Lina Basquette, George Duryea, Junior Coghlan, Robert Armstrong, Alan Hale, Jacqueline Logan, Jeanette Loff and others.

"Craig's Wife" will have Irene Rich and Warner Baxter in the leading roles, with Virginia Bradford, Carroll Nye, Mabel Van Buren and Ethel Wales in the other important parts.

"Capt. Swagger" will be a Rod La Rocque feature shortly to be filmed.

One of the most interesting productions on the new program will be "Listen, Baby," a story of life behind the scenes in vaudeville. It was written by Elsie Janis and Gene Markey and will feature Eddie Quillan and Lina Basquette.

Duane Thompson With Universal

Word is received from Universal that Duane Thompson, due to her splendid work opposite Bill Cody in "The Price of Fear," has been signed under a five-year contract by that concern. Her first assignment will be to play opposite Cody in four more underworld dramas. Leigh Jason is directing. Following these, it is understood that there are big plans afoot for the young actress.

Duane Thompson

Miss Thompson began her career as leading lady in Christie Comedies. She is but 20 years of age, although she has been playing in films during the past five years.

Ray Hatton's Plans

If all goes well, Ray Hatton will shortly have his own producing unit with one of the big companies, which one, however, I am not at liberty to say.

The comedian, who has just finished a contract with Lasky, leaves for New York today, to be gone a month. It is understood that his mission has to do with his future professional plans.

Norman Kerry Departs

After today the boulevards will know the dashing Norman Kerry no more for several months to come. He is departing for New York, whence he will sail at once for Europe, where he is to play the lead in Hall Caine's "The Bondsman," action of which takes place in Sicily and other foreign lands.

NORMAN KERRY

There is just a possibility that Kerry may sign to play the lead with Pola Negri in the picture which that star will make abroad.

Erwin Connelly Leaves

Having made a huge success with his Chinese players in eastern cities in the Publix Theaters, Erwin Connelly has decided on another season with the Celestials.

He left Monday for New York, where he will start production going again over the Publix Theaters routes and possibly on the Keith Circuit, from which latter he has received an offer. The production will reach here some time in July, and will be shown at Loew's State.

The actor, who gave such a good account of himself in "Kiki" and other pictures, will return to resume his picture work in the course of a few weeks.

Seattle Views a New Comedy

Olga Printzlau, well-known for her work both as a scenarist and playwright, has been spending the last few weeks in Seattle where her new comedy, "Little Heaven," was given its premiere showing last Sunday evening.

Miss Printzlau's drama, which had its performance at the President in Seattle, was accorded a splendid ovation by the first night audience, as well as by the press.

Everhardt Armstrong, who reviewed the production for the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, says:

"'Little Heaven' tells a human and amusing story, not without touches of pathos. The piece shows a vast advance over the same writer's 'The Showdown,' produced by the Duffy Players last season.'"

Miss Printzlau plans to return to Hollywood the first of the month.

CHARACTER ROLE FILLED

One of the most prominent roles in "War in the Dark," Greta Garbo's new starring vehicle, yesterday was placed in the hands of Gustav von Seyffertitz, noted stage and screen character actor.

STRETCHED CHAINS WON'T BREAK

Couple Still Married Though Divorced When Law Forbids Setting Aside of Decree and Injunction Bars Issuance of Final Papers

Just how married Sepsell and Ruth Boosses will be after September 30, next, is a question.

September 30, 1927, she obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce. A little later she relented and allowed Boosses to come back to her. They set up housekeeping and everything was very nice and companionate. This situation continued until one day it occurred to Mrs. Boosses that her legal status was a little questionable, and she casually announced her intention to have the interlocutory decree set aside.

Boosses did not applaud this suggestion. In his opinion he was married all he cared to be just as things were. So he opposed his wife's motion to set aside the interlocutory decree, and the court held that as six months had passed since it was granted it was too late to entertain a motion to set aside, the law so providing.

In the meantime Boosses, perturbed at his wife's change of heart, had hustled his clothes out of their house and moved across the street. His conduct caused Mrs. Boosses to suspect his intentions, so she hurried downtown and hired Attorneys Griffith Jones and Davis Welts to see that she gets justice.

They appeared yesterday before Presiding Judge McLucas and obtained an order on Boosses to show cause why he should not be restrained from taking out a final decree when the interlocutory year expires September 30. This matter will be argued before Judge Beecher Tuesday.

If the injunction is granted a peculiar situation will be created, Mrs. Boosses not being able to have the interlocutory decree set aside and Boosses being unable to obtain a final decree.

SOMETHING HAPPENS IN SPOOK FILM

Esther Ralston's Latest is Mystery Comedy; Will King Revue at Loew's

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

There are as many shivers in "Something Always Happens," an Esther Ralston starring picture, at Loew's State this week, as are to be found in the average Klondike winter.

It is one of those eerie, spooky, mystery comedies. There are long successions of musty, cobwebby rooms in a deserted mansion, shadowy, menacing figures, knife-throwing and gun play.

If little Willie doesn't behave just tell him that Noble Johnson will get him if he doesn't watch out. Incidentally Johnson appears in the picture briefly, but he is as ruffianly looking an individual as you could hope to find. You wouldn't want him as a next-door neighbor.

"Something Always Happens" will scarcely be reckoned as one of the great pictures of the year, but it is good entertainment. It is not nearly so gripping as "The Cat and the Canary," that peer of mystery plays, but suspense is well maintained. Photography is particularly commendable.

A young American girl visiting the home of her fiancee in England becomes bored with chess playing and knitting lessons. She wishes for something to happen. The fiance arranges for a thrilling evening in a long-deserted house. The heroine is pursued by spooks, bodies fall out of corners, and black cats scamper across her path. When this begins to pall some genuine jewel thieves take possession of the house. Things begin to happen in earnest from this time.

There is a rough-and-tumble fight between Neil Hamilton, the hero, and Noble Johnson that makes the Battle of the Century look like a bridge-tea. Even Esther Ralston does a high dive from a balcony into the fray.

Some of the comedy is hard to forgive, notably when Miss Ralston disguises herself as a dummy and precipitates a fight between two men by sticking them with knives. I thought the comedy studios had about exhausted that situation.

There isn't much chance for acting in "Something Always Happens." Esther Ralston registers terror quite convincingly and Neil Hamilton is the distraught hero with his hair mussed up. Sojin is the leader of the jewel thieves. Charles Sellon and Roscoe Karns are mildly amusing as the hero's accomplices, Lawrence Grant and Vera Lewis appear as the father and mother of the hero.

The picture was directed by Frank Tuttle, and the story adopted by Florence Ryerson and Raymond Cannon.

"Listen! Sister," a Lupino Lane comedy, offers some amusing incidents when the little star masquerades as his twin sister, a student at a girls' school. The censors should take another look at the first part of the picture. It is about the acme of crudity.

Will King, too well known to need further introduction, heads the current Fanchon and Marco stage presentation. The offering this week is a series of blackout skits with a liberal sprinkling of song and dance numbers. The garden scene, with the girls all in white, is attractively done. There is a juvenile with a good voice, who sings "Sweetheart" from "Maytime" to good effect, and a young lady who performs difficult feats on a rope, is Dainty Marie. The finale is particularly spectacular. The act, however, is lacking in outstanding numbers.

"Big Killing" Starts Today

Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton come to the Metropolitan Theater today in "The Big Killing." It's a hilarious comedy, according to the studio forecast, "filled with monkeyshines and moonshine."

On the stage there'll be the Publix revue, "Fast Mail," devised and staged by Frank Cambria. This revue features Eddie Hill, "America's Cry Baby Comic," and Myrtle Gordon, New York and Chicago radio favorite and "blues" singer. The Foster girls, twelve fast "steppers;" Roy Shelton, intricate terpsichorean exponent; Eva Thornton, lyric soprano, in "A Bit of Egypt," and the Three Le Grohs also are featured.

"CINDERELLA" HAS MODERN TRIMMINGS

"Cinderella" in all her glory reigned supreme on the stage at the Shrine Auditorium last evening when the popular fairy tale was given as a benefit for the California Clinic and Camp for Crippled Children by the Hollywood Starlets, a group of clever professional youngsters.

Prepared for the stage by O. G. Pirie, known as the "Sandman of Radio," the production contained all of the elements of the story so dear to children. There was the fairy godmother, the coach, which in this case proved an up-to-date model automobile, the glass slipper, the cruel stepmother, and last but not least, Prince Charming.

Pirie injected a strictly modern note in the play, however, by turning the ball into somewhat of a musical revue. It was in this act that the diminutive artists in the cast displayed their various talents. Singers, dancers and instrumentalists all came in for their share of the honors.

The cast of players was headed by little Helane Pirie, "Queen Titania of Radioland." Little Miss Pirie did a commendable bit of work as Cinderella. She proved an able vocalist as well as actress in her rendition of the theme song by Kenneth E. Burdick.

Douglas Crane carried away the masculine honors with his characterization of the handsome young prince.

Phillipe DeLacy and Ben Alexander were also numbered among the cast which was an unusually large and capable one.

A military dance, by Virginia Ashcraft, and "Lullaby Land," a song, in close harmony by Nona Clapp and Joy Garland, proved popular among the numerous specialities offered.

"Follies" Girl Testifies Tonight

Anita Kerry

Has been summoned by the prosecution to bear witness in "The Trial of Mary Dugan" in the Supreme Court of New York, now in session at the Mason Theater. The public, for a consideration, is invited to attend.

E. A. DUPONT DIRECTS ANOTHER

A curious photoplay called (take a deep breath and exhale slowly—that's it) "Love Me and the World Is Mine" finally found itself on one of the local screens yesterday afternoon. The screen belonged to the Boulevard Theater.

The picture is curious as an example of German technique running rampant in America. It is also more interesting than a dozen ordinary photoplays for the same reason. E. A. Dupont, the camera wizard who directed "Variety" for U.F.A., came to Universal City to do the same for "Love Me, etc." After months and months of mysterious activity he departed to England much more silently than he arrived and nothing further was heard of "Love Me" for a decently respectable interval.

Here it is, however—and there you have it! About it is a quality peculiar to U.F.A. productions—a quality as elusive to any but a German-schooled director as "The World's Illusion" is to Jacob Wasserman, for example, among novels and novelists. Like F. W. Murnau, who produced "Sunrise," Dupont makes his camera as much a part of each scene as the characters, and uses inanimate objects to indicate the physical actions and the moods of his players. Thus the spectator finds a fashionable Viennese ball breaking upon his vision through a slowly swaying black lace fan, and an amusement park through exploding fireworks and bursting rockets.

Dupont has not been very fortunate with his story, which billows all over the place like an unruly balloon at its moorings. The meticulous attention to detail which marks the progress of the film, and virtually recreates the Austria of 1914, seems wasted on just another story of an officer (Norman Kerry) who loves a country maid (Mary Philbin.) Particularly along toward the close does it sag badly, as Kerry never at any time succeeds in arousing much sympathy and loses what little he has after the opening reels.

All of the large cast of American favorites—and these number Betty Compson, Henry Walthall, Albert Conti, George Seigmann, Charles Sellon, Robert Anderson, Martha Mattox, Mathilde Brundage, Emily Fitzroy and Charles Puffy—reveal a susceptibility to Teutonic influences, and all of them, with the single exception of Kerry, are characterized with sharp strokes. Most of the titles are extraordinarily adult, in a manner of speaking, and help to keep the narrative in hand.

You may not like "Love Me and the World is Mine," but Dupont's photographic brilliance is insurance against your being bored.

On the stage, E. Max Bradfield makes his debut as a Boulevard master of ceremonies. Four "West Coast Varieties" brighten the period devoted to the footlights, and "Visitors Welcome," an Educational comedy, is a shorter screen feature.

Bright Young Music-Makers Give Concert

The Junior Orchestra Concert in which 244 little musicians played under the various directing of six orchestra teachers drew a capacity audience to the Philharmonic Auditorium last night. Miss Jennie L. Jones, supervisor of elementary music in the city's public schools is largely responsible for the exceptionally interesting program and for the degree of excellence reached by these clever youngsters.

The concert-master was about three feet tall and not one of the 244 standing there on that large stage looked over twelve years of age. Happiness shone from their faces and for sheer joy in the music-making and for accurate rhythms and strict attention to their leaders, these little players were ahead of most of the professionals far beyond their years.

The program had a delightful interlude in the singing of Blythe Taylor Burns, soprano, whose group of four songs was highly appreciated both by the audience and the orchestra members who sat in rapt attention throughout.

Los Angeles can be very proud of these annual concerts given by the elementary schools for these children will not only give pleasure to their listeners now but they are the cultured audiences of the future.

Belasco, Butler Indorse Policy

The policy of short engagements of established New York theatrical successes has proved so popular at the Belasco Theater that the plan will be continued for some time, is the announcement made yesterday by Edward Belasco and Fred J. Butler, local producers.

"In spite of its emphatic success the engagement of 'The Command to Love,' at the Belasco Theater will be limited to only a few weeks," said Butler in announcing the definite policy of the theater.

"We have inaugurated a policy to limit our runs to four or five weeks. By this method it is possible for us to induce such stars as Mary Nash, Basil Rathbone, Violet Kemble Cooper in 'The Command to Love' to come west for short engagements. The success of Pauline Frederick in 'The Scarlet Woman,' of 'The Racket' and now of 'The Command to Love' has proved that our plan is satisfactory to the public. We have already contracted for a star in a New York hit to follow in a few weeks."

BACH CHORALES IN PERFECT SETTING

Hal Davidson Crain Presents Society in Program of Precious Works

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Bach in a modest little church softly lighted with altar candles and sung in simple, unaffected style by a small choir had an uplifting influence upon a large audience gathered to hear the first program of the Bach Cantata Society of Los Angeles, founded and led by Hal Davidson Crain, last evening. The service in the name of the Father of Music was offered in the quaint little Superet Church on West Third street and the atmosphere was truly that of the old world and the music of another day.

What could be more pleasurable than such a return to the great Johann Sebastien's works through weeks of rehearsing under a Bach enthusiast whose experience has covered the entire song literature written by this master. Mr. Crain has had the vision of a small Bach choir singing the cantatas and chorales which have been the delight of centuries, for a long time, and the realization which came with the first concert last evening was intensely gratifying.

The choral numbers were ably accompanied by Albert F. Beck at the piano. Had it been possible to have had a good organ in the place of the piano the setting would have been perfect.

Alfred Megerlin contributed much beauty to the program with an excellent performance of the Bach Chaconne from the six sonatas for violin alone. His subdued tone and admirable musicianship was keyed to meet the prevailing tone of worship and idealism and the audience was unable to resist applause after his playing.

Flora Myers Engel, soprano; Dione Neutra, mezzo-soprano; Aurora Berg, contralto; Dr. Carl Omeron, tenor, and Hal Davidson Crain, as baritone were the effective soloists.

Waiting Crowds Rule at Cinema

Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood reports that it has been unable to handle the crowds who are hurrying to see the widely heralded talking picture, "The Lion and the Mouse." During the first three days of this week the ticket rolls of Warner Brothers' box office show that 21,373 persons have been in attendance.

NEW FOX PICTURE IS BOOKED

"Fazil," a Howard Hawks Production, Slated for Carthay Circle

Howard Hawks's production, "Fazil," will come to the Carthay Circle Theater for an engagement beginning June 8.

Some months ago Fox Films completed a picture which reportedly represents an expenditure of more than $500,000, and about which very little was said at the time.

It has the unusual title of "Fazil," and stars Charles Farrell with Greta Nissen, the lovely blond from Sweden.

The picture was shipped east and nothing more was heard about it until just before W. R. Sheehan, vice-president and general manager of Fox Films, left for New York the early part of this week. The day before he left Sheehan received three wires from three executives of the company in New York advising him that "Fazil" was destined to be a "sensation," due to the fact that it had been the subject of extensive experiments along new and startling lines with Movietone, the sound device.

Now comes word that "Fazil" has been selected to open at the Gaiety Theater in New York June 4 and four days later in Los Angeles.

GERMAN SEA FILM TELLS OF RAIDER

Battleship Emden's Exploits at Criterion Culminate in Thrilling Battle

The German "The Raider Emden" steamed full blast into the Criterion Theater yesterday and let loose a volley of direct and vivid pictures of sea warfare as engaged in by that ace battleship raider of the German fleet in the first three months of the war in 1914.

This is a tremendously interesting film of sweep, power and considerable beauty.

It tells simply the story of the exploits, the daring and gallantry of the officers and crew of the Emden from the moment of the declaration of war until the ship was destroyed in combat with the British Australian cruiser Sidney in the fall of 1914.

The big ship is shown cruising the Indian Ocean in pursuit of its prey, merchant men or the enemy. The capture of big and little ships, including that of the great passenger vessel Diplomat, from which were transferred passengers and crew to safety on the Emden's consort ship, is depicted in strikingly vivid manner.

Then there is finally that tremendous and thrilling battle off Cocos Island with the Sidney in which the British ship with superior range guns emerged victorious, all but about twenty of the crew of 361 of the Emden being killed or badly wounded.

Through all the film runs a historical thread rather than a plot sequence. There are no stars to the picture. There has been rather a definite effort made, and a successful one, it would be judged from the picture's reception yesterday, to stir a feeling of admiration for the bravery, the resourcefulness and the chivalry displayed by the men who manned this particular ship.

In contrast to that found in "The Cruiser Potemkin," a Russian film of naval warfare which had a recent showing here, there is little horrible stark realism in the picture. There are many stirring moments of battle when tragedy is rampant and throughout all the film it would seem is sincerity, but not the ruthlessness of the soviet production.

By all means go and see this picture, particularly if you are interested in the "other side" of the war. The closing subtitle is to the effect, "Right or wrong, valorous men will always fight for their fatherlands, while humanity pays the awful price."

Shriners Visit 'Tell Me Again'

The Shriners of the Southland will buy out the entire house for a performance of "Tell Me Again," the musical comedy at the Figueroa Playhouse, the announcement was made yesterday by Potentate Kenneth Gillette and Recorder George J. Ramsey.

Recently members of the company of 100 people in the new musical comedy entertained the Shriners at their weekly luncheon.

"BEAUTIFUL RIVAL" SUMMER PROSPECT

The Hollywood Bowl will be the setting for the production of ... ns S. Linne's operetta, "The Beautiful Rival," if plans now under way are completed—the time to be late summer.

Mabel McCane, Nita Martan and Ethel Jackson have been engaged to play the principal feminine roles.

CLARA BOW IN DOUBLE BILL

Clara Bow comes to the Broadway Palace today in the photoplay version of Gene Stratton-Porter's novel, "The Keeper of the Bees," a J. Leo Meehan production presented by Joseph B. Kennedy and distributed by F. B. O. Miss Bow is supported by a cast which includes Robert Fraser, Alyce Mills, Joseph Swickard and Gene Stratton, the authoress herself. Besides this, the Broadway Palace will show on the same bill, the Tiffany-Stahl production, "Clothes Make the Woman," starring Eve Southern and Walter Pidgeon, and directed by Tom Terriss.

RIESENFELD BACK

Hugo Riesenfeld, managing director of United Artists Theaters returns to Los Angeles today, after a two-weeks' business visit in New York, where he opened the new John Barrymore production, "Red Tempest," at the Embassy Theater.

"LAZARUS" ENDS TOMORROW

With Sunday night's performance, "Lazarus Laughed" closes its extended world premiere at the Hollywood Music Box. The production for New York, Chicago and elsewhere will be given with a complete new cast.

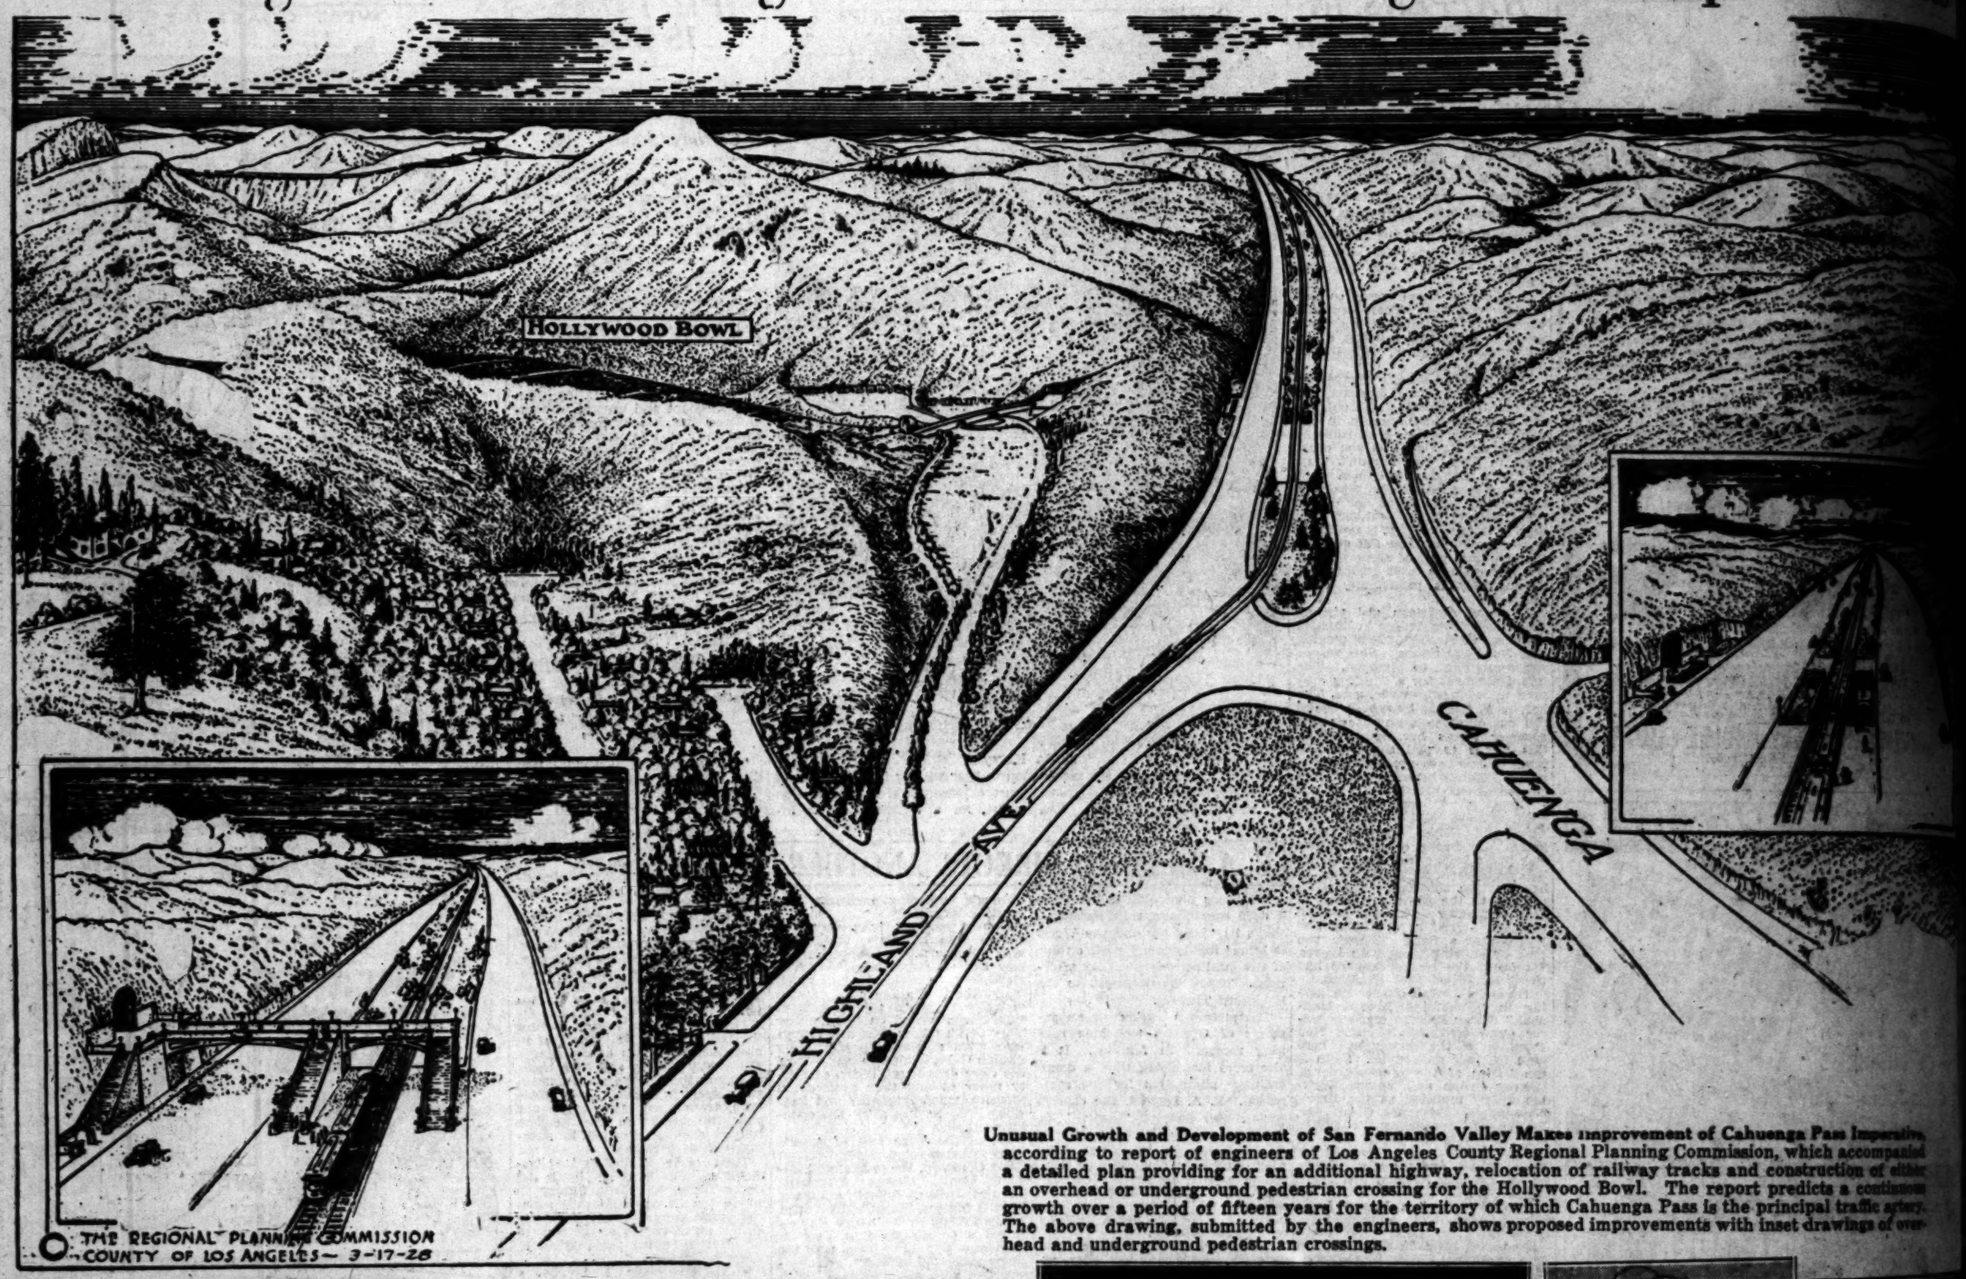
Planning Commission Engineers Advise Cahuenga Pass Improvements



Unusual Growth and Development of San Fernando Valley Makes Improvement of Cahuenga Pass Imperative, according to report of engineers of Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission, which accompanied a detailed plan providing for an additional highway, relocation of railway tracks and construction of either an overhead or underground pedestrian crossing for the Hollywood Bowl. The report predicts a continuous growth over a period of fifteen years for the territory of which Cahuenga Pass is the principal traffic artery. The above drawing, submitted by the engineers, shows proposed improvements with inset drawings of overhead and underground pedestrian crossings.

A Feature of the Pacific-Southwest Dedication Parade at Long Beach today will be the Victorville boys' drum corps, an organization of youngsters ranging in age from 10 to 14 years of age. The corps is attractively uniformed and is said to be one of the best-drilled units of its kind in Southland. The young drum beaters are shown above.

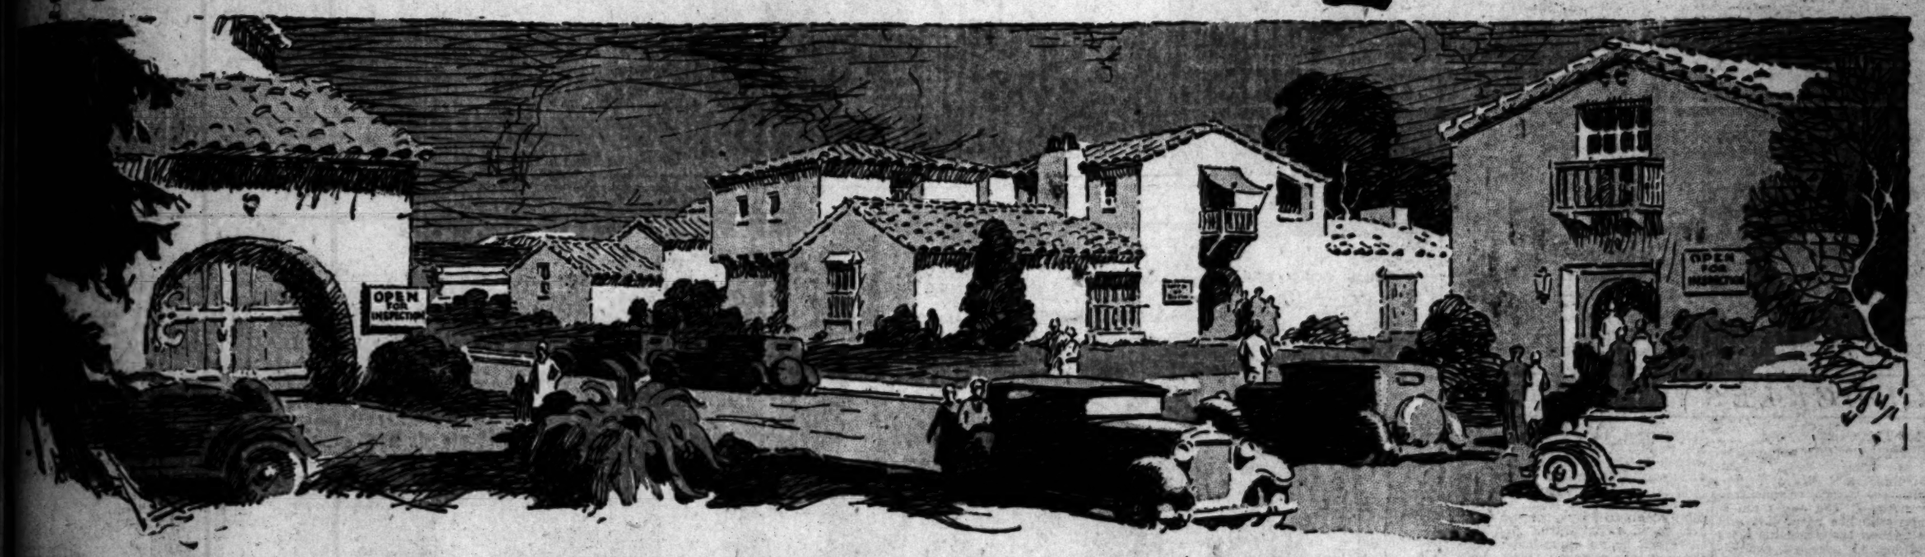
$300,000 Home Exposition



SIX MAGNIFICENT HOMES
OPEN TO YOU TOMORROW

this delightful drive for tomorrow. You will long remember the natural beauties of this property, and the six magnificent homes which you may walk thru and inspect.

These homes have just been completed. You will enjoy the built-in comfort and will recognize the happiness which will come from living in such an ideal environment.

California Riviera
A FRANK MELINE DEVELOPMENT

For you to walk through and inspect, these six homes offer an interesting day, or two days or more. They are of Mediterranean architecture in its finest adaptation to Southern California, and the beauty of their design and setting will find ready response in the hearts of lovers of beautiful homes.

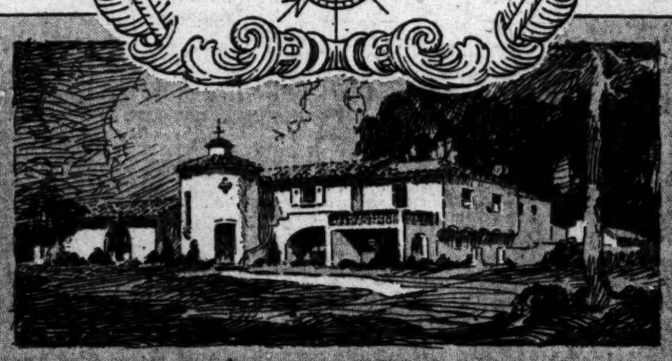
This exposition is made possible, and this cordial invitation to attend is extended to you as part of the program of the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of The Frank Meline Company.

That this company, after many years of developing beautiful home properties of Southern California, should select a Home Exposition as an anniversary event, is particularly fitting. Come out tomorrow, Monday, and all week. Let us show you our supreme development and give you the enjoyment of seeing the kind of home you have been dreaming of, or maybe actually planning for yourself.

OPEN to you tomorrow, not today, these six homes are already the talk of motorists along Beverly Boulevard. With their wonderful view of ocean, mountains and city, and other naturally favorable advantages, they are the forerunners of the scores of homes of the wealthy and discriminating people of Los Angeles who find here all they desire in home environment.

California Riviera is known as "The Inland Island," the only development of its kind in America. It is a community under one plan of development, forever immune from the encroachment of inferior development. A glance at the accompanying map will explain the "Inland Island." It is easily accessible . . . yet is virtually surrounded by protecting canyons, which make it stand out as the cameo of Beverly Boulevard.

You are cordially invited to visit the homes which are open for your inspection. Walk through and inspect them. Plan to give yourself plenty of time, for you are sure to be unwilling to leave until you have seen every room in all of them.



HOW TO GO

CHUCKLES from LIFE

What This Country Needs

For the first time in my life, perhaps, I am going to do it. I am going to make a statement beginning with the words, "What this country needs—" You see, I am a mild man who has never had any marked passion for airing his ideas on anything. I accepted prohibition with a smile, and female suffrage with a grin. I made out my income-tax report without a murmur. But now I want to come out flatfooted for a radical reform. I want to see a change in our coinage system. What this country needs is wooden nickels.

Retain the design of the present 5-cent piece, keep the Indian and the buffalo—I don't care—but discard the alloy of nickel and copper and substitute wood. Once the metallic nickels are called in, the wooden ones, being legal, will become common; people will use them, give them, accept them. And thus there will be no whimsical significance in the remark. "Well, don't take any wooden nickels." What this country needs is better and brighter farewells.

Miss Wright Cracks After Fine Beginning

Mrs. Paul Jones Winner in First Flight

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Bel-Air will see a new golf champion crowned this morning when Mrs. Dan Jones of Brentwood and Mrs. Harry Pressler of San Gabriel tee off in pursuit of the elusive Southern California women's title, which lately resided on the brow of Mrs. Gregg Lifur.

MRS. DAN JONES

Mrs. Pressler is playing the splendid game of golf which won her the western women's championship. She has been coming through in the pinches with remarkable shots, and yesterday played steady, consistent golf to defeat Miss Kathleen Wright, Flintridge champion, 4 and 3.

The semifinals, however, were featured by the courageous playing of Mrs. Harry Grossman of Hillcrest, who battled seventeen holes before accepting defeat at the hands of Mrs. Jones, 2 and 1. Finding herself one down at the turn, the Brentwood star staged an equally brilliant rally when it appeared for a time that Mrs. Grossman was about to win an unexpected victory.

Mrs. Jones started off on the wrong foot with a pair of sixes and was two down at the end of three holes. She was only 1 down when Mrs. Grossman took a 7 on the 425-yard fourth. The Hillcrest champion, however, was hitting her short shots with great skill. Her tee shot on the 103-yard fifth dropped short of the pin and she was down for a birdie 2. Mrs. Jones had a 3.

The sixth and seventh holes were halved with 4's and 5's, respectively. Mrs. Jones holed her putt for a par 5 on the 480-yard eighth, while Mrs. Grossman was taking a 6. That halved the ninth with 5's. Both had 44 for the first nine, which would indicate that Mrs. Jones was off her game, since she had a 37 Thursday.

Starting on the second nine, the tenth, eleventh and twelfth were halved. Mrs. Jones drove the green, over 200 yards, on the thirteenth and had two putts for a 3 to square the

Dugan Hits Out Two Circuit Clouts Also

PHILADELPHIA, May 25. (AP)—The famed home-run bats of the New York Yankees were at their most - terrible best this afternoon as the American League and world champions hammered the Athletics into submission in both games of a double-header before a capacity crowd of 40,000. The double defeat of their nearest rivals gave the Yanks a lead of five and one-half games and assured them of no worse than an even break in their six-game series in this city.

BABE RUTH

Lou Gehrig's eighth home run of the season with two on base in the sixth inning sent Howard Ehmke down to defeat by 4 to 2 in the opener. The Yanks then battered Rube Walberg and Eddie Rommel to win by 9 to 2 in the aftermath. This game was marked by fifteen Yankee hits, good for thirty-one bases. Two homers by Ruth and two by Dugan were in the collection.

Ruth's drives, his fifteenth and sixteenth of the season, gave him a lead of seven games, six days and four home runs over his old record pace of 1927, when he hit sixty. The five Yankee circuit blows accounted for all but two of the thirteen runs the champions scored in the two games.

In winning the double-header, Miller Huggins employed two of his outstanding pitchers, Herb Pennock in the first game and Waite Hoyt in the second. It was Hoyt's second complete game victory of the season.

SHOT, DISCUS RECORDS FALL BEFORE CARD ACE

All Trojans but Reynolds and Miller Qualify; Stanford Has Most Athletes in Finals

Results of the I.C.A.A.A.A. track meet at Cambridge will be broadcast at Moore Field today during the Los Angeles county finals of the junior Olympic games, commencing at 1:30 o'clock. Admission is free and stands have been erected for 10,000 spectators.

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

HARVARD STADIUM, CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 25. (AP)—Led by a stalwart, curly-haired sophomore, Eric Krenz, who shattered two meet records with sensational performances in the discus and shotput, Leland Stanford University's brawny band of athletes swept out in front today in defense of the intercollegiate A.A.A.A. track-and-field championship.

Twelve of the Stanford clan collected a total of thirteen places in the trials to determine qualifiers for tomorrow's finals, thereby intrenching the Cardinals firmly in the position of favorites to capture the team title for the second successive year. They set the qualifying pace only after an unexpectedly stiff tussle with Yale, which captured eleven places. This established the Elis as the chief hope of the East against the far-western tide, but with small chance of checking it.

CHARLIE BORAH

Stanford's strength was so pronounced in most of the events as to bring the prediction from the experts that the Cardinals would easily tally more than forty points tomorrow, enough to distance any rival squad, whether it is Yale or one of the next three in the qualifying score—Southern California, Harvard and Cornell.

TIED FOR THIRD

The Trojans, with their sprint ace, Charley Borah, in sparkling form, tied Harvard and Cornell for third position in the preliminary tests. Each gained eight places. California, third contender from the Far West, finished well down the list of twenty-six colleges participating in the scoring with four places.

Three I.C.4-A. championship meet records tumbled altogether to add color to an otherwise unexciting day in which favorites swept along easily to clinch their places, saving the big efforts for tomorrow.

Alfred Bates of Penn State brought the day to a sparkling close when he leaped to a new broad-jump mark of 24ft.,

Seven Trojan Athletes in Finals Today

Southern California, Stanford and California qualified a grand total of twenty-three men in yesterday's preliminaries to the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet at Cambridge. The Trojans have eight qualifying places with seven men as Charley Borah won the right to compete in both the 100 and 220.

LEE BARNES

Stanford earned thirteen places with twelve men, Eric Krens being the big noise in both the shot and discus, wrecking Bud Houser's old records in these two events.

California qualified four men.

The Trojans who will compete today are Borah, 100 and 220; Draper, 100; Hill, broad jump; Barnes, pole vault; Webber, high hurdles; Payne, low hurdles; Graham, low hurdles.

Stanford's representatives are Krens, shot and discus; Rothert, shot; Forster, shot; Sparling and Kibby, javelin; Spencer, 440; Edmonds, pole vault; Nichols, high hurdles; West, low hurdles; Dyer and Zombro, broad jump, and King, high jump. In addition the Cards have Cee, two-miler, the eight-lap athletes not being required to qualify.

California has Van Tress, half-mile; Phillips, discus; Curtice, javelin, and Talbot, 440.

Morrison of Stanford has to run in a semifinal 440 heat today to win the right to qualify for the finals.

CLYDE BARFOOT

It was American Legion Day at the local park and a gathering of some 500 fans was out for the occasions, which brought Barfoot and Hulvey, a couple of World War veterans, into action as the rival hurlers. Hulvey pitched a good brand of ball, but you couldn't expect him to win when his mates neglected to get him any runs. Hank allowed only eight hits, but four of them were bunched in the sixth to give the Angels three of their four counters.

Kelly's Four-Bagger Helps Reds Defeat Cards

PITTSBURGH, May 25. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs batted hard behind Root today as they won their first victory of the season in Pittsburgh in five starts. The triumph also broke the losing streak of the Chicago Cubs which had run to four games. The score was 10 to 3.

Fussell, Brame, Tauscher and Bartholomew all did a chore on the mound for the Pirates. Fussell started, but was wild and encountered trouble from the outset. He was relieved in the first frame, when the Cubs scored four runs.

Root held the Pirates to eight hits, and was not in danger at any time. The score:

GIANTS COP

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—Home runs by Mel Ott and Eddie Rousch, each with a man on base, enabled the Giants to defeat the Phillies, 4 to 3, here today in the first game of the series. Ott's homer was his sixth of the season.

Vic Aldridge, pitching his first game as a Giant at the Polo Grounds, got credit for the victory, his first for New York. Cantwell pitched one inning for the Giants after Aldridge gave way to a pinch batsman. Russell Miller pitched well for the Phillies except for two homers. Fred Leach of the Phils hit for the circuit in the eighth. The score:

ROBINS TRIUMPH

BROOKLYN, May 25. (AP)—Home runs by Harvey Hendrick and Rube Bressler provided all the margin Watson Clark needed to score a 4-to-1 victory over the Boston Braves here today. The Braves were playing their first game under the management of Rogers Hornsby, who himself got two of Boston's eight hits and scored the only run for the invaders.

Hendrick's homer scored Statz ahead of him. Bressler's was hit with the bases empty. Commissioner K. M. Landis and John A. Heydler, president of the National League, witnessed the game. Score:

MANUAL ARTS NINE BEATS FRANKLIN

Ability to hit the apple when a hit was a run won the ball game yesterday for the Manual Arts nine over the Franklin Kitefiyers, 6-3. Drumright of Manual hit the ball down the first-base line, losing it under a hedge to stretch a double into a homer. Drumright's hit came with one man on base.

Sal Machuca pitched good ball for Franklin, the lanky hurler fanning nine Toilers. Eddie, Renison and Bob Allaire played good ball for the Kitefiyers. Next week Coach Loper's nine gets a rest, drawing a by in the City League schedule.

LOS ANGELES DEFEATS OLD RIVALS, 8-7

A home run in the last half of the tenth inning from the big bat of Henry Schapiro gave Los Angeles High School an 8-to-7 victory yesterday afternoon over its oldest rival, the Polytechnic Mechanics, in a tight ball game played on Housh Field. Schapiro who relieved Max Cherry on the mound for the Romans in the ninth inning stopped a rally that looked like a sure victory for the Mechanics. They had rolled up three runs in this session on timely hits when Schapiro stepped in and retired the side. The game was forced into an extra inning and Schapiro again stepped into the breach and scored the winning run.

Both teams played flashy ball at times yesterday and neither club looked like the tailenders they are in the high-school race. Guy Young of the Poly team was the outstanding hitter of the game. Young rapped out a triple and two doubles. Ed Armstrong of the Roman nine was not far behind with his stick work. Armstrong hit three doubles during the afternoon.

The score:

Los Angeles	8	10	1
Polytechnic	7	8	3

Batteries—Cherry Schapiro and Sullivan; McNeal, Meyer.

HARDING NINE BEATS ROOSEVELT, 5-1.

In the last game of the season, Harding High copped the Minor City League baseball title yesterday by defeating Roosevelt High, 5-1. Dadfurn of Harding, tripled in the second inning to score two runs. The Warriors have gone through the season losing only one league game. The score:

Roosevelt	1	4	1
Harding	5	7	1

Batteries—Smith, Cohen and Lupton; Snider, Kontz and Kontz, Schaub.

CLEVELAND, May 25. (AP)—A home run by Pinch-Hitter George Burns which tied the count in the seventh inning spurred Cleveland on to an 8-to-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns today.

The Tribe had gone through five innings with two hits and no runs. Then Crowder weakened, allowing the Redskins one run in the sixth and another early in the seventh. Burns's homer, tying the count at 4-all, showed the way to an Indian batting attack, which netted four more runs, in the eighth. Uhle's triple climaxed the rally. Score:

TIGERS LOSE

CHICAGO, May 25. (AP)—Giving but five scattered singles, the veteran Urban Faber blanked Detroit, 1 to 0, today. Holloway of the Tigers gave only five singles, but two of them were bunched with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning for the winning Chicago tally.

The victory hoisted the White Sox back into sixth place and pushed the Tigers to seventh. Score:

Monte Munn Kayoes Foe

BUENOS AIRES, May 25. (AP)—Monte Munn, Nebraska, tonight knocked out Victorio Campolo, Argentine heavyweight champion, in the ninth round of a twelve-round bout.

Twenty thousand fans saw the fight.

Campolo was knocked down in the first round when the American landed a stiff right to the jaw and the Argentine was very cautious thereafter, seeking to keep away from Munn's deadly right. Munn took every round until the end came in the ninth. At the very start of this session, Campolo went down for a count of eight from another crushing right to the chin. Groggy and feebly attempting to offer some sort of defense, Campolo went out for good a few seconds later.

BOYS VIE FOR TITLES TODAY

belief that they might upset the leader today.

Jerry Deal, the little whirlwind from the Arroyo Seco playground who has made the highest junior score in the county, 537 points, is the leader of Group 9 but every boy in the group has made well over 400 points. Four or five of them exceeded the record made by last year's national champion. The same thing is true of Group 10, which is led by Vane Baker of the Loma Vista Grammar School, a youngster who has made 530 points in competition. Jerry Spann, Fremont's record breaker, who leads Group 11, will likewise get plenty of competition.

In the senior division the winners are again closely bunched. In fact, while none of the Los Angeles boys has yet succeeded in breaking the national record of 591 points made by Tony Galasso last year, a large number of them have gone over the 500 mark with Gordon McLennon of Beverly School for Boys and George Warboys of Queen Anne playground in the lead, very closely followed by Johnny Falcon of Azusa, who has made over 600 points on his own field.

The spectators who want to hear all about the performances of Stanford University and the University of Southern California in the I.C.-4A. track meet at Cambridge will be entertained beginning at 1:30 by the loud speaker which will announce the events as rapidly as news is received from the East and which, incidentally, will also be used during the program to keep the audience informed as to the progress of the championship contest.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the 150 athletes, led by a picked group of Boy Scout musicians, will parade across the field in squads, will come to a halt before the stands and repeat, together with the audience, the stirring pledges of allegiance to the flag. The squads will immediately proceed to their assigned positions and the race for the championship will be on.

Every possible arrangement for the comfort and convenience of the spectators has been taken care of considering the impossibility of making an accurate guess as to the magnitude of the audience. The loud speakers will acquaint the audience with the scores and performances of the athletes and all of the events with the exception of the basketball throw which will be staged directly in front of the grand stand where everybody may see the contests.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the Junior Olympic program, it is an all-around contest for boys under 16 years of age. Every boy participates in the same five events, receiving a certain number of points, depending upon his age and size, for any given performance. The total number of points he makes in the five events determines his standing, the boy making the highest total being declared the winner. All the boys are divided into two divisions, senior and junior, the senior division roughly taking in the youngsters above thirteen and the junior division the younger boys.

Demers Sets Javelin Mark

PORTLAND, May 25. (AP)—Jimmy Demers, Eugene High School youth, national interscholastic record-holder for the javelin event, today broke the record when he sent it streaking through the air 213ft. 6in. in competition here with high school athletes of Portland. The mark was checked and certified by T. Morris Dunne, northwest representative of the American Athletic Union. Not a breath of air disturbed the throw.

match. They had 6's on the fourteenth, but Mrs. Jones steadied and won the next two holes in par figures to go into the lead, 2 up. The seventeenth was halved, giving Mrs. Jones the match.

The cards:

MISS WRIGHT CRACKS

Mrs. Pressler really won her match with Miss Wright on the eighth and ninth holes after a great battle. The first two holes were halved, Miss Wright had a 3 on the third to go into the lead, 1 up, and Mrs. Pressler squared the match on the sixth. Miss Wright was 1 down, when she got into trouble on the seventh and took a 6. Mrs. Pressler was down in 5.

Miss Wright came back strongly on the eighth and holed a thirty-yard approach shot for a birdie 4. Mrs. Pressler's third shot was on the green, some twenty yards from the pin, but she holed it out to square the match.

Again on the ninth, Mrs. Pressler dropped a seemingly impossible putt to halve the hole. Miss Wright was on the green in 3 and had a short putt for a par 4. Her ball stopped a fraction of an inch from the lip of the cup. Mrs. Pressler's tee shot was in the barranca, costing her a penalty shot, but she was on the green in 4. Miss Wright's ball was a dead stymie, but instead of playing safe, Mrs. Pressler hit the ball perfectly. It caught the slight roll in the green, grazed Miss Wright's ball and dropped in for a 5.

Mrs. Pressler won three of the next holes and halved the other three to win on the fifteenth.

The cards:

Mrs. Pressler	5	5	4	5	4	4	5	4	5	—41
Miss Wright	5	5	3	6	4	5	6	4	5	—43
Mrs. Pressler	5	4	4	4	4	6	5
Miss Wright	5	4	5	4	4	7	5

Mrs. Paul Jones of Rancho was the proud winner of the first flight final. It is Mrs. Jones's first open championship, and she played splendid golf throughout to win. Mrs. Hector Turnbull fell before her expert stroking yesterday in the finals, 1 up.

In the defeated sixteen flight, Mrs. Rex Taylor, Brentwood women's champion, meets Mrs. C. A. Rife for the silverware today. Mrs. Taylor defeated Mrs. Mark Steele yesterday, 2 and 1, while Mrs. Rife captured her match from Mrs. A. C. Lillie, 2 up.

Mrs. A. E. D. Trabue, chairwoman of the Southern California Golf Association, won in the defeated eight flight. She defeated Mrs. J. B. Martin, 1 up.

THOMPSONS AND COLEMANS TIE IN MIDWICK PLAY

Lester and Fay Coleman of the California Country Club tied with Harold and Russell Thompson of Oakmont in the qualifying round of the Scotch foursome tournament which opened at the Midwick Country Club yesterday, according to Fred Morrison. Both teams had 71's. Match play is scheduled to start this morning at 8:30.

Other results: E. S. Armstrong and Bill Forve of Midwick had a 74; W. W. Campbell and W. C. O. Smith of Los Angeles had a 76; Fuller Thompson and J. M. Read of Fox Hills, Alex Macdonald and G. P. Toms of Midwick, Charles and Everett Seaver of Los Angeles and Julian Hayward and D. W. Hepburn of Oakmont had 77's. Dr. Paul and R. E. Hunter of Midwick had a 78; Willard George and Bruce Bundy of Lakeside and H. P. Perrin and J. F. Rhodes of Midwick had 79's. A. K. Bourne and F. M. Hunter of Midwick had an 80.

In today's feature match, Dr. Hunter's team meets the Thompson boys.

This time Pomona will have the edge.

Pomona has the inside track in point of experience and general dope. Six letter men are playing for Coach Earl Merritt. Over at Oxy, Coach Wilkie Clark has the services of but one veteran—Capt. Victory Ties Cherubs With Stars for Third Place against the Angels today. Tex Weathersby, the pudgy Cherub southpaw, will be on the mound for the Krugmen, so it looks like an interesting struggle for the fans.

The Angels are now only four games behind the league-leading Sacramento Senators and if they can make the best of their good start this week, Krug believes they'll be right up near the top before the end of their coming series with Seattle. Marty has his pitching staff in great shape once more and everything is lovely with the Angels. Krug believes that the Angels would have been leading the procession now had not Tolson been lost to them for more than twenty games.

The Stars were held absolutely helpless by Barfoot and only once did they get a man as far as third base. They did this in the fourth on successive singles by Carlyle and Heath after one was out, but Gooch ruined this opportunity when he hit into a double play. Johnny Kerr reached second on his double in the first inning, but not another Star got past first.

Barfoot had considerable difficulty locating the plate during the first three innings and was behind each batter most of the time in these three rounds. However, Clyde escaped anything serious and simply breezed through after the fourth.

Wes Schulmerich and "Skeeter" Bigbee accounted for half of the Angels' eight hits, each ramming out a couple of safeties. Schulmerich was robbed of another hit by Gooch in the first when he knocked down Wes's line drive and just barely threw him out at first.

That stop of Gooch's, by the way, prevented an Angel score in the first inning, for Hulvey had just finished walking both Berger and Tolson.

BARFOOT HITS HOMER

After four innings of scoreless baseball, Barfoot broke the scoring ice in the fifth, when he punched one of Hulvey's offerings over the left-field wall. Barfoot's clout was a towering drive that cleared the left-field barrier by fifteen feet and landed over on the other side of Thirty-ninth street.

However, it was the sixth that saw the absolute downfall of Hulvey and the Stars. Berger was an infield out for a starter, but Tolson singled against the left center-field wall. Schulmerich sizzled a single through the center of the diamond and then Bigbee came through with a hit to right that tallied Tolson. Schulmerich reached third and Bigbee second on Twombly's throw to the plate. Whereupon Truck Hannah looped a single over Gooch's head to score both Schulmerich and Bigbee. Bigbee, who had taken a lead of nearly half-way to third, showed a lot of base-running ability scoring on the short single.

Hulvey retired for a pinch-hitter in the eighth and Dick Bonnelly was on the mound for the Stars when the Cherubs came to bat in their half of the eighth. Score:

LA COSTE AND PARTNER LOSE

nis Federation to develop a group of younger players to replace the famous Three Musketeers, La Coste, Borotra and Cochet, came out even for the day when Henri Cochet, paired with Rene Debuzelet, rallied after losing the first two sets and eliminated the Australians, Gerald Patterson and J. B. Hawkes, 3-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 12-10.

The defeat of La Coste and Boussus furnished one of the biggest surprises of the tournament.

In the final set Cochet displayed some of the finest tennis of his career to offset the lack of experience of Debuzelet and break through to win the twenty-two game set, 12 to 10.

In spite of the defeat of La Coste and Boussus the French Tennis Federation does not intend to alter its policy of pairing the younger players with the veterans. The federation believes that the benefits of giving the younger players experience in hard competition more than offset the losses caused by the present system.

INDIANAPOLIS AUTO RACES GO ON RADIO

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—A chain of stations reaching to the Pacific Coast is to participate in the broadcast of the 500-mile Memorial Day automobile race at Indianapolis.

A list of thirty-nine stations was announced today including KOA, Denver; KSL Salt Lake City; KGO, Oakland; KFI, Los Angeles, KGW, Portland; KOMO, Seattle; KFOA, Seattle, and KHQ, Spokane.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

OVER your grapefruit this morning you will read of the record-shattering feats of young Mr. Eric Krenz of Stanford in the trials of the annual I.C.A.A.A.A. games at Cambridge yesterday. Today they stage the finals, but it's only a formality. Stanford has already salted the meet away in its sock. Eric did it with his little lead pill and wooden platter. He assured Stanford of 10 points with his new marks of 50ft. 1in. and 154ft. 11in. in his pet events, probably a third of the total necessary to win the meet and about one-fourth of the number Stanford is likely to score.

Eric got his team-mates off to a running start by doing his stuff in the first event of the trials—the shot—and apparently nothing but an earthquake that rises up and swallows the Stanford athletes whole can stop them from winning their second I.C.A.A.A.A. title. Only two Redshirts failed to qualify—Joaquin in the javelin and Fleishhacker in the shot. The others—twelve strong—finish up where they left off yesterday. Rothert's performance of pushing Krenz into a new shot record and failing by only a half-inch of equaling it himself was one of the big features of the day. Bud Spencer apparently is thoroughly acclimated, and his 49 1-5s in the trials yesterday indicates that he will wipe out the memory of his defeat last year, when he failed to qualify after having run in fast time on the Coast.

U.S.C. in losing only Miller and Reynolds in the high hurdles enters the finals with its main reliance on Borah, Draper, Barnes, Payne and Graham for points. Also Hill, who tied with Zombro of Stanford for a spot in the broad. And Webber in the highs. Borah's work in the sprints and Barnes's duel with Carr will be the high spots in the Trojans' performances today.

New York's championship fights of recent date have not met with unqualified success, or any other kind of success, for that matter.

Battling for the lightweight title Sammy Mandell and Jimmy McLarnin attracted only slightly over 20,000 persons through the turnstiles, and it has been freely admitted by all except Promoter Tex Rickard that the affair was a financial flop because of the big guarantees given both fighters.

Two nights later it was reported that Izzy Schwartz, the New York flyweight king, and Bushy Graham drew 18,000 folks to see them scramble for the featherweight title. Somehow I doubt this report of the crowd at Ebbets Field. It sounds like a pre-fight estimate. Schwartz was never able to fill the Hollywood Stadium, which will hold 4200, and New Yorkers should know him as well as Hollywood. He calls the "Big Town" his home. Perhaps Nick Testo, who floored Sammy Baker twice and then couldn't win the decision, had something to do with the size of the attendance. I'm convinced Schwartz didn't, and I never heard much of Graham as a dynamic gate attraction.

But the fact that the cash customers are not supporting the fights with the same degree of enthusiasm as in past years is indicated strikingly by the crowd at New York's third championship bout of the week—the one between Tod Morgan and Eddie Martin, now known as the spent Cannonball, who formerly held the bantamweight title. The response was limited to 5900 souls.

It is therefore quite evident to the naked eye that Mr. Richard has overstepped himself in believing his Tunney-Heeney heavyweight battle will draw any $2,000,000 this summer. Mr. Rickard has a few odds and ends of other championship fights coming up before his 1928 version of the "Battle of the Century" is staged, and the returns from these may convince him of the futility of expecting a big "gate" when the Messrs. Tunney and Heeney start making speeches about Shakespeare to each other.

I seriously doubt if the Tunney-Heeney soiree can be ballyhooed strongly enough to draw a $1,000,000 "gate." Even that will be about three times too much for a fight, the outcome of which you can write in advance. This is one battle that will not require special trains to carry agitated customers from afar.

OWNERS SEEK HINKLEY FOR ASCOT AUTO RACE

Mechanical defects that developed in the motor of the Rajo No. 12 will keep the car out of the race at Ascot Sunday afternoon and a half-dozen owners are running after Speed Hinkley, veteran Pasadena pilot, to obtain his services for the day. It is reported that Tom Mahoney, veteran San Pedro owner, has the inside track with a brand-new job he has just built for the summer campaign on western dirt tracks.

Hinkley has been an Ascot star ever since the track was built and has been unusually successful this spring in the Rajo car. It is certain, according to race officials, that he will have the mount in one of the best cars at the track, even if his reported deal with Mahoney falls through.

The arrival yesterday of Melvin McKee and Red Campbell brought about considerable speculation as to what these two youngsters will do. On flat tracks they have shown everything necessary to take them high up in the racin game. Whether they can do as well on the steeply banked curves at Ascot remains to be seen. Their first practice this afternoon will attract a lot of attention from the pilots who will compete against them tomorrow.

Work on the oval will be carried through the night tonight to have it in splendid condition for the qualifying trials tomorrow morning and the nine-card program scheduled for Sunday afternoon. Chemical treatment of the track for dust control will be completed Sunday morning.

McINTRY, GODINEZ IN MAIN-STREET BATTLE

Seven four-round bouts will feature the regular Saturday night boxing card at the Main-street Athletic Club tonight. Matchmaker Carlo Curtis has fourteen glove throwers lined up for the night's fighting. In the main event Ray McIntry, Filipino Irishman, tackles Johnny Gondinez, popular local bantamweight. The semi-wind-up number brings together Ralph Cauthon and Jimmy Valenti, two 160 pounders. Bob Bary tackles Tony Garcia in the special event.

The other bouts are: Marion Susa vs. Joe Garcia at 112 pounds Salvadore Rodriguez vs. Lucio Ayala at 118 pounds. Joe Candelario vs. Teddy Palacios at 130 pounds. Razz Tartar vs. Bill Cote at 128 pounds.

FAY COLEMAN ENTERS ARROWHEAD TOURNEY

Fay Coleman, husky California Country Club youngster who recently golfed his way to the Southern State amateur title vacated by George Von Elm, will take a 36-hole shot at the Lake Arrowhead Invitational championship in the yearly resort feature, scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 8, 9 and 10.

Bill Jelliffe, of El Caballero, scored a 36-hole aggregate of 146 last year to finish one under Allen Moser and claim the Lake Arrowhead crown. Jelliffe and Moser have signed for the forthcoming competition that promises to be the best in the history of the popular mountain resort. The affair this year will be 36 holes medal and may be played at the convenence of entrants who may elect to medal 18 holes two days or tour the full distance on any one day. Play will be in three classes, scratch to 8, 9 to 14 and 15 to 18, with low gross and net low trophies to winners in each division.

PETERSON WHIPS SCHAAF

BOSTON, May 25. (AP)—Big Boy Peterson of New Orleans won a referee's decision over Ernie Schaaf of Boston after a hard-fought ten-round bout here tonight.

ANDERSON MAY TRAVEL

Kentucky Fighter Likely to Go to Spain With Godfrey After Olympic Bout With Willis

Joe Anderson is arming himself with a Spanish grammar today, preparing for a possible trip to Barcelona in July in company with George Godfrey and Jimmy Dougherty.

The Kentuckian received a suggestion from the Baron back in Philadelphia yesterday that he is being considered as an opponent for a Spanish middleweight.

Godfrey is slated to box Paulino Uzcudun the latter part of July in a Barcelona bull ring. Anderson did not know until yesterday there was any possibility of his getting an European match.

Anderson is having trouble with his weight and has been forced to do a lot of boxing in preparation for the Jack Willis bout scheduled for next Tuesday night at the Olympic.

Joe scaled 168 pounds a few days ago and he is supposed to make close to 160 for Willis. The Cowboy is down close to the middleweight limit.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams is planning to boost Pico Ramies into a main event soon if he wins over Richie Mack in the Willis-Anderson semifinal.

Walcott Langford, who boxes Bert Colima at Tia Juana next Wednesday, will arrive here Sunday with Eddie Anderson, Chicago featherweight. It is possible that Anderson will be featured with Ramies in an Olympic main event in June. Joe Glaser is due here Monday or Tuesday.

Wadhams is busy signing up an all-star card of heavyweights to box underneath the attractive Vigo Doman-Charley Belanger bout of June 5. Buck Walters, the heavyweight who is Tom Kennedy's "pride and joy," will appear on the card.

BUNNY RYAN TRIUMPHS

BERLIN, May 25. (AP)—Miss Elizabeth Ryan, American tennis star, opened a series of tennis matches in Berlin today with a victory over Frau Deutsch by scores of 6-0, 6-2.

Piela Beaten by Fernandez in Legion Go

Ignacio Fernandez, fast Filipino featherweight, took a ten-round decision over Jimmy Piela at the Hollywood American Legion last night. The Filipino fighter proved to be a master boxer and outscored the Hollywood lad heavily. Fernandez took seven of the ten rounds while two went to Piela and one was even.

The Legion inaugurated a new method of judging the bouts. Two judges sat at the ringside and passed their verdicts to the referee. Conway Tearle and John Humphries officiated last night.

Bill Johnson and Jack Roper fought a rough, fast draw in the semi-wind-up. Roper took a ten-round decision from Johnson at Wilmington recently so this bout almost evens it up between them.

In the opening bout of the evening Johnny Cruz and Claude Varner battled four rounds to a draw. Andy Palmini took the decision over Al Sing, Chinese fighter, in the second preliminary.

Joe Ortega took a six-round decision over Joe Pimentfal in the special event. Pimenthal scored a knockdown in the second round, a right to the chin sinking Ortega for the count of two. Ortega came back strong in the remaining four rounds, winning the decision on points.

LASWELL PLANNING COMEBACK

Retired Handball King to Play in Southland Tourney Next Month

Maynard Laswell, retired undefeated handball champion of the universe, will come out of his shell for the first time in a dog's age and resume competition when he takes the court at the Los Angeles Athletic Club in the Southern Pacific Association A.A.U. championships, which are scheduled for June 11, 12, 13. This announcement was made yesterday by Charley Keppen, athletic director of the Mercury institution, in giving out the dates of the tournament. Laswell, although out of active competition, is in wonderful shape and is said to be just as good as he ever was.

The retired world's champion will face some stiff opposition in the tournament here, however, Keppen stated. Among the entries already received for the tourney are Joe Powers, Joe Gordon, Art Stern and H. Le Goube. The entry list will close June 7. Play in the singles and doubles is expected to bring out a host of fine competitors. The San Diego Athletic Club and the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach have already notified the Mercury Club that they will have teams ready for the tourney.

MISS ORCUTT COPS TITLE

SHORT HILLS (N. J.) May 25. (AP)—The women's golf championship of the Metropolitan district was won here today for the third straight year by Miss Maureen Orcutt, 21 years of age, star from Englewood, N. J. Playing over the difficult lower course of Baltusrol Golf Club, Miss Orcutt won the 36-hole final against Mrs. Norman K. Toerge of Glen Cove, L. I., by 12 up and 10 to play.

HAGEN COPS GOLF MATCH

RICHMOND (Surrey, Eng.) May 25. (AP)—Walter Hagen, British open champion, defeated Fred Robson, one of England's stoutest-hearted pros, 2 up and 1 to play, in an eighteen-hole exhibition match over the mid-Surrey Club course today.

STATE BANK ACT CLAUSE VOIDED

Merced Court Rules in Favor of Stockholders

Assessment Provision Called Unconstitutional

Decision Highly Important if Upheld on Appeal

FRESNO, May 25. (Exclusive)—In an opinion handed down by Judge E. N. Rector of the Superior Court of Merced county, supplementary to an order sustaining a demurrer on the same subject, the court holds that the provision of the State Banking Act, which provides for assessment of stockholders on their liability for debts of banking corporation, is unconstitutional, according to information received here today by Theodore M. Stuart, who, with Dist. Atty. Ostrander of Merced county, was attorney for a group of defendants in an assessment action.

Stuart and Ostrander, representing W. K. Starrock, W. E. Rasor and Charles Ottmann, stockholders of the First Bank of Livingston, insolvent, and who were sued by the State Bank Superintendent to collect 100 per cent assessments, demurred to the complaint on the ground that it did not conform to the provisions of the State constitution fixing stockholders' liability.

BASIS OF PLEA

The demurrer was based upon the allegation that the State constitution provides that a stockholder's liability for corporate debt shall be limited to a proportion of the entire amount of indebtedness equal in ratio to the relation that the stock holding bears to the entire amount of stock subscribed. The State Banking Act, the defense contended, places in the hands of the superintendent of banks the power to levy an unlimited number of assessments, and makes it possible for him to levy against one or more stockholders' assessments equal in amount to the entire indebtedness of the bank in which they hold stock.

Through this provision, the defense held, the stockholders of a banking corporation are placed in a different category than those of other corporations whose liability is limited by the constitution to a portion of the indebtedness.

It was also a defense contention that the constitution limits stockholders' liability to debts contracted by the corporation while they were stockholders, whereas in this case at least one of the stockholders purchased his stock after all but a small part of the bank's indebtedness was contracted. The State Banking Act does not so limit the liability, it was contended by the demurrer.

IMPORTANT RULING

Judge Rector's opinion holds that the section of the act under attack is unconstitutional in that it attempts to create for stockholders of banking corporations liability for corporate debt greater than would be imposed upon stockholders of other corporations. The opinion is sweeping in its terms and will have a wide effect if the court's position is sustained in the higher courts, according to local legal authorities.

One of the biggest banks debts affected by the ruling would be that of the Watterson banks in Owens Valley, which are now being liquidated under the direction of the State Banking Department.

Stuart said today that under the present Bank Act if all but one of a bank's stockholders were insolvent at the time liquidation of the bank was begun, the bank superintendent could force that one stockholder to pay all the debt, if he had sufficient funds.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

[Copyright, 1928, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, May 25.—Some months ago when rumors of a big intrastate utility consolidation first cropped out, it was the assumption that Consolidated Gas would proceed to absorb Brooklyn Edison and Brooklyn Union Gas, subject, of course, to the sanction of the Public Service Commission as a part of the scheme. A little more than a week ago plans for the acquisition of Brooklyn Edison by the Manhattan company were announced, but no mention was made regarding the ultimate disposition of Brooklyn Union Gas. If gossip current now is well founded, there apparently has been a shift in the plans of those back of the development and report now has it that Brooklyn Union is slated to go into a new combine, which will include United Gas Improvement and Public Service of New Jersey.

Chrysler and Studebaker

It was reported today in speculative quarters that the market sponsorship of Chrysler Motors has been turned over to the group which recently assumed control of the market proceedings in Studebaker. Both stocks were intensely active and strong today. Studebaker rose to fresh high levels for the movement, and Chrysler responded briskly to a buying movement which, by its nature, tended to bear out rumors of new interests having taken it in hand.

Durant Returns Soon

Wall street heard today that W. C. Durant, widely known for his market activities in a varied list of stocks, is slated to return home from Europe shortly. Mr. Durant, who has been abroad for several weeks, is expected to be home within the course of the next week, probably arriving here a week from tomorrow.

Cyanide Plant Contract Let

Southwestern Engineering Corporation has signed a contract with the Siskoe Gold Mines, Ltd., of Canada for construction of an ore-extraction plant to cost $220,000, L. C. Penhoel, president of the company, announced yesterday. The plant is to be of the all-slime cyanide-mill type, powered by a Diesel plant and will have a daily capacity of 100 tons.

Southwestern Engineering Corporation recently completed a large flotation and concentration plant for the Abana Mines, Ltd., located in the Rowyn gold district in the northern portion of Canada. The mill has a capacity of 150 tons per day and was erected at a cost of $275,000.

Recently the engineering company extended its operations to South America and is planning to enter other foreign fields very shortly, officials stated.

OILS ATTRACT FISHER GROUP

Place on Texas Board May be Followed by Election to Richfield Directorate, States Eastern Report

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Followers of the oil stocks attach considerable significance to the entry of the Fisher brothers of Detroit into the oil industry. It is generally understood that the Fishers, whose operations in the stock market have been conspicuously successful, never accumulate a line of stock until exhaustive engineering, accounting and industrial surveys are made by their own technical staff. The obvious inference is that this well-informed group believes that petroleum investments will show a satisfactory profit.

Mexican Seaboard was the first oil company the Fishers entered, the stock resulting in a rise from around $6 a share to $39, all in a period of approximately two months. The first intimation the public had of the Fisher investment in Mexican Seaboard was the announcement of the election of two of the members of the Fisher Investment Company to the directorate.

NOW IN TEXAS

Next came the Texas Corporation, one of the outstanding independent companies. W. A. Fisher, one of the brothers, was elected to the board the other day, succeeding Thomas A. O'Donnell, chairman of California Petroleum Corporation, recently consolidated with the Texas Corporation. The Fishers, it is understood, acquired the large holdings of the late John J. Mitchell, chairman of the Illinois Merchants' Trust Company of Chicago. Mr. Mitchell was one of the largest individual stockholders in the Texas Corporation.

Acceptance of places on the directorates of these companies apparently takes the Fisher operations out of the speculative category and reflects a definite investment program. This indication of policy is especially significant to holders of Richfield Oil, the company that is now associated with reports of further investments in the oil industry for the account of the Fisher brothers.

The story was published in New York following the announcement early in the week of the entry of the Fishers into the Texas Corporation. A substantial interest has already been acquired in Richfield by the Fishers, according to this story, with the possibility that additional stock will be accumulated. Within a short time, it was stated, the Fishers will seek representation on the board.

RICHFIELD STUDIED

Whether this report is true or not, it is generally understood that the Richfield picture is attracting close attention in the stock market. The Pan American Western negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily, it is understood, and the reduction in funded debt through the conversion of bonds also is a highly salutary development.

Every lond-term swing in the stock market produces its outstanding personalities, men with large resources who possess the vision, the analytical ability and the patience that are requisite to success in speculation. In this market the Durants and the Fishers and Arthur Cutten of Chicago have probably been the largest and the most successful of the individual operators. The Fisher brothers, Lawrence, Frederick and W. A., have progressed from the Fisher Body Company to General Motors, and on into a score of large companies in which they have accumulated large holdings.

Included in their operations are Baldwin Locomotive, in which they are reported to have a controlling interest; and, according to current reports, Anaconda, International Harvester, General Motors, Westinghouse and Radio Corporation.

Gasoline War Rumors Denied by Companies

Rumors of a possible gasoline war in California were reported from San Francisco yesterday, predicated on the statements that some of the larger companies had reduced the price of gasoline to independent dealers. Marketing officers in Los Angeles denied any knowledge of an impending war, although some of them admitted that they had heard the rumors.

Uneasiness over the price structure was attributed in some quarters to the recent entrance of the Texas Corporation into the California market. Some of the marketers, it was said, were concerned over the the possibility of the increased competition resulting in concessions to dealers, but at the offices of the Texas Corporation here the statement was made that no reductions have been inaugurated.

Because of the widespread feeling against a recurrence of the disastrous war of a year ago, the belief was expressed that whatever difficulties have cropped out, the marketers will soon from them out in the interests of themselves, the stockholders and the public.

Bankers in East Hit Speculation, Robinson States

Bankers in the East continue to look with disfavor on the volume of speculation in the stock market, and believe that most stocks are selling considerably out of line with sound values, Henry M. Robinson, president of the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank, said yesterday upon his return from a business visit to eastern cities.

Not much comment is heard about the state of general business, Mr. Robinson said, most of the bankers apparently taking a satisfied point of view. But in all discussion of speculation, he stated, the easterners express considerable concern for the financial welfare of the newer entrants into the stock market, when the corrective movements get under way.

On the consolidation rumors affecting the Los Angeles-First National, Mr. Robinson reiterated his previous denials. No negotiations have ever been held with the American Trust of San Francisco, or with the Chase National of New York, he asserted, in answer to a specific question.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 25. (Exclusive)—The cotton market made a further decline in today's trading of 15 points for the general contract list from yesterday's decline of between 27 and 33 points from Thursday's final prices. The liquidating pressure and absence of any concerted support from either local trade or outside bulls noted in the last few days continued the principal factors in causing the market's further setback.

In today's decline July contracts, which take the place of May as a spot trading month, owing to there being no speculative or hedged interests in June, sold as low as 20.30c, from its high of 21.85c reached on May 1. October of the new crop sold at 20.75c, and December 20.25c, from their high records of 21.78c and 21.64c, respectively, of May for this season.

After these low prices had been reached the liquidation of the last week showed to have run its course, as it required only a small amount of new buying by commission houses and some covering of shorts to rally the market back to the closing quotation of yesterday, with July selling around 20.45c on this rally, October 20.52c, December 20.39c and January 20.33c, from which there was not much change in the late afternoon.

The Liverpool markets were weak today in scattered liquidation there, as they will remain closed from this afternoon until next Tuesday for the Whitsuntide holidays. Spot cotton there was off 14 English points to 11.46d for middling. Futures declined 18 to 20 points and closed steady at 15 net decline.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Gasoline War Rumor Causes General Liquidation of Local Market Stocks

General recessions marked the close of trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The market opened firm and continued steady for the earlier part of the session but at noon a break in oil stocks was caused by rumors of a gasoline war. The rumors, however, were not substantiated by any of the companies. Other divisions of the list followed suit but in the last few minutes of trading some improvement was evidenced.

Richfield Oil opened at 48 3-4 and at noon was quickly depressed to 45 1-4. After a record turnover of 43,192 shares the stock closed up to 46 7-8 for a net loss on the day of 1 3-8 points. Union of California came in for a large amount of selling pressure and closed down 1 1-4 to 50 1-4. Union Associates lost ½ to 51¼. Standard of California fell off 3-8 to 58 7-8. Republic Petroleum moved to a high of 73 and closed at 69 for a net loss of 1 cent.

Los Angeles-First National Bank dropped off 2½ points to 153. California Bank slumped 2 points to 164 and Merchants' National, a like amount to 268. Bank of Italy lost ½ to 290¼ while Bancitaly advanced 3-4 to 211 3-4.

American Company featured the unlisted division, and added 15 points to its 10-point rise of the previous session to score a new peak price at 210. Electrical Products dropped off 10 points to 170. Pan-American Western closed off 7-8 to 22½ and Richfield warrants, 2½ points to 18. Bryon Jackson Pump sold to a high of 63 and closed at 62 7-8 for a net rise of 1 5-8 points. People's National Bank fell 2 points to 34. In the miscellaneous group Pacific National Company advanced 4 points to 145 while the rights dropped the same amount to 26.

Stock transfers totaled 260,671 shares.

Earnings of Gas Utility Show Gain

Los Angeles Corporation Reports Increase Over Last Year

Net earnings of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation for the year ended April 30, 1928, amounted to $9,422,876.62, as compared with $9,169,502.28 for the year ended April 30, 1927, according to information released yesterday. This is equivalent to 3.6 times the total annual interest requirements.

Earnings available for dividends after interest, depreciation and amortization, amounted to $4,159,-264.65, equivalent to approximately $21.50 per share on the outstanding preferred stock and more than $14 per share on the common stock after preferred dividends.

For the month of April, 1928, net earnings were $746,588.48, as compared with $905,223.30 in April of last year. The decrease in revenue, both gross and net, it is stated, is the result of the company's service campaign for adjusting gas appliances and instructing consumers for greater economy in the use of natural gas.

Vitrefax and Paraffine in New Relation

Announcement of the purchase of substantial holdings in the Vitrefax Corporation of Los Angeles by the Paraffine Companies was made yesterday by officials of the Vitrefax Corporation, which is a large manufacturer of brick, cement and fire glass.

Officers and management of the company will not be changed, it was stated, and the business will be carried on the same as before. The company was not sold outright or merged with Paraffine Companies, it was said, the deal being entirely of an investment nature on the part of the latter company.

Paraffine Companies have been carrying on a program of expansion that has attained sizeable proportions in the last year. On December 1, 1927, the ink department was merged with the California Ink Company to facilitate a pooling of interests to assist in more efficiently handling the business of the two companies. Prior to this merger the Paraffine Companies, the National Paper Products Company and the Independent Paper Stock Company were consolidated.

New Partners Added to Staff of Stock House

Hammond Brothers, Inc., members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, recently moved into larger quarters in the Pacific Southwest Building, Paul B. Hammond, partner, announced yesterday. The move, according to Mr. Hammond, was necessary in view of the expansion of the company since the first of the year.

D. A. McGilvray, member of the exchange for the past twenty years, was recently made a partner. Raymond V. Holtz, formerly with First Securities Company, was also made a member and appointed office manager.

Paul B. Hammond, for a number of years, a member of the exchange and at present on the board of governors, founded the company in 1912. He was joined by Theodore E. Hammond in 1919. Both are native sons of Los Angeles. Since the post trading system, Hammond Brothers, Inc., have become specialists and operate two seats on the exchange. H. Kenneth Powell, former floor trader for the company, has charge of the post.

Lawndale Bank Control Sold

Control of the First Exchange State Bank of Lawndale and its Los Angeles branch has been sold to A. F. Netzel, formerly president of the First National Bank of Auburn, Wash., R. Earl Miller, chairman of the board of directors of the Exchange bank, announced yesterday.

Mr. Miller, who was formerly president and held the controlling interest, has retained a substantial block of stock. At a board meeting Tuesday, last, he resigned as president in favor of Mr. Wetzel, but will continue to serve as chairman of the board. Mr. Wetzel will take over active direction of the bank June 1. Resources of the bank exceed $500,000.

ATLANTA BANK RATE BOOST ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board announce today that the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta has established a rediscount rate of 4½ per cent, effective tomorrow.

PRINTER INSTALLED

Installation of a Simplex printer to be used in the head office of the Merchants National Bank was completed yesterday, according to W. R. Williams, city superintendent of the Western Union. The machine will be in operation today. The printer is an automatic device used for the sending and receiving of telegraph messages.

RECEIVES PROMOTION

Wyman Robbins has been appointed manager of the real-estate loan department at the Los Angeles office of S. W. Straus & Co., F. A. Quigley, formerly of the Anglo California Securities Company, has been appointed his assistant. Mr. Robbins succeeds T. A. Oakey, who was recently elected vice-president. He has served as Mr. Oakey's assistant for the past six years.

SURPRISE ON WALL STREET

Decrease in Broker Borrowings Since Bank Rate Increase Smaller Than Expected

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1928, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, May 25.—If the potency of the higher discount rate to slow down speculation is measured by this week's change in brokers loans, bulls in the market will not have much to fear.

While last week's move by the reserve bank at New York to a 4½ per cent rediscount level checked the weekly gain in brokers' loans that had been under way since March 7, the drop of $45,963,000 this week was smaller than expected. It compares with an increase in the week before of nearly $141,-000,000 and fails to make any material cut in the grand total. In the ten weeks previous to the rate action of the New York bank brokers' loans rose $807,000,000, which represents a faster rate of growth in market credit than ever before.

In the financial district it was pointed out, after publication of the loan figures, that the contraction in loans induced by a dearer bank rate does not always come immediately. In the first week after the rate was raised at New York to 4 per cent on February 3 brokers' loans rose $20,000,000, setting a new record peak. All during February after that initial week loans fell. Altogether the shrinkage was $240,-000,000 before an upswing set in again.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the brokers' loan statement is that sharp reductions came in the only two items under direct control of the Federal Reserve system. Loans by New York member banks for their own account fell $64,000,-000. Those for the account of out-of-town banks fell $48,000,000. But these reductions were partially offset by a $67,000,000 jump in loans for the account of others, an item not immediately under the supervision of the reserve banks. Obviously then the reduction in items under control of the reserve officials showed a more substantial drop than the published figures reveal when studied as a whole.

Since a decline of only $46,000,-000 in brokers' loans is not sufficient to affect money rates the financial district expects the usual end of the month influences to bring a stiffening tendency in money during the next week. Very often the reserve banks step into the open market at these seasonal periods to ease conditions, but whether in the circumstances they will do so this time remains to be seen.

Net Income of Power Utility Jumps in Year

Consolidated net earnings of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation and subsidiary companies for the twelve months ended April 30, last, amounted to $979,841.24 as compared with $768,801.56 in the corresponding twelve months of last year, an increase of $196,039.68 or more than 23 per cent, according to a statement released yesterday by the company.

Gross earnings for the twelve months' period aggregated $8,275,-426.34 as against $8,028,070.44 in the preceding period, a gain of $247,-355.90 or nearly 5 per cent. Operating expenses and taxes amounted to $2,981,964.53 as compared with $2,741,894.85 for the same period last year.

Net earnings for April amounted to $47,944.59 after all charges as against $7,842.61 for April, 1927, a gain of $40,101.98 or more than 500 per cent. Gross operating earnings totaled $377,533.37 as against $322,344.16.

Improvement in Tone of Trade Reports Shown

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Further improvement in weather and crops, reflected this week in about the most cheerful advices as to wholesale and jobbing business records this spring, stand out conspicuously in the current reports to Bradstreet's. Especially prominent in this direction are those parts of the Southwest where a big winter wheat yield seems forecast; the old spring wheat Northwest, where last week's rains have caused small grains of all kinds to green up and send good reports, and the Pacific Northwest, where a combination of good reports as to crops, good buying of flour for Central Western delivery, and an advance in lumber prices of 50 cents to $2 per thousand feet has resulted from curtailed production of fir lumber, geared on the very general adoption of a five-day week plan.

Weekly bank clearings, $12,269,-457,000, an increase of 25.7 per cent over a year ago.

OIL VACANCY FILLED

Allman M. Blow has been elected vice-president and director and appointed manager of the Amerada Petroleum Corporation succeeding John M. Lovejoy, resigned, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Lovejoy will become president of a company he has formed in conjunction with W. A. Harriman & Co.

MARKETS CLOSED

Principal stock exchanges throughout the country will be closed today, continuing the policy of allowing brokers to catch up with the record volume of business that has marked trading in recent months. Stock and curb exchanges in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco are among those which have given notice of closing.

WOOL MART QUOTATIONS RULE FIRM

Weekly Review Reports Demand Especially Good in Domestic Lines

BOSTON, May 25. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

The demand for wool, more especially domestic descriptions, is steady and prices are firm with upward tendency for all qualities. Mills are taking the new domestic clip about as fast as received in warehouse. Foreign wools are slow of sale.

The foreign markets are all very firm, following the strong close at London.

Operations in the West continue steadily at full recent rates.

The goods market is healthy with moderate business being done all the while.

Mohair is rather quiet here, but very strong. America is buying freely at the Cape in summer firsts at 29 to 30d landed here.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1928, to the 24th inst. inclusive, were 72,903,000 pounds, against 76,392,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1928, to the 24th inst. inclusive, were 110,315,200 pounds, against 129,078,300 pounds for the same period last year.

The Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:

Scoured basis—Texas: Fine 12 months (selected,) 1.15@1.20; fine 8 months, 1.10@1.15.

California: Northern, 1.12@1.15; middle county, 1.08@1.08; southern, 92@95.

Oregon: Fine and F.M. staple, 1.15@1.18; fine and F.M. clothing, 1.00@1.05; Valley No. 1, 1.08@1.10.

Territory: Montana and similar, fine staple, choice, 1.17@1.20; one-half blood combing, 1.15@1.18; three-eighths blood combing, 1.09@1.10; one-quarter blood combing, 1.00@1.05.

Pulled: Delaine, 1.20@1.25; AA, 1.18@1.18; fine A supers, 1.10@1.15; A supers, 1.09@1.10.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1928, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, May 25. (By wireless) The markets were quiet here today on the eve of the Whitsuntide holiday, and prices were mostly small and irregular. The gramophone group was easier, although Columbia Graphophone announced that, in view of the extension of the current financial period to fifteen months, the directors had declared a second interim dividend of 15d, which was regarded as indicative of a big final dividend, although it is now payable on much larger capital.

Investments were still steady on account of the export of gold from the United States. Cement shares were firm as a result of the latest fusion. Associated Anglo Atlantic Corporation of British Cement Products and the finance company are offering to acquire the shares of the Dunvable Portland Cement Company.

SALESMEN GRADUATE

Bond Dealers Finish Course of Investment Bankers' Institute

Investment Bankers' Institute announced yesterday the graduation a large group of bond salesmen. The following local houses were represented: Banks, Huntley & Co., California Company, R. E. Campbell & Co., Anglo-California Trust Company, Cass, Howard & Co., M. H. Lewis & Co., Hunter, Dulin & Co., Merchants National Company and Alvin H. Frank & Co.

The course, which covered a period of more than three months, was conducted by J. L. Stixrud, investment counsellor of Los Angeles and Robert L. Jordon, sales counsellor for Los Angeles and San Francisco. Professors of economics, Pegrun and Burchett, of the University of California and Prof. Roland Vandegrift of the California Taxpayers' Association, contributed largely to the course.

STOCK MARKET UPTURN HALTED

Prices Turn Down on Wide End Profit Taking

Few High-Priced Specialties Register Gains

Average of Industry and Rail Groups Lower

NEW YORK, May 25. (P)—Resumption of the upward price movement in today's stock market was checked by heavy week-end profit taking. A few high-priced specialties were marked up 5 to 14 points, but the general list showed a mixed spread irregularity at the close with both the industrial and railroad averages closing lower on the day. Trading was in fairly heavy volume for a preholiday session, the day's sales running over 3,000,000 shares in the four hours of trading.

The stock exchange will be closed tomorrow to give member firms and other opportunity to catch up with an accumulation of work, pursuant to the restoration of the five-hour trading sessions next week. The exchange also will be closed Wednesday—Memorial Day.

Although the heavy sale of government securities by the Federal Reserve banks last week indicated that official efforts to restrict excessive credit were being continued, operations for the advance were ahead in several sections of the list. The decrease of nearly $46,000,000 in broker loans was only about one-third of the previous week's expansion, but it was, nevertheless, the first reduction since February. There was no change in the credit situation and none is expected to appear after the month-end demands for currency are out of the way.

Radio supplanted the aviation stocks as the market leader, advancing 11½ points to 204½ and then easing to 203 on unconfirmed reports of competitive buying between the International Telephone and Western Union interests, whose cable business is said to have suffered from competition of the radio beam service. The relatively small floating supply of Radio common stock accounts for the violent fluctuations in that issue.

Wright Aero moved within a range of 6½ points, closing 1½ points net lower at 184½. Curtiss showed a net loss of 2 3-4 at 127 1-2 after having sold between 130 1-2 and 144 3-4. Otis Elevator reached the largest individual gain, closing 4 points higher at 207 and having established a new high record at 209½.

Copper stocks gave one of the most impressive demonstrations of group strength on buying influenced by reports of a further increase in the price of export copper to the 15-cent-a-pound level. Cerro Pasco, Howe Sound and Kennecott moved into new high ground, while Anaconda, Calumet & Hecla

Drift on Grain Marts Down on Freer Selling

CHICAGO, May 25. (Exclusive)—Dry and warm weather in the American Northwest lost its effect as a market influence in wheat, and with increased pressure from commission houses and the local element, prices declined 2¼@2¾c from the early high and closed about the bottom, with net losses of 1⅞@2¾c. Longs sold corn freely and sellers of bids were forced to protect themselves on the way down and closed 2¼@3¼c lower, with May leading. Oats were off ⅞@2¼c, with May leading, while rye declined 1@2¾c.

A weakened technical position was instrumental in bringing about the decline in wheat, but sentiment was much less bullish and commission houses and pit element were fairly aggressive on the selling side from the start. Winnipeg received a little rain, which had a depressing effect, but the official reports showed no precipitation in the spring wheat territory either side of the international line and the forecast was for generally fair and somewhat warmer. Temperatures were up to around 90 deg. in North Dakota during the day.

General run of crop reports from the Northwest were more bullish than of late, but it had relatively little effect. A growing need of moisture was claimed over a wide area, and a local crop observer, who returned from the Red River Valley, expressed the belief that a little permanent damage had been done. Severe storms in Northern and Central Italy have done heavy damage to the crops in that country, but were ignored as a market influence by Liverpool, which closed unchanged to ¼d lower. Export demand at the seaboard was slow, with sales of 200,000 to 300,000 bushels in all positions.

Persistent selling of corn by commission houses was in evidence and demand was much slower and prices declined sharply, at the inside showing 2¾@3¼c under the early high, with July leading the downturn, and it dropped to ⅝c under the September, compared with a premium of ⅛c at the finish on Thursday. Stop-loss orders were caught on the way down. Large receipts here, 223 cars, had some effect on sentiment, although part of the arrivals were from southwestern markets. Weather conditions remain favorable for the new crop.

Scattered offerings found demand for May oats limited when they tried to sell and prices broke 3c from the finish of the previous day, while the deferred futures were easier with May and with other grains, and the close was about the bottom. Trade in rye was light and the market broke in sympathy with wheat.

Fair selling of lard by a leading packing interest, combined with the late weakness in hogs and the sharp break in corn, made an easy market for lard, with net losses of 5@10c, the latter being on May. Buying was only fair and scattered. A little trade was on in bellies, with prices 2½@5c lower, while ribs were 3c lower on May to 3c higher on July.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Approximately 300 head were offered yesterday, about 200 of which were counted in the fresh arrivals. Load lots were all confined to steers, the stock offerings being limited to odd head and small lots. An early clearance was made of all classes at generally steady prices. A car of good 1219-pound Santa Rosa Island steers topped at 11.50, while five cars of 1000 to 1074-pound Island offerings brought 11.40. Three cars of 1025 to 1075-pound Central California grass steers turned for 10.75 and 10.85, while half a load of plain 947-pound grassers made 10.00.

The bulk of she stock, in odd head and small lots, cashed from 9.75@8.50, with a few more desirable individuals up to 9.85. Bulls and low cutters were in small supply from 5.25@6.25. A few medium supply from 5.25@6.25. A few medium and good bulls were included from 6.50@7.50.

CALVES—The small supply was cleaned up at around steady prices. A car of good 222-pound California vealers brought 13.25, with ten out at 11.00. Half a load of good 403-pound calves turned for 10.50. Late Thursday a car of good 283-pound calves realized 12.00.

HOGS—Nine loads of butchers were offered yesterday, two of which were held over from Thursday. Demand was not overly active, however, a good clearance was made. One load still remained unsold. Prices were on a steady-to-weak basis. Yesterday's top was 11.15 for one load, while seven loads of 190 to 225-pound butchers cashed from 10.65@11.00. Packing sows were in light supply from 7.00@8.00.

SHEEP—Yesterday's supply sold readily on the morning session at fully steady prices. Two decks of good 79-pound lambs scored 15.00, with 15 per cent sorted out at 11.50. A deck of 94-pound shorn island ewes held over from Thursday cashed for 7.40.

Chase Captures Four Asserted Blackmailers

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. (Exclusive)—Four men suspected of connection with a nation-wide blackmailing plot were arrested here today, one after an exciting chase through Mission street. They gave their names as Harry Cattle, Brown Robinson, Edward Dunn and Robert Baker. According to police, they had not had an opportunity to begin operations in this city.

Cattle is held on a New York indictment charging blackmail, extortion and bunco operations, police said. He was recognized near the postoffice with Baker. As officers approached, Cattle leaped for an automobile. Baker was captured without resistance and Cattle chased for a block through thick traffic. Later, Robinson and Dunn were found in a lodging house.

Robinson, it was said, has police records in Los Angeles and Oakland, for suspicion of burglary, grand larceny and lesser crimes.

Police said the scheme of the band is to strike up acquaintances at social functions and in hotel lobbies, lure men into compromising situations with female assistants and then call in pseudo police officers. The "police" usually suggest stopping at a bail bond house, the money is produced for a bond and then the "police" disappear.

ANGELENO FATALLY BURNED

PHOENIX, May 25. (Exclusive)—Static electric sparks between a gasoline tank and the metal end of a hose from a tank wagon, ignited the flowing gasoline, with resultant fatal burning of Lee Fox, 32 years of age, a Los Angeles truck driver. Drenched with gasoline as he attempted to throw the nozzle from him, his clothing was burned from his body. Death occurred in the hospital after hours of suffering. Fox's parents live in Los Angeles, whence his wife had made the trip to Phoenix with him. They were about to start on their return journey.

TODAY'S THE DAY AIRLINE STARTS

Regular Aerial Service to Bay City Opens

Department May Fix Future of American Aviation

Hughes's Venture to Set Record for Nation

Several thousand persons are expected to gather at Vail Field at Kingman today to witness the start of a public demonstration of the possibilities of aerial passenger traffic within the near future, when the first passenger will be carried by Western Air Express, Inc., of a model aerial line between Los Angeles and San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento, operating $80,000, twelve-passenger planes.

Secretary of Commerce of Los Angeles has named charge of the ceremonies at Vail Field speeding the mail plane on its way from Los Angeles, and welcoming the arrival from San Francisco when it is due at 1:20 p.m. The daily schedule for the two cities is to be three hours.

Kingman may be reached by driving out East Ninth street to Vail Field and then direct to Kingman, which is distant from the city about seven miles.

DEPARTMENT OF AVIATION

Government authorities have declared the line as a laboratory test the possibilities of commercial aviation. It is said by Secretary M. Hanshue of Western Air Express that never before has such careful arrangements been made to assure the success of commercial aviation ventures. Hanshue predicts it will be entirely successful.

The California aerial line is expected that such passenger service can be maintained at a profit that a regular schedule can be adhered to and that passengers can be assured of departure and arriving exactly on time; that air travel is comfortable, safe and reliable and that such travel is as any other known form of transportation.

HUGHES'S RECORD

The Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics designated Western Air Express to establish the aerial line in California, because of the splendid record made by that company in the handling of air mail. That record includes the handling of mail and passengers between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City since April 17, 1926, during which time no service was established, no passenger carrying a plane, injuring a passenger or losing an ounce of mail, but in more than two thousand flights behind schedule. The safety record has been perfect.

Secretary Lasher last evening pointed out the fact that he is confident of the success of the new line.

The planes to be used are the most luxurious passenger planes ever constructed. Designed by Anthony H. G. Fokker, they are believed to represent the last word so far known to aviation.

The planes are triple-motored, but any one motor will sustain the plane in flight.

PILOTS AND PLANES

Western Air Express has a dependable corps of aeronautical engineers who know their ships and who can be relied upon to give the best of flying service.

The people of California are air-minded and are taking advantage of the time that can be had by flying. The Guggenheim fund of $2,500,000 in establishing meteorological and other stations, so that the pilots may receive reports on weather conditions in all the territory between Los Angeles and San Francisco, the routes between the two cities have been surveyed and mapped out, and the location, will follow the best course, where the best landing fields are, and Mr. Hanshue last night announced that passengers flying between Los Angeles and San Francisco will be able to find the trip one of the most interesting journeys in California, offering a panorama that cannot be equaled in any other part of the world. The beauty of the route is expected to appeal to every traveler, and the time saved must be of importance to the business men and women of our State.

AIRLINE TOO PERFECT

The only fear is that passengers will be afraid they might experience no thrill if they travel. Flying in

STAGE PAIR APPLY TO HYMEN

Bride-to-be Once Banned in England

Alden Gay and Kenneth Thomson

KENNETH THOMSON, stage and motion-picture actor, yesterday took out papers of intention to wed Miss Alden Gay, American actress whose recent disbarment from the British stage started a controversy between American and English dramatic associations that still is simmering.

The wedding will be solemnized here early next week, the couple announced, but they wish to keep the exact date a secret. Thomson will be remembered as leading man in "The Devil's Plum Tree," and more recently in "The Captive."

Miss Gay became the center of the international row last February, when the British Ministry of Labor refused to allow her to appear in a London play on the ground that she was depriving an English actress of the opportunity of employment. The American Actors' Equity Association immediately took steps to pass even more vigorous regulations toward foreign actors wishing to appear here, and a final showdown on the situation still is pending.

Thomson met his bride-to-be two years ago while on the New York stage and a recent trip to New York ripened the acquaintance.

LAD KILLED WHEN SWING POST FALLS

Wealthy Yachtsman's Son Crushed Under Concrete Pole in Own Playground

Struck on the head by a falling ornamental concrete post in the back yard of his home, Owen Humphries Churchill, 7-year-old son of Owen Churchill, prominent wealthy sportsman was killed instantly yesterday afternoon.

The child was swinging on a rope attached to the concrete post and his weight toppled the post over. The boy's sister, Elizabeth Ann, 6, narrowly escaped injury.

The father of the child is commodore of the Skippers' Club and staff commodore of the Catalina Island Yacht Club. He is owner of the palatial "E" sloop "Friendship." The family residence is at 106 North Las Palmas avenue.

Autoist Injured as Car Plunges Off Steep Bank

Frank Rizzitello of 1021 Lilac Terrace, Los Angeles, received a crushed right foot early yesterday morning when the automobile in which he was riding with Marino Frontino of 738 New Depot street toppled over an embankment at Michigan avenue and Summit Glen near Tujunga.

Frontino, driver of the car, was uninjured. When questioned by E. F. Plagge, deputy constable of Montrose, Frontino said that he swerved the car over the bank to avoid a head-on collision with another car which came around a curve at a high rate of speed.

Rizzitello was taken to the General Hospital for treatment.

IMPROVEMENTS APPROVED

The improvement of Mauretania street from Wilmington Boulevard to Machado avenue by the construction of a thirty-foot roadway has been recommended by the City Council's Public Works Committee.

Veteran Social Worker Passes

Mrs. Jeanette Davidson, 75 years of age, widely known worker in Jewish women's activities, after a brief illness of a few days, passed away at Hollywood Hospital yesterday morning. Mrs. Davidson was Grand Dame and Chaplain of Temple Emanu-El Sisterhood and a member of the Baron de Hirsh Society, Council of Jewish Women, and Esther Lodge, B'nai B'rith, of Chicago. She received special mention for her services during the war for the Red Cross, Salvation Army and various other patriotic organizations.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Hannah Weiner of this city, and two sons, Abe Davidson of Louisville, and Louis Davidson of Chicago. Funeral services will be held from Temple Emanu-El Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Rabbi Herman Lissauer will officiate.

NAVAL QUIZ PASSED

Jacob Christian Myers, son of Mrs. Anna H. Myers of 1529½ North Bronson avenue, has been one of the ninety-eight successful enlisted men candidates of the Navy and Marine Corps in the mental examinations for entrance to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., it was announced yesterday.

CAHUENGA CHANGES URGED

Further improvement of Cahuenga Pass with an additional through highway, relocation of the Pacific Electric tracks, construction of a new bridge to carry Mulholland Highway over the new boulevard, and other features was set forth yesterday in a report submitted to the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission by its engineers.

The report touches on the remarkable growth and development of the San Fernando Valley and predicts a continued growth for the next fifteen years. Such an outlook, the report states, requires the further improvement of Cahuenga Pass as one of the major traffic arteries to and from the valley.

BOWL PROBLEM CONSIDERED

In developing the entire project, the report states, particular consideration was given to the bearing upon the traffic problem of the Hollywood Bowl and the Pilgrimage Play. These two enterprises bring together so many people that some traffic provision must be made to handle the crowds. The new plans also call for special provisions whereby the patrons of these two institutions may be accommodated by the Pacific Electric.

The design of the project in general calls for a 100-foot boulevard with an eighty-foot roadway on the east side of the Pass, and separated from the present boulevard by appropriate parkway planting. It also calls for the relocation of the electric tracks to a place between the two boulevards, the easterly boulevard occupying the present right of way of the tracks; the building of a viaduct across these main boulevards to carry Mulholland High Way; the construction of what are termed marginal roadways on grades so that traffic may move from the main highways or boulevards up to Mulholland High Way. These marginal roads also will be used in the development of the hill country for residential purposes.

INTERSECTION STUDIED

Particular attention, the report states, has been given to the design for the intersection of Cahuenga avenue and Highland avenue, where these two major highways divide and form the principal lines of travel into Hollywood from the north. A careful study was made in order to design an intersection that would give thoroughness of uninterrupted travel over Cahuenga

JULIAN JURORS CRITICISE KEYES

Statements Amplified to Support Judge

District Attorney Issues Slight Rejoinder

Federal Postal Inquiry to be Rushed Ahead

While the Federal authorities continued their investigation yesterday into the Julian oil case and government prosecutions appeared imminent, members of the jury that acquitted seven of the outstanding defendants tried in Superior Court amplified previous statements in which they blamed the lack of convictions on Dist.-Atty. Keyes.

The jurors interviewed all agreed that a statement issued Thursday by Superior Judge Doran, before whom the Julian trial was held, in which the judge severely criticised Keyes for his handling of the case, echoed their own thoughts.

JUDGE PRAISED

"I am sincerely glad that Judge Doran made the statement," declared Mrs. Flora Pyle, forewoman of the jury. "It was impossible for the jury to reach a conviction the way the District Attorney had the indictments drawn and from the manner in which he argued before the jury. As I recall his remarks, he talked about an hour and most of that time he spent in convincing the jury that three of the defendants were not guilty."

Others on the same jury were of the same mind and heartily indorsed the statement issued by Judge Doran.

KEYES'S REJOINDER

Dist.-Atty. Keyes had little to say, in return, to his critics. He made a statement in which he attempted to defend himself from the charges made by Judge Doran, saying that, to his mind, the case was completely argued and all phases of it placed in the hands of competent deputies when he was not personally present to handle it himself. He denied rumors that he is going to resign from his office as a result of the criticism hurled at him since the Julian verdict.

The Federal authorities who are investigating to determine whether there was misuse of the mails in selling the fraudulent Julian stocks, would not comment on their activities further than to say that the investigation still is being continued.

QUICK ACTION LIKELY

From apparently authentic sources, however, it is learned that some of the best men in the government service here have been assigned to the case and that quick action may be expected.

In the meantime, receivers for the defunct Julian Corporation continued their negotiations by which they hope to establish a merger with the Sunset Pacific Oil Company, the Julian stockholders to get shares in the latter company for the money they spent for Julian stock. The merger is expected to be completed within a few days.

ADDITIONAL WORKERS TO GET RISES

Council Increases List of City Employees Given Increased Pay

City employees who were overlooked on Thursday when the City Councilmen played Santa Claus by increasing the pay of 247 municipal workers a total of $47,000 a year yesterday started in to besiege Councilmen for more dollars in the pay envelopes. The first of the belated ones to be rewarded were the motor vehicle inspectors who keep watch on the activities of taxicabs and motor busses. They now receive from $155 to $170 a month each.

The Council yesterday boosted the pay to a scale of $180 to $200 a month. The salary of Chief Motor Vehicle Inspection Gunn also was increased from $260 to $285 a month. Councilman Colden warned the Council that it is in for a lot of grief and trouble if it starts in to raise salaries after Thursday's action was supposed to have settled salary matters as applying to the new budget.

CALL ON COUNCIL PLANNED

Beverly Boulevard Residents to Attend Session for Cement Plant Zoning Fight Monday

An urgent plea to property owners and citizens interested in preventing the establishment of a proposed rock crusher, cement plant, tile and brick yard in Las Pulgas Canyon, north of Beverly Boulevard, near the ocean front, to appear at a hearing on the project by the City Council at 2 p.m. Monday was broadcast at a mass meeting last night in the Southwest Building.

During the day before the mass meeting twelve members of the Council made an inspection tour of the proposed site in the Santa Monica Mountains, accompanied by Alphonzo Bell, owner of the property and a member of the concern that proposes to construct the plant.

PROTESTS POUR IN

At the same time scores of protests asserting the proposed industrial development in the picturesque mountain district a menace to future residential development poured into the City Hall from individuals, near-by cities, chambers of commerce and citizen improvement organizations.

Mrs. Sylvia Morrison, a Santa Monica club woman, made a stirring appeal to her audience at the mass meeting. She asserted that the initial development of the cement plant and other industries now proposed was incidental and that a permit for their establishment and operation would pave the way for wholesale industrialization of the entire residential area.

EVILS PICTURED

Mrs. Morrison declared the heavy trucking attendant to the plants would destroy Beverly Boulevard, upon which, she said, property owners in the district will be paying assessments for the next thirty-seven years, and the beauty of the place would be ground down in dust and dirt.

A. A. Weber of Santa Monica pointed out similar destructive tendencies of the proposed development. He said vast opportunities for recreational development in the natural playground would be forever lost if the plants are permitted construction.

Mr. Weber introduced F. S. Richards, a San Francisco engineer of long experience in cement plant construction, who pledged his services in reducing "technical propaganda" to facts for presentation to the Council. Several prop-

BUSINESS AT PORT SHOWS APRIL GAIN

More Receipts in Dollars and Cents Reported Last Month Than Year Ago

Official report of harbor business for the month of April, compiled by Controller Edwards and furnished to the Harbor Commission yesterday, showed that 2,115,405 tons of freight, valued at $78,239,736, were handled at the port in the twenty-nine days, compared to 2,185,950 tons, valued at $83,978,045 in March, with thirty-one days. In April a year ago the total was 2,170,100 tons, valued at $78,103,616. Gain in April port business this year was $136,120.

The total of ships arriving was 634, of which 167 were foreign, 134 intercoastal, 327 coastwise and six noncontiguous coastwise. Total American ships arriving was 517; British, forty-nine; Japanese, sixteen; Norwegian, fourteen; German, seven; Dutch, six; French, five; Mexican, four; Panamanian, four; Italian, three; Danish, two; Argentina, one; Swedish, six.

Hawaiian outbound cargo totaled 38,289 tons, while inbound was 4446 tons. Foreign outbound cargo totaled 563,790 tons, while inbound was 56,894 tons. Intercoastal outbound was 283,246 tons, and inbound 95,265 tons.

CINEMA DIRECTORS MOVE QUARTERS

Having sold its clubhouse and property located at 1925 Wilcox avenue, the Motion Picture Directors' Association has taken temporary quarters in the Cherokee Building, Hollywood Boulevard and Cherokee, according to George Irving, vice-chairman of the executive council. Henry Otto is president of the association, which comprises in its membership many of the leading megaphone wielders of the industry. Reginald Barker is chairman of the executive council.

SOD BROKEN FOR UNIT AT OCCIDENTAL

President and Other High Dignitaries at Ceremony for Student Building

Dr. Remsen Dubois Bird, president of Occidental College, presided yesterday at the ground-breaking exercises for the erection of a new student union building on the Eagle Rock campus of the college. The building, which will cost $150,000 when completed and equipped, will be finished by the opening of the autumn semester.

The entire school took part in the ceremonies. After the turning of the first spadeful of earth by President Bird, the following each threw a spadeful of earth on the old heating plant which is the site of the new building: Dr. Robert Freman, president of the board of trustees; Mrs. David B. Gamble, member of the building commission; Thomas G. Burt, dean of men; Dr. William E. Roberts, alumni trustee; Fred McLain, comptroller; Irene Myers, dean of women; Dr. Osgood Hardy, for the faculty; Kenneth Holland, student body president, and Frances Moore, president of the Associated Women Students.

The shovel used has been in use since 1913 at similar exercises which have resulted in the completion of eleven building units. The new union, designed by Myron Hunt and F. C. Chambers, architects, is planned in the modified Indian Renaissance style of architecture. Rectangular in shape, it includes a patio which will be surrounded by arches and columns and a tower at the back.

There will also be offices for student-body officers, graduate manager, athletic staff, a book store, postoffice, soda fountain and club rooms for students and faculty.

Construction will commence next Friday.

PARK MUSIC ARRANGED

Continuous music from 2 to 10 p.m. has been scheduled for Westlake Park Sunday. The Board of Park Commissioners present Paul Finstein and his concert orchestra, supported by the Volga Boys, eight Russian vocalists directed by Alexander Sashko. After 4 p.m. Harold Roberts and his Golden State Band will entertain and will be followed by Ernie Owens and his orchestra.

JURORS FAVOR TRIAL BY JURY

Twenty-four Members of Panel Answer Questionnaire by Judge Aggeler and Twenty Would Retain Plan; Qualification Issue Provokes Comment

Trial by jury should not be abolished, in the opinion of a large majority of the jurors in Judge Aggeler's court.

The question of doing away with the jury system was one of fourteen submitted by Judge Aggeler to twenty-seven members of his jury panel in an effort to gain the views of the jurors themselves on the efficiency of the juror system.

Twenty-four of the jurors returned the questionnaires submitted by Judge Aggeler, and of this number twenty favor retention of the jury system, while the remaining four voted against it.

Some of the jurors qualified their replies, one stating he does not believe the jury system efficient, but that it should be retained until some practical substitute can be evolved.

On other questions the vote likewise indicated the confidence of a majority of the veniremen in the jury system. One question that provoked comment read: "Is it true that juries are not fitted by experience to size up witnesses, to analyze their evidence based upon credibility, separate good evidence from bad, co-ordinate it, draw logical inferences from the good, and thus adequately realize the merits?"

Twenty-three of the panel voted on this question, ten replying in the affirmative with thirteen voting in the negative. This was the largest affirmative vote polled on any of the fourteen interrogatories.

EARLY FIESTA TO LIVE AGAIN

Old-Timers' Club Votes to Hold Annual Celebrations as in Days of Southland's Past

An annual city-wide fiesta and carnival to be held one week in May every year was planned last night at the organization meeting of the Old Timers' Society of Los Angeles at the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

The purpose of the fiesta and the society is to maintain the tradition and romance of the Southwest and transmit them to visitors and the younger generation residing in this city.

The program of the fiesta will be similar to the Fiesta de Los Angeles of 1894-5 and in every possible way will duplicate the social and athletic activities of those days. The new fiesta will be conducted on such a large scale, according to members of the Old-Timers' Society, that it will probably become as nationally famous as the Mardi Gras in New Orleans and carnivals in other places.

PRESIDENT ELECTED

Feasting, dancing, music, sports, bicycle races and other entertainment features of the old fiesta will be revived and the city will be decked in bright colors during the fiesta week, the first one of which will be in May, 1929.

L. E. Behymer, who had charge of ticket sales at the fiesta of the '90's, was elected president of the society. He appointed the nine members of the board of directors of the old fiesta present to serve with him as the nucleus of a committee to promote the tradition of a permanent yearly carnival. This group will appoint forty others, and the whole committee will have full charge and make all arrangements and plans.

The nine men are: Max Meyberg, director-general of the Fiesta de Los Angeles; R. F. Del Valle, former Sheriff William Hammel, Charles F. Lummis, M. H. Newmark, W. A. Spaulding, William G. Kerckoff, Frank Garbutt and James Mellis.

PROGRAM AND DINNER

About 100 men who resided in Los Angeles before 1895 subscribed their names to the list of charter members of the society last night. The membership register will be kept open until July 1, next, and all who have been living here for thirty years or more, regardless of whether they are club members, are eligible. Descendants of men who lived in Los Angeles more than thirty years ago also are eligible if they are 30 years of age.

The organization meeting started

by Harry Carr

IF THE Marine Corps can't make a better job of finding Gen. Sandino they had better come home.

From the status of a faintly hilarious incident, it is coming to the point where the prestige of the United States in all Latin countries is seriously affected.

THE BLOOMING OONT

C. J. Prudhomme, guide to visitors at the City Hall, reminds us that Los Angeles once had a camel corral where the Hollenbeck Hotel now stands.

The camels were brought over to be used on the Mojave Desert as pack animals. The real reason why "the blooming oont" failed to make good was not his fault, however. The government neglected to bring over native camel drivers from Arabia. The army mule drivers couldn't do a thing with them, the meanest mule that ever kicked the front out of a wagon being a sunny-tempered Pollyanna compared with the sweetest of camels.

As Kipling says . . . "he's a devil and an ostrich and an orphan child in one," . . . and "he smells most awful vile."

Old Gen. Beale of the Tejon Rancho succeeded in breaking two of them for carriage "horses," and used to drive into Los Angeles behind the strange team.

HOLLYWOOD ROMANCE

It may be all right; but I never can seem to feel romantic about these Hollywood betrothals.

The young lady with the engagement ring always tells the reporters that she has met her ideal; and they will be married just as soon as she shakes off the current husband.

To save time—also to add a piquant flavor—I should think it would be a swell idea to give some of these "showers" for prospective brides in the witness room of the divorce court.

HUNGRY ROYALTY

This young playwright, Robert Sherwood, makes all royal ermine smell of moth balls and cleaning fluid in his drama, "The Queen's Husband." It is, of course, based upon the marital, financial and publicity adventures of Queen Marie of Rumania.

On her American tour—where she tried to mooch free rides from railroads and wrote high-school girl pieces for the papers—that royal lady contrived to do more to make thrones totter than all the revolutions in the history of the world.

Yet in another way she was sociological insurance. From the bogey of cruel and tyrant oppressors, she showed royalty as threadbare and hungry. Next time the kings hear that Queen Marie is on the way to America it would be business for them to persuade her to stay at home; and pass around the hat for her.

THE HOOCHIE KOOCHIE

The "hoochie koochie" dance, which supplied one of the odors of the Chicago world's fair, has been censored out of a film in New York—as too tough.

It isn't true, however, that we thought it O.K. in the 'nineties. But the idea of censorship hadn't grown up then. This is one of the reminders that we have about twenty times as much government now.

In those days a bare-legged girl in a theater would have caused a public mass meeting, but they had hoochie koochies in the side shows.

COUNCIL TO HEAR PLAINTS

Investigation in Cremation of Wrong Woman's Body Ordered by District Attorney

GRAND JURY TO TAKE UP CASE

Presentation of Facts Slated for Next Monday

Action Result of Complaint Made by Widower

General Hospital Steward Explains Mistake

A grand-jury investigation of the circumstances surrounding the cremation of Flora Belle Phillips, who died at the General Hospital last Tuesday and whose body was mistakenly cremated for those of Clara Cole Bell, was ordered yesterday by the District Attorney's office.

The order for the investigation follows a complaint by Otto R. Phillips, husband of the deceased woman, who lives at 2105 East Ninety-second street, prepared by his attorney, Oscar E. Winburn. The jury will hear the facts Monday, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Eagan announces.

In a statement to the District Attorney, Phillips says that his wife, ill with asthma, was examined Monday by the family physician, Dr. A. L. Snyder, 10125 Beach street, and ordered to the hospital. She entered the county institution Tuesday about noon and died less than seven hours later.

MISTAKE DISCOVERED

Phillips says he sent an undertaker for his wife's body Wednesday and the discovery was made that the body had been cremated in the county crematory. He protested, he says, to the hospital authorities, who admitted the mistake, and gave him the urn containing his late wife's ashes.

Fred W. Fuller, steward and assistant superintendant of the General Hospital, says that Ambulance Driver Clendening and Attendant Krueger were sent to the morgue to take the remains of Clara Cole Bell, a former inmate of the County Farm, to the crematory.

The driver and attendant, Mr. Fuller says, apparently became confused in the tags on the remains of Clara Cole Bell and Flora Bell Phillips and took the latter to the crematory where it was placed n the retort and reduced to ashes.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

With the investigation yesterday County Superintendent of Charities Holland issued instructions intended to prevent such a mistake in the future. A strong envelope bearing identification data and the permit to inter will be placed on all bodies and careful comparison of the data will be made at the crematory before placing the body in the retort.

A death certificate in the case was signed by one of the staff physicians at the hospital, following an operation to determine the cause of death.

It is proposed to carry the project through to completion by units. Funds for the work will come from what is known as the 9-cent levy, $200,000 of which has been set aside for the project. Another $50,000 for the Mulholland High Way bridge already has been set aside. According to reports, the county also will help to pay for the project.

The report is expected to be laid before the City Council immediately.

one of these big planes is so simple and comfortable that it is difficult to gee excited except over the perfection of the flight and the beauty of the scenery.

"The transcontinental tour these planes have just completed, flying from Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., where they were manufactured, to California, has demonstrated that the people of all the nation are keenly interested in the possibilities of commercial aviation. California now is to give commercial aviation the best test ever proposed, and we are certain it is going to prove a complete success."

Warehousemen End Convention

The eighth annual convention of the California Warehouse Men's Association concluded last night 'th a banquet at the Alexandria. Officers were elected as follows. Merle E. Turner, president; Henry F. ..uler, San Francisco; treasurer, ..nd Leon A. Bailey, San Francisco, secretary-manager. District vice-presidents chosen are W. H. Dillon and A. T. Gibson, San Francisco; E. B. Gould, San Diego; W. E. Hibbitt, Sacramento, and Alvin Turner, Modesto.

The fact was brought out at the convention that the Railroad Commission of California has authority to exercise rate regulation in the cases of warehouses and it was intimated that where cut rates operate at a loss the Railroad Commission will be asked to give a ruling.

The convention of the national organization, known as the American Warehousemen's Association, will be held at Del Monte next January.

THEFT SUSPECT TAKEN

Jack Chronister, 34 years of age, implicated by Florian Furnell, 28, in the asserted theft of $800 worth of sewing machines from Dolliver & Brothers, 1134 South Main street, was apprehended by police yesterday at 6030 South Central avenue. Furnell was arrested Thursday night and both are booked on suspicion of grand theft.

HOME FROM HONEYMOON ISLE

Voyagers Saw Fleet in Maneuvers

Mr. and Mrs. C. Quinn Brady

HOME from a month's honeymoon in Hawaii, Mr. and Mrs. C. Quinn Brady were arrivals on the Lasco liner City of Honolulu yesterday. Mrs. Brady perhaps is better known as the former Ruth Dockweiler, daughter of Isidore B. Dockweiler, Democratic National Committeeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady headed a large contingent of newlyweds who made the round voyage to the islands on the big liner. In addition to the usual attractions of the "cross roads of the Pacific," this party of visitors had the opportunity of watching the 200 ships of the battle fleet in action in the present maneuvers off Hawaii.

DISMISSAL OF HOLD-UP CASE ASKED

Counsel for Five Accused of Robbing Messengers Seek Halting of Trial

Motion for the dismissal of robbery charges against five men accused of the $30,000 hold-up last March of two Pacific National Bank messengers was made yesterday in Judge Edmond's court by counsel for the defendants.

The motion was the first defense move following the completion of the State's case. Those charged with the robbery are Arthur Clensey, Horace Miles, William Woods, Malcolm Jones and Julius Becker. Stanley Visel, of counsel for the defendants, argued in support of the motion to dismiss that the State had not produced sufficient testimony to warrant the case going to the jury. Judge Edmonds took the motion under advisement and will rule on it Monday.

The defendants are accused of robbing the bank messengers while the latter were transporting a large sum of money from the bank's downtown offices to the Hollenbeck Heights branch.

Witnesses Tell Story of Crash of Death-Flyer

Carroll Crossan, Venice aviator, landed with a "dead stick" the day his plane is said to have crashed into the surf at Venice, killing two girls who were bathing at the time. This was the gist of testimony given yesterday in Judge Wilson's court, where Crossan is being tried for the third time on two counts of manslaughter.

Three witnesses testified the plane appeared to be "dead" at the time it passed over a Venice pier and that the flyer was making an apparent effort to land. The defense contends the accident which cost the lives of Letizia Normandin and Jeanette Kupfer was unavoidable, while the State is seeking to show Crossan was guilty of negligence in his asserted habit of flying low over a heavily populated district.

Crossan was convicted at his last trial, but the case was reversed on appeal. The present trial will be resumed Monday.

Mother Accused of Killing Own Infant Cleared

Mrs. Maria Ybarra of Pacoima yesterday was acquitted in Judge Aggeler's court of a charge of murdering her 22-months-old daughter Juana. The jury deliberated an hour in reaching its verdict.

It was charged Mrs. Ybarra disliked the child and killed her by throwing her to the floor. Mrs. Ybarra declared the child suffered bruises in a fall and died the next day.

GAS COMPANY PLANS SERVICE EXTENSIONS

Parris, March Field and two manufacturers of clay products in the hills west of Lake Elsinore are to be supplied with natural gas, according to a statement issued today by President A. B. MacBeth of the Southern California Gas Company. This is an extension of the Southern California Gas Company's system in Riverside and San Bernardino counties where the concern already serves Riverside, San Bernardino, Redlands, Colton, Corona and other towns.

BROTHERS SOUGHT

Two brothers were being sought yesterday by police who wish to inform them their father is dead in Wichita, Kan. The brothers are Jack and Robert Holwanger. Wichita authorities asked that the sons, who are believed to be in Southern California, be notified.

SUSPECT IN EMBEZZLING CASE TAKEN

Former Officer of Valve Concern Reported Under Arrest in Bay City

Frank W. Richards, former secretary and treasurer of the Brown Valve Manufacturing Company of Alhambra was arrested yesterday in San Francisco charged with embezzling $10,000 of the company funds, on a complaint signed by V. W. Bailey, president, according to dispatches.

Richards is quoted as saying there is no foundation for the charge against him.

"I quit after I had urged the board of directors to liquidate and pay the debts of the company," he said. "They refused to do so and I resigned."

Bailey was out of twon last night, but at his offices it was stated Richards had left his employ two weeks ago.

City Safeguards in Assessing for Streets Planned

In accordance with the policy of tax education, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the City Council now is considering adopting new regulations prohibiting certain streets from being "railroaded" into an assessment district by a majority on other streets where conditions might be different.

This marks another step in the chamber's attempt to educate the public in the difference between taxes and assessments. Under this plan the procedure is to have a different petition for each street so that particular cases may be considered. When two property owners file a preliminary petition for improvements—the request will be checked thoroughly before the general petition is issued.

Harold Janss is chairman of the real estate, city and county planning commission of the chamber which has been active in endeavoring to protect property owners from the special-assessment evil.

ALL-NIGHT FISHING AT HERMOSA BEACH

HERMOSA BEACH, May 28.—With ocean fishing conditions here never better than at this time both from the pier, on the live-bait boats and the big Olympic barges anchored offshore those caring for the patronage are putting in many hours overtime and bending every effort to take care of the hundreds of anglers coming to this fishing resort in quest of the finny tribe. Capt. Andersen of the Olympic barges reports that he will not only run double-boat service to and from his barges to take care of the week-end visitors, but in addition, will operate all-night service to his barges every aSturday night as well as on next Tuesday night as night fishing is also extra good at this time and this accommodation will please those who cannot take advantage of the good fishing during the day.

LIBRARY TO CLOSE

All branches of the Public Library will be closed on Memorial Day, Wednesday, and only the history, sociology, science, periodical and newspaper rooms of the main library will be open that day. These are to be available from 1 to 9 p.m. for reference and reading only, books not being exchanged.

CITY JAIL BEEF TAKES TUMBLE

New Quarterly Order Given at Lower Prices

Cost $5.50 Hundredweight Less Than in March

Ex-Commissioner's Company Fails to Make Bid

Cost of steer chuck beef for the City Jail inmates yesterday showed a marked drop under the price paid three months ago. Bids were presented at a special meeting of the Police Commission for a supply to cover requirements until the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

The price paid under former contracts to the Wreden Packing and Provision Company, whose general manager, N. Rodney Webster, resigned recently from the Police Commission, was $17.50 a hundred pounds.

The low bidder yesterday was the Hauser Packing Company, which offered to supply steer chuck beef at $12 a hundredweight, a saving to the city of $5.50 on every hundred pounds under the price three months ago.

This was the lowest price for jail meat since the first quarter of the fiscal year 1926-1927, when the contract price was $9.50 a hundred pounds. In the second quarter of that year the price went up to $13.25, then to $14.65, back to $13.50, then to $15.10 and then up to $17.50, where it remained. The Wreden Packing and Provision Company obtained the contract each time. Where formerly there were seldom more than three bidders, yesterday the number totaled six, the Wreden Packing and Provision Company not presenting a bid.

VARIETY ORDERED

The amount of the contract on steer chuck beef yesterday was for but 7500 pounds, due to the fact that the amount formed but a quarter of the order, which provided also for 7500 pounds each of mutton shoulder, pork and corned beef. This means a total of 30,000 pounds of meat for City Jail prisoners for the month of June, compared to an average of 80,000 pounds of steer chuck beef quarterly asked on previous bids. So, in addition to cheaper beef, the prisoners get more variety under the new order.

The order for the meat was presented by Chief Jailer Shand and the commissioners approved the low bid of the Hauser Packing Company and communicated this fact to City Purchasing Agent Houghton.

The bids on the 30,000 pounds of meat follow:

Hauser Packing Company, $3900; Young Market Company, $4537.50; Woodward Bennett, $4442.50; Allen Hotel and Supply Company, $4577; Wilson and Company, $4342.50, and Cudahy Packing Company, $5857.50.

JACOBSON WANTS CLEAN-UP

At yesterday's Council session, Councilman Jacobson called attention to the case of former Police Commissioner Webster and said that "at least Webster showed he was a gentleman and resigned" when the Police Commission purchases of meat from Webster's packing company were declared illegal.

The Councilman said the City Attorney's decision in the case of Fire Commissioner Laws set forth that the fire department transactions with Laws's wheel company could be set aside by the City Council if the Council desired to do so.

"We should have a housecleaning of these commissioners who may be transacting personal business with the city," said Councilman Jacobson. "We should find out just what commissioners are doing this and then either decide to let them go on making money or order a housecleaning."

The Council told Jacobson to be more specific about what he was talking and what he proposed should be done, so Jacobson said that he would present a resolution to the Council on the subject next Monday.

Officer Loses Badge Pending Battery Trial

Stripped of his badge as a special officer of the City Humane Department, Russell G Coon, 32 years of age, was arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Sheldon for making advances toward a University of California co-ed, 18 years of age, whom he is asserted to have stopped on the pretext she was speeding.

Chief Deputy City Prosecutor Concannon issued a complaint charging Coon with battery after a two-day investigation by Chief Investigator Vail. Coon was arrested by Chief Vail in the City Prosecutor's office and taken immediately into court where he denied the accusation and asked for a court trial. The hearing was set for June 7 and bail fixed at $500.

Rodney Robeson, general manager of the City Humane Department, suspended Coon pending outcome of the trial. Coon has been connected with the department four years.

Tax Forgetters Work Overtime

More than 10,000 Southern Californians "forgot" to file their 1927 income-tax returns, according to announcement made yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Welch who has assigned a large number of deputy collectors to serve notices on delinquent taxpayers. After June 1 penalties for delinquent taxpayers will 'ncrease, Mr. Welch added.

CLUB PLANS OUTING

July Fourth will be celebrated by the 233 Club this year. It is expected that fully a thousand members and their families will attend. A committee consisting of Charles Eng and Louis Chaudet has been appointed to select a location.

FIFTY-YEAR ALUMNUS TO BE HONORED

Graduate of First Class at Los Angeles High Will Attend Reunion Dinner

Fifty years ago Los Angeles High School opened its doors to the students who were to become its first graduates. Only one of these, Abraham Edelman, now is living, and he has been invited to take part in the annual alumni dinner and reunion at the school, next Saturday at 6 p.m.

The custom of an annual celebration to bring together former students of Los Angeles High School was established two years ago. This year the dinner and program have a special significance, the observance of the fiftieth anniversary.

Each year the honored classes are those celebrating their fiftieth, twenty-fifth, tenth and fifth anniversaries. Those to be especially honored this year are the students who were members of the classes of 1878, 1903, 1918 and 1923.

Following the banquet there will be a bonfire on the athletic field, music, stunts and informal entertainment around the bonfire with opportunity for gossip with old friends.

Many of the former teachers have promised to attend, among them being Mrs. Margaret Fricke, Miss Gertrude Henderson and others who have kept their contact with the school.

The school is at 4600 Country Club Drive, three blocks south of Wilshire Boulevard at the corner of Rimpau. Reservations for dinner should be mailed to Los Angeles High School and marked alumni banquet. All former students are urged to notify former alumni since no personal notices are being sent out.

LAND AGENT MUST FACE FRAUD SUIT

Man Who Tried Suicide to be Formally Charged With Defalcation

After reviewing reports of the arresting officers and company officials, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Oliver yesterday ordered a complaint drawn up against Edward E. Sweeney, land and tax agent for the Southern California Gas Company, for asserted defalcation of company funds.

Sweeney is being held in the County Jail, where he is under special guard following his attempt at suicide two days ago.

The investigating officers checked up on Sweeney's financial activities to establish grounds on which the complaint might be based. He has steadfastly refused to talk, further than to insist that he is innocent of any wrongdoing. Deputy Sheriffs Kelly and Shaefer announced that they were continuing their investigation of Sweeney's social activities in an effort to uncover a motive for his asserted manipulations of funds.

WOMEN'S CLUBS TO HOLD MEET

Convention Will Confer as to Reapportionment Action of State Body

Intense interest which has been manifested since the failure of the Los Angeles district of the California Federation of Women's Clubs to obtain a reapportionment at the recent convention in San Diego will culminate June 22 with an all-day convention to be conducted in the Shakespeare clubhouse in Pasadena.

The call, issued during the week, was signed by Mrs. William Waller Slayden, president of the Los Angeles district. Purposes of the meeting as set forth in the pamphlet are "to consider what the decision on revision of the State convention will mean to the future of Los Angeles district, and to complete preparations for the incorporation of the district headquarters at 2108 South Hobart Boulevard, which the change in the number of directors will make necessary."

All presidents of clubs in the district federation have received letters reviewing the situation. Mrs. Slayden said yesterday afternoon that Mrs. W. W. Green, State president, probably will attend.

Officer Robbed by Bandit Pair

Deputies under Sheriff Traeger yesterday assisted the police department in a search for two bandits who Thursday night held up H. W. Mack, a Los Angeles police officer, and robbed him of a diamond ring valued at $900 and $49 in cash.

According to the report made by Mack two men drove up alongside his car and crowded him to the curb while one covered him with a gun.

FUNERAL SERVICE DETAILS ARRANGED

Funeral services for Mrs. Sally Maynard Wolcott, 76 years of age, who died the 23rd inst., in her home at 5914 Towne avenue, will be conducted Monday at 2 p.m. in Garrett Brothers' mortuary, with burial in Inglewood Cemetery. Mrs. Wolcott leaves her husband, Pearly E. Wilcott; six daughters, Mrs. Beulah Bell, Mrs. Susan Quinn, Mrs. Nellie Pickins, Mrs. Alice Priefert, Mrs. Chastina Griswold and Mrs. Geraldine Allyn, and two sons, William P. and Henry H. Wolcott.

MUSICIAN OF NOTE TO BECOME BRIDE

Curtyne Englar

SINGER AND FILM MAN TO WED IN JUNE

Miss Curtyne Englar and Albert Raboch, Director, Post Marriage Bans

AL RABOCH

Miss Curtyne Mohr Englar, former Metropolitan Grand Opera singer and music teacher, and Albert Raboch, film director, applied for a marriage license yesterday.

The couple announced June 3 as the date for the wedding when they filed their notice of intention to marry at the County Clerk's office.

Miss Englar said she and Raboch, a Tiffany-Stahl director, are planning a quiet ceremony. They have not made definite plans for a honeymoon trip.

The wedding date was fixed to give Raboch time to complete his current picture featuring Walter Hagen. The couple probably will be married at some quiet place in the county outside of Los Angeles, they said.

OWNERS PLAN TO WATCH COUNCIL

IN ENEMY HANDS

The tour of the Councilmen was conducted by Bell and Sam W. Traylor, chairman of the board of directors of the Traylor Engineering and Manufacturing Company of Allentown, Pa., chiefly interested in the construction of the plant.

The Councilmen were told by their guides that the limestone deposit in the Santa Monica Mountains was the finest yet discovered and would mill 96 to 98 per cent pure lime. Trayor estimated the total deposit at 100,000,000 tons.

ZONING SOUGHT

The company is asking for industrial zoning of 500 acres in Santa Ynez Canyon for rock quarries and ninety acres in the adjoin- Las Pulgas Canyon, within a halm mile of Beverly Boulevard, on which the company proposes to locate a cemen: mill with a capacity of 2500 barrels a day and other industries. The rock would be carried from the quarries to the mills by means of aerial tramways on the mountains.

The city of Beverly Hills, Los Angeles Realty Board, Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, Santa Monica City Planning Commission and other organizations have filed protests at the City Hall.

Woman Gives $1000 a Year for Bowl Music

Miss Katherine Yarnell, descendant of one of California's oldest families, has donated $1000 a year for the next five years to be paid to the winner of Hollywood Bowl's annual music composition contest, it was announced yesterday by General Manager Brite of the Bowl.

Manuscripts were received from all paris of the country in last year's event, which closed March 1, last, and the name of the winner will be made public soon, Brite added. Only one of the twenty-five overtures submitted was disqualified because of failure to observe all competition rules. The winning composition is to be played during the summer by one of the eight visiting guest conductors.

Judges appointed for the contest include Dr. Arthur Rodzinsky of Philadelphia, Eugene Goosens of Rochester, N. Y., and London, and Henri Verbrugghen, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony.

PARKING LIMIT ASKED

The Westgate Building Corporation yesterday asked the City Council to limit parking of vehicles to one hour on Pico street from Vermont avenue to Berendo street.

TAX UNITS HOLD STUDY SESSION

State Special Assessment Laws Analyzed

Resolution of Intention Gets Special Scrutiny

Conference Takes Place at Young's Motion

The California Taxpayers' Association at the instance of Gov. Young yesterday discussed State special assessment laws with representatives of thirty-five leading California organizations at the association headquarters.

Particular interest was displayed in the discussion of the resolution of intention and what should be included therein. It is charged that in the resolutions sent to taxpayers notifying them of improvements, insufficient information of specific improvement is included. What should be included will be considered at a later meeting.

Centralized collection of assessments was also discussed at length. The many special assessments which call for different places of payment work a hardship on the taxpayer, it was decided, and plans for a more centralized means of payment will be included in the association's recommendation to the next State Legislature.

INEQUITIES DISCUSSED

Seventeen questions were discussed at the special-assessments conference which dealt with inequitable features of the law, annoying penalties and unbusinesslike and unsatisfactory provisions.

The purpose of the conference is to discover the problems arising out of the special-assessment laws, provide for adequate survey and study of each problem and recommend the necessary changes or modifications at the next Legislature. The recommendations will be made by the Taxpayers' Association with the backing of participating organizations.

H. A. Payne, County Auditor; Ned Powell, City Treasurer, and Col. W. O. Welsh, County Tax Collector, took part in the discussion, with Joy A. Wimans of the Taxpayers' Association presiding.

ORGANIZATIONS UNITED

The following organizations were represented at the special-assessments conference:

Los Angeles Section of American Society of Civil Engineers, Automobile Club of Southern California, Builders' Exchange, California Bankers' Association, California Development Association, California Farm Bureau Federation, California Newspaper Publishers' Association, California Press Association, California Real Estate Association, California Street Bond Dealers' Association, California Tax Commission, County Auditors' Association, County Supervisors' Association, Investment Bankers' Association, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Municipal League, National Auto Club, Surety Underwriters' Association of Southern California, Tax Collectors' Association, Traffic Commission of Los Angeles City and County, California League of Municipalities, Associated General Contractors, Affiliated Improvement Association and California Taxpayers' Association.

RICH WIFE'S SUIT FOUGHT BY HUSBAND

Reputed Gotham Society Leader Denies Cruelty in Opposing Divorce

Kenneth G. McClurg, reputed to be a member of New York's 400, took the witness stand yesterday at the hearing of the divorce case brought by his wealthy wife, Mrs. Lillian Sanford McClurg on the ground of cruelty and denied the charges.

At the close of the hearing Judge Turney continued the case until Monday. McClurg has filed a cross-complaint.

In her testimony the wife asserted that her husband began borrowing money from her the day after their marriage; that he spent large sums and also that he associated with other women.

James L. Forstner, private detective, on behalf of Mrs. McClurg testified that between March 1 and April 1, 1927, he saw McClurg in company with Margaret Clark, the woman Mrs. McClurg names and who in turn has filed a $100,000 slander suit against the wife.

Walter C. McClurg, 17 years of age, son of the couple, testified for his mother, telling the court that his father beat him.

EARLY FIESTAS TO BE REVIVED

with a Spanish dinner at which Mr. Lummis, Mr. Newmark, Mr. Meyberg and Mr. Hammel, who were described as old-timers, spoke briefly. The meeting was adjourned to the gymnasium, where pictures of Los Angeles between 1830 and 1886 were shown by Arthur Ellis. D. W. Longyear exhibited pictures of his recent good-will trip from Mitchell Field to Los Angeles in one of the Western Air Express airplanes.

A program of Spanish music and dancing was given after Mr. Behymer was elected president. He announced that various committees will be appointed and set to work within two days on the furtherance of plans for the fiesta.

TWO OUTSIDE JUSTICES TO SIT IN CITY COURTS

Temporary assignment of Justice of the Peace Newmeyer of Tujunga to Division Five of the Municipal Court was announced yesterday by Presiding Judge Chambers. Justice Newmeyer, who has been sitting in the Municipal Court for the last two months, will take over the bench of Municipal Judge Leonard Wilson, who will begin his vacation. Justice of the Peace Marchant of Hermosa Beach also has been assigned to the city courts, Judge Chambers stated. Judge Marchant will sit in Division Eighteen.

WIFE'S SUIT SEEKS SUM OF 'IN-LAWS'

Mrs. Pearl Marshall Says Wealthy Pair Alienated Husband's Affection

Charging her wealthy parents-in-law with alienating the affections of her husband, Mrs. Pearl Marshall yesterday filed suit in Superior Court for $300,000 damages against Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marshall of Beverly Hills. E. J. Marshall is said to be head of the Marshall Corporation, ranch operators, and to be worth approximately $40,000,000.

The husband is Marcus M. Marshall, who is reputed by his wife to be worth $3,000,000 in his own right. The younger Marshalls recently appeared before Judge Yankwich in a separate maintenance action, and young Marshall declared at that time his sole holdings consisted of a position paying $500 a month and one share of stock in the Marshall Corporation. He was ordered to pay $100 a week for the support of his wife and two children.

The complaint filed yesterday does not go into the details of the asserted estrangement, except to charge the defendants with "willfully and maliciously" enticing their son away from his wife. It is further stated the young couple lived happily together until their separation March 27, last.

The younger Marshalls have two children, Annette, 5 years of age, and Marcia, 3.

Attorney Richard Kittrelle filed the complaint.

Loeb Demands Investigation in Spurlin Affair

Complaint against De Kalb Spurlin, at one time head of a Julian stockholders' committee, asking that an investigation be made of certain phases of the committee work, was made yesterday to City Prosecutor Lickley by A. M. Loeb, who lost the sight of one eye during a row last summer in the committee's offices.

At the City Prosecutor's office yesterday it was stated no action had been taken as the matter had not been investigated completely.

Spurlin and Loeb had an encounter Monday in the Hall of Justice, where Loeb had gone to protest against the parole of H. J. Kimmerle, formerly associated with Spurlin. Kimmerle was convicted last fall of felonious assault on Loeb.

Sisters Blame Forgery Career on 'Dope' Pills

Dollie and Renee Larkin, sisters formerly engaged as motion-picture extras, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery when taken before Superior Judge Edmonds and were granted permission to file an application for probation, to be heard June 14. At that time the court also will dispose of four other charges of forgery against the defendants.

The girls blame their predicament upon "kick" pills which they took. They declare they did not know what they were doing when they attempted to cash a forged check at a Beverly Hills drug store.

Rives Acquitted in Traffic Case

E. L. Rives, candidate for the Superior Court bench, was found not guilty of driving thirty-five miles an hour in a twenty-mile zone by a jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court yesterday. The verdict was returned after three and one-half hours' deliberation.

Rives, who is a son of the late Probate Judge James C. Rives, was accused of speeding on Santa Monica Boulevard March 13, last. Attorney Fogelson defended him, testifying that there are no signs displayed in the neighborhood relative to speed limits.

AUTO BANDITS ROB VICTIM NEAR HOME

Held up by two bandits, one of whom drove an automobile in which they escaped, Paul A. Wolf of 1425 North Mansfield avenue, was robbed of $105 in cash yesterday afternoon. The hold-up took place as Wolf stepped from the door of his home.

New Explosive Proves Most Deadly

Experiments Show Power

Lieut.-Col. L. M. Adams and Capt. H. R. Zimmer, inventor of new radium-atomite, placing test charges in tanks at California Institute of Technology.

RADIUM-ATOMITE TRIED OUT

Tests at Caltech Expected to Result in Use of Local Invention in Warfare

PASADENA, May 25.—Radium-atomite, a new explosive invented by Capt. H. R. Zimmer of Los Angeles, may be used exclusively in future warfare, it was indicated today following the third test of the secret compound which was held on the California Institute of Technology campus.

Three heavy lead jars were used in the experiment which was supervised by Lieut.-Col. L. M. Adams, professor of military science at the institute. An ounce of the radium-atomite was placed in one jar, an ounce of T.N.T. was placed in the second jar, and the same quantity of 80 per cent gelatin dynamite—the strongest commercial explosion known heretofore—was placed in the third container. The relative strength of the three explosives was determined by measuring the increased size of the cavities in the lead jars caused by the force of the blast.

The enlargement of the cavity caused by the radium-atomite was found to be 30 per cent greater than that caused by the T.N.T. and 15 per cent larger than that caused by the 80 per cent dynamite.

The experiments were observed by representatives from two large powder concerns and by the institute reserve officers' training corps.

Capt. Zimmer, former army officer, refused to allow institute scientists to analyze the radium-atomite compound as he believes the United States War Department may wish to keep the knowledge of the ingredient secret. The inventor declared that the new explosive is cheaper to manufacture than any other blasting medium, that it is safe to handle and gives off no poisonous gases. He admitted that radium is an important factor in his discovery.

CAR-THEFT SUSPECT ARRESTED IN NORTH

Mel Keneally, 26 years of age, former racing driver who is accused of taking an automobile from a wash rack at Bronson avenue and Sunset Boulevard a few days ago, is in custody at San Jose, advices received last night say. Detective Lieutenants Clark and Dickey made the arrest, and are bringing Keneally back to Los Angeles to stand trial on a charge of grand theft.

LAST RITES OF PIONEER ARRANGED

Funeral Services Will be Conducted Next Monday for Julius Hauser

Funeral services for Julius Hauser, pioneer business man of Los Angeles and president of the Hauser Packing Company, who died Friday, will be conducted at 2 p.m., Monday, from the family residence, 5205 West Washington street.

The services will be in charge of Rev. Robert J. Coyne of Globe, Ariz., assisted by members of Elks' Lodge No. 99. The body will be cremated at Forest Lawn Cemetery with services under the auspices of the Hollenbeck Masonic Lodge No. 319.

Mr. Hauser, who was 82 years of age, died at 5 p.m., Friday, at the family home following an illness of about a year. He was born in Krozingen, Germany, coming to the United States in 1876 and Los Angeles in 1882. At the time of his death he headed the Hauser Packing Company, the Hauser Estate Company and the Hauser Stock Farms.

Life-long friends and close business associates will act as honorary pall bearers. They are:

Antone Barthe, J. M. Elliott, Henry M. Robinson, Frank P. Flint, Paul Shoup, Harry Chandler, Isidore B. Dockweiler, John C. Austin, Milo Baker, Frank Barnham, E. T. Shrine Auction to be Tonight

Assisted by officials of Al Malaikah Temple, motion picture stars and art connoisseurs from various parts of Southern California, Potentate Kenneth Gillette will officially open the Shrine benefit auction tonight which brings to an end the Home Beautiful Exposition.

The auction is designed to raise additional funds for the entertainment of Nobles coming here in 1929 for the Shrine national convention.

Fire Destroys Garage Group

Fire of undertermined origin destroyed six small garages belonging to an apartment-house at 972 El Centro avenue late yesterday.

The exterior of the house was damaged slightly, the total loss being estimated at $1000 by Fred Ratsch of Pasadena, owner of the property.

IMPROVEMENT ORDERED

The improvement of Clyde avenue from Adams street to Smiley Drive was ordered by the City Council yesterday, no protests having been filed.

FORTY SIGN TO ATTEND $200 DINNER

Success of Loyola Fund Feast Pledged by Group at Biltmore Luncheon

At a luncheon meeting held at the Biltmore yesterday more than forty prominent citizens of Los Angeles pledged themselves to the success of the $200-a-plate dinner to be given next Thursday to raise funds for the addition of a new science building to Loyola University.

The meeting was held under the auspices of Father Joseph Sullivan, president of the university. Men of all religious denominations attended and promised, in addition to their attendance at the dinner, to contact thirty other persons each. More than 350 of the 1000 plates to be sold for the dinner, which is to be held at the Ambassador, have been signed for.

"The fact that many non-Catholics have come to our assistance," Father Sullivan said, "is pleasing because it demonstrates the high regard in which our school is held."

Among those who have bought the $200 plates are Alex T. Sokolow, Joseph M. Schenck, John W. Considine, Jr., Marco Hellman, Joseph Scott, Harry Culver, Victor Rossetti, Charles J. O'Hara, Harry Chandler, Edwin L. Doheny, Dan Murphy, Lee Philips, Eugene McLaughlin, Robert Chambers, Edward A. Dickson, Neil McCarthy, James Martin, Thomas Oakey, Dave Rice, Father C. G. Fox, Father Edward Ryan and Father Sullivan.

CELESTIAL RUM GOES IN GUTTER

Deputies and Dry Official Destroy 1800 Bottles of Imported Ng Ka Py

Right within the shadow of Chinatown yesterday deputy United States marshals and a representative of the prohibition administrator destroyed 1800 bottles of Ng Ka Py, strong Chinese whisky.

The unusual sight and the more unusual odor attracted a large crowd when Deputy United States Marshals Rice and Mangerina and Earl G. Ulrich, custodian of the government prohibition warehouse, at Commercial and San Pedro streets, began the breaking of the 1800 bottles of Ng Ka Py.

The liquor was ordered destroyed by the United States District Court because of having been imported into the United States in violation of the National Tariff Act. It was one of the largest shipments of that kind of liquor destroyed in Los Angeles.

Actress Visits on World Tour

Betty Ross Clark, former film player, returned to the scene of her film triumph after a five-year trip around the world when she arrived at the harbor yesterday aboard the Lassco liner City of Honolulu.

BETTY ROSS CLARK

The actress, whose screen career will be remembered from "The Traveling Salesman," "Brewster's Millions" and others, has completely encircled the globe during her absence. She starred in "The House of Glass" in London and then went to Australia, where she played for a year and a half in "Tarnish," "The Ghost Train" and "The Bride."

Miss Clark's mother is a Los Angeles resident and it is to visit her that she has returned.

RELATIONS COUNCIL PREPARES PROGRAM

The Council on International Relations offers its members and friends an opportunity to become acquainted with the work of various international good-will organizations through a dinner and program to be given at the Windsor Tea Room in the Brack-Shops at 6:30 p.m. on June 5. Speakers will include Armand S. Fitzer, retiring president of the Federation of High School International Clubs; C. E. Yerge, president of the Fellowship of Reconciliation; Mrs. Charles Richmond, representing the Federation of Women's Clubs; Elsie D. Newton, executive secretary of the International Institute; Paul B. Waterhouse, president of the Japan Society, and T. M. Plaisted of the world friendship committee of the Los Angeles city schools.

ELECTRIC STATION ERECTION STARTED

Construction work has begun by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation on the erection of a new electric substation No. 2, located at San Pedro street and Woodlawn avenue. Approximately $250,000 will be expended on the new structure, which will replace old substation No. 2 now in operation near the same location. The new structure will serve the growing needs of the southeastern section of the city. The new equipment will be in service about December 1.

There is no doubt but what the following suggestion will prove a happy one—here it is—Why not run down to San Clemente over the week-end and enjoy their glorious beach and the super-palatable food of Travaglini's San Clemente Cafe? You will be certain that such a trip is the best you ever had for San Clemente is just halfway between here and San Diego and, oh, my dears, what a truly delightful treat in the way of dinner awaits you! Food epicures rave over it; service all that one could wish for and atmosphere truly delightful—that's Travaglini's and it's worth many hours' travel to reach. Better go! If in town go to Travaglini's Roma Rotisserie and food shop—The address is 1801 W. 7th, corner Burlington.

Coffee stains on delicate silk or woolen goods may be removed by rubbing gently with pure glycerine, laying a pad of absorbent cotton underneath to prevent spreading; then rinse in lukewarm water, lay a cloth on the wrong side over the damp part and press with a cool iron until dry. Avoid wetting more of material than necessary.

Have you tried Jell-X-Cell in the wonderful mint flavor? Oh, but it's good and at this time of the year you will find it unusually refreshing . . . but then Jell-X-Cell is good in every flavor, is good and beneficial as well. Did you know that it is recommended by leading physicians and dieticians and that it is used in hospitals as a food that is body-building and conducive to proper functioning of the digestive organs? All these items are intensely interesting and "sell" you more than ever in the idea of using Jell-X-Cell a number of times a week—indeed once you taste it once a day is not often enough.

To make the serving of dessert easier the Jell-X-Cell Company have issued a free cookbook which will be given you free, all that is necessary for you to do is to write the Jell-X-Cell Company, 656 South Rio street, Los Angeles. They will be glad to mail you their book.

No dinner is quite complete without a salad, but it must be crisp, cold and dainty. Have salad the mainstay of luncheon every day. It is a habit—this eating of salads—a wholesome habit, too. And, besides, it is an easy thing to prepare. Nearly everyone likes them and gets a more and more decided taste for them if they are good. A substantial salad, good bread and butter, cocoa, tea or milk and a simple dessert—with sometimes a cup of hot soup to start with—and a delicious and wholesome lunch is prepared.

. . . and Fred came back for not a second but a third helping if you please, of Hughes Ice Cream all of which so pleased Louise that she secretly resolved to serve Hughes much more frequently in the future for wise Jane that she is she realizes that this is an ice cream among ice creams; made of rich, pure cream, fresh fruits and of such fine chocolate and vanilla all of which are beneficial to the greatest degree and make for good health certainly. Do hunt up your nearby Hughes dealer, too!

To soften hard water, stir one ounce of quicklime in four and one-half gallons of water; let it settle, then pour off the clear solution; this is enough for two barrels hard water.

Electrical refrigeration is the thing these days—Why no one wants to bother any more with the old method of refrigeration. Do you realize what it means to have an electrical ice box? Can you not visualize the liberty which is yours by virtue of the fact that your time is all yours—no waiting for the ice man to appear when an unexpected hot day arrives and finds an empty box; no more signs to hang out or floors to clean, which have been sadly tracked up by water. In short, it's simply wonderful what a joy such electrical refrigeration means. Of course, to fully appreciate the service given you must have a thorough demonstration and be made aware of the low cost of affording this most necessary convenience. Tell you what you do then: Go down in the basement of the Bureau of Power and Light at 2nd and Broadway and attend first of all the very worth-while cooking class held each Monday and Thursday, then afterward have an electrical ice box—no obligation whatsoever is attached. Indeed, it's a pleasure for them to show you how such appliances reduce your housework to a minimum and yet cost so little due to the very low electrical rates made possible by the Bureau of Power and Light.

Perhaps there are among my readers some new arrivals in this land of sunshine, who are not aware of a great treat which is in store for them—"What is this treat?" do you ask.—Why it is Guasti (pronounced Gwah-stee) cooking sherry and a treat it is!

Guasti cooking sherry makes roasts, steaks, chops, ham, white and brown sauces, soups and many other savory dishes take on a new interest, and for scalloped or creamed meats, crab, lobsters and oysters there is nothing more delicious than one or two tablespoonfuls added to a cupful of sauce!

Guasti cooking sherry is slightly salted—just enough to remove it from the beverage class, thus meeting with government requirements.

It's the Italian Vineyard Company whom we have to thank for giving us this splendid sherry—They as you perhaps know operate the oldest vineyard under one ownership in the world. They also issue one of the most remarkable recipe books known as "Treasured Flavors." In it you will find completed the finest recipes of famous chefs simplified for home use, so that you and I may use them with utmost ease.

Let me tell you how you may own one of these Treasured Flavors. Write to the Italian Vineyard Company, whose address is 1248 Palmetto street, Los Angeles. They will be glad to send one to you free of charge. Use it often and surprise your family with unusual dishes which you have made all alone with the assistance of Guasti Cooking Sherry.

Fruit Salad—Peel and slice one dozen bananas; peel one dozen oranges, removing pulp from each section; drain and slice one can of pineapple; peel and remove seeds from one-half pound of Malaga grapes. Combine the fruits, mix them with French dressing and serve on heart lettuce leaves.

If you have acquired an excess amount of weight, get rid of it in the easiest manner known—that is by eating Basy Bread for just one slice with your meals will do it, of that there's not the slightest doubt. Take this thought into consideration, too—Do you realize that you no longer have to diet and fast when eating Basy Bread to reduce? Not a bit of it, you may still enjoy all the things to eat you have long been abstaining from. Isn't this the best news in the world? Why don't you today go to the phone and call up Young's Market Co. at 7th and Union—DUnkirk 2201 is the number and let them send you a loaf—Be sure to get the free circular telling you how it is done.

Of course, its "good to the last drop"—is Maxwell House Coffee as no one doubts after the first satisfying cup will prove.

No only is the aroma intriguing but the taste is par excellent . . . and, my word, how the memory of it lingers on! Don't experiment with your coffee but be certain and order Maxwell House when you phone in your order for coffee today.

Hill's Garage on Spring between 4th and 5th is where you want to park your car while shopping or attending the theater, and I tell you a few of the "whys"—Do you realize the harm which is wrought by the sun to your paint job and top when you leave your automobile out of doors exposed to the elements for any length of time?—and the dust and dirt it accumulates in an outdoor parking space is positively disastrous! Compare these items with Hill's, which is clean and sheltered—an attendant to take your car as you step out of it and bring it to you when ready to leave—can't you see there is no comparison in the two and aren't you resolved to look up Hill's this very day when you journey downtown—It means an actual saving of many dollars in the long run.

What could be more delectable for luncheon these warm days than a crisp salad made of all kinds of fresh green vegetables such as tomatoes, cucumbers, string beans, radishes, little baby onions and all covered with a generous amount of Butt-R-Naise, the salad dressing which is so rich in vitamines—containing as it does pure creamery butter, egg yolks and lemon juice—Don't you know it's delicious and can't you visualize how good it will taste this summer as a sandwich spread for the picnic lunches which all Californians indulge in during the warm months.

Butt-R-Naise contains energy-giving ingredients; important minerals necessary for the building up of the body; valuable egg yolk protein muscle building material and it furnishes all the vitamines which protect your body from disease and ailments, so don't overlook putting down on your memo pad "2 jars of Butt-R-Naise without fail."

Haven't you tucked away some place a piece of silver which you treasure as a family heirloom and feign would use, but for the sad fact that such a piece is badly worn and in need of repairing? The Peerless Platers can repair this article and make it as good as new—and they won't charge a fortune, either. Look them up! 239½ S. Spring (upstairs.)

Are you enjoying all the banking facilities offered by the Woman's Banking Department on the 2nd floor of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association at 7th and Olive streets? You should often seek the advice of Miss Grace S. Stoermer, head of the Woman's Banking Department, on all matters pertaining to your financial problems. She is always happy to assist in every way possible and make your enjoyment of this department even greater.

The remove obstinate fruit stains, use oxalic acid in the proportion of three ounces to one pint of water; wet the stains with this solution and hold over the steam from a teakettle or place in the sun. When stain disappears rinse well instantly, and wet with ammonia to counteract the acid, rinsing well again in clear water.

Are you keeping plenty of iced London Dry on hand for emergencies of all kind? As an instance —when friends happen in of a warm afternoon and a game of bridge is formed don't worry over what to serve. Go to the ice box first and make sure you have enough London Dry Ginger Ale on hand then the rest is easy.

The reason we insist upon London Dry is because it is made from the highest, finest grade of Jamaica ginger obtainable, blended with utmost care with charged water thus giving it a flavor and aroma such as you find in rare old wines—the result is a ginger ale with a marvelous mellow dry, thirst-quenching power that every one—just every one is fond of.

You knew about the special home package of twelve bottles didn't you? If you call up your grocer he will be glad to send you such a carton. You will say this is the best buy you have made in ages. See if you don't!

To remove ice cream stains, sponge with chloroform or ether; when dry rub in powdered French chalk and leave overnight; then brush out.

EX-OFFICER SUSPECT IN CUSTODY IN TEXAS

John N. Wills, former local police officer who is wanted here on a number of charges, the most serious of which is forgery, is in the custody of Barstow (Tex.) authorities, according to advices from there received yesterday. Detective Lieutenant Acker of the Georgia-street division will leave for Texas today to take the ex-officer back to Los Angeles.

MAY DAYS OBSERVED

Concluding the series of twenty-one May festivals presented this month by various city playgrounds, the last two May Days will be presented today at 2:30 p.m. at Sawtelle Playground and Verdugo Playground. Dances, songs, pantomime and plays will feature with the crowning of the May Queens as the climax.

GIRL CHARGE LEADS TO JAIL

Scion of Well-Known Southland Family Faces Three Serious Accusations

Louis Biescar of 4413 San Andrea street, La Crescenta, was held in the City Jail last night following the charges of 18-year-old Yarmille Dushek of 4049 Somers avenue, that he had doped, attacked and then brutally beaten her. Complaints charging Biescar, who is a member of a prominent Southern California family, with three statutory offenses were issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson.

Biescar was held in the Highland Park jail until last night, when he was transferred to the central station. The girl is reported to be under the care of a doctor. The asserted offenses took place last Wednesday night.

YARMILLE DUSHEK

The Dushek girl was found lying on the front porch of her home by her father early Thursday morning. Her face had been terribly bruised. An X-ray picture is to be made to determine if she suffered fractured ribs.

According to the girl's story she and a girl friend met Biescar Wednesday and he took them to his home, situated in a secluded hillside spot. She says she was doped with a drink of wine given her by Biescar and later attacked and beaten.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Dushek, appeared at the District Attorney's office to report the affair.

Today's Bible Text

Remember me, O Lord, with the favour that Thou bearest unto Thy people: O visit me with Thy salvation. Psalm cvi:4.

THEY COME HIGH

Hereafter London policemen must be at least six feet high. The English want their cops to be something to look up to.

DANGER SIGNALS

Motorists declare that the present fashion of wearing light-colored stockings and short skirts saves more lives than the safety zone signals. Some people always have good eyes for what they want to see.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

Japan bought more than 100,000,000 pounds of rice of Uncle Sam last year. And rice is something that they don't shoot back at you. While we are trading rice for silk it is hard to start a quarrel.

CULTURAL EVOLUTION

The fact that local art and music, as well as cabbages, bungalows, oranges and oil, are to have their place in the sun at the coming Pacific Southwest Exposition, argues that we are becoming a cultural community.

A HUMBO HUMBUG

London is said to be learning a new dance called Humbo as fast as young Americans, over for the season, can teach it. The dance is described by the Manchester Guardian, which says that "New York now dances nothing else." There must be something wrong somewhere, for New Yorkers say they never heard of Humbo.

HOPEFUL FISHERMEN

Speaking of fishermen, among whose ranks he is to be counted, Herbert Hoover said recently: "No one can catch fish in excitement, anger or malice. The fisherman is by nature possessed of faith, hope and optimism or he would not fish." Mr. Hoover did not seize the opportunity to remark that the same might be said of Presidential candidates.

A TINKERING MONARCH

King Boris III of Bulgaria is said to be a very good automobile mechanic. After two American college professors had tinkered for three hours on a balky motor car near Sofia, the King drove alongside, offered his aid and started the engine in ten minutes. In future we Americans should be a little more careful about what we say as to the utter uselessness of European monarchs.

THE FIRST AUTO

Citizens of Vienna have erected a statue to the memory of Siegfried Marcus, who, they assert, was the real inventor of the automobile. There were many pioneerings in the development of the horseless carriage, but this Vienna man is said to have been on the street with one back in 1875. His sponsors might come to Detroit and start an argument. There will be plenty to talk about.

HUNGRY SEA LIONS

"How Hungry Are Sea Lions?" asks the New York Times in an editorial headline. Well, in San Francisco the fishermen have for years held to the assertion that each sea lion consumes fifty pounds of fish a day. They long have advocated the destruction of all these otaries, as scientists call them, and lately have urged Gov. Young to have a survey of them made with special view to their extermination. Animal lovers, however, may be counted upon to protest against such destructive action, and it does seem that there is enough room in the sea for these inoffensive creatures.

SELLING ARMS

The measure to prevent the export of munitions from the United States may be in the interest of peace, but it starts a war in Washington. We are selling too many pistols and shooting irons over the world to have an industry destroyed. In order that we may be ready in time of war we must have these productive arsenals in time of peace. That is the way the argument goes and it is hard to get away from it. We have to make things for other folks to fight with so that we will have fighting tools of our own when the emergency comes. Such is the voice of expediency.

CONGRESS WINDING UP

The resolution fixing Tuesday as the date for adjournment of the first session of the Seventieth Congress of the United States means that, like its predecessors, that body will adjourn with much of its scheduled work not accomplished. Among the major pieces of legislation which now seem likely to fail of enactment is—again—that providing for Colorado River development. The Congress has enacted routine legislation and numerous measures of minor importance, but the only really important measures placed on the statute books are those providing for Mississippi flood relief and the merchant shipping bill. Tax reduction may be added to the list before the session closes.

The most conspicuous of Congress omissions was its failure to act on reapportionment. Its voting down of the Fenn bill, which would have provided almost automatic reallotment of Congressmen to keep pace with population changes, was from purely political motives, in defiance of its sworn duty and of the requirements of the Constitution. Voters in districts which have stood still or have lost population will thus continue to have far more weight in national affairs than voters in districts which are growing—a preposterously absurd situation, unjust and inequitable from all points of view.

Even with its passage in the House, the Swing-Johnson bill apparently is in much the same situation it was at the close of the Sixty-ninth Congress. It is being pressed vociferously for passage at the last moment, with an equally vociferous opposition which it is feared will prevent its final approval by the Senate. This seems rather strange in view of the assurances given last year that the bill would be among the first subjects taken up and disposed of by the incoming Congress. If it had been pushed as vigorously at the start of the session as it has been at its close it is reasonably certain that it would at least have been finally acted upon.

Within a few days a flow of 72,000 second feet has beat against the frail bulwarks that now protect Imperial Valley from inundation, with the crest of the flood still in the future and in the future also the certainty that a day will come when the levees cannot be built high enough to keep the Colorado to its steadily rising bed. Unless by that time the river has been restrained nearer its sources damage will be done to the Imperial Valley that will require half a century to repair. In the face of this annual menace the politicians in Congress and out of it continue to back and fill, jockeying for position in their efforts to turn the situation to their personal advantage. It is not too late for the present Congress, by a determined effort, to meet the situation and to enact legislation which will make it possible to start protective work, but, in the light of experience with last-minute log-rolling jams in Congress, the prospect is not particularly bright.

It appears that Congress will adjourn also without doing anything for the farmers. The stone of the McNary-Haugen bill is not a substitute for the bread they desire, even if it could be made law over the President's veto. Farm relief is not, in fact, as urgently required as it was a few years ago; prices of agricultural products have risen materially, and the swing seems to be in an upward direction. But Congress could have aided the recovery of agriculture by constructive legislation; the way was pointed out by the President in his annual message; and its refusal to do so must score against it when the tally of achievement for this session is made up.

In Mississippi flood relief and in tax reduction the wishes of the politicians rather than the merits of the causes were the guides that Congress followed. There will be no revision of the discriminatory surtaxes, no repeal of the Federal inheritance tax. The new tax bill will be an improvement over that now on the statute books, but it could easily have been still better. On the Mississippi there will be no application of the beneficent principle that the principal gainers from any public-works project should pay a part of its cost. The whole burden has been laid upon the Federal treasury.

At fault is the electoral system which awards political success to the most persistent self-advertisers, and which permits noise and bustle to be mistaken for work. To make a speech and send thousands of copies of it under postal frank to his constituents seems to the average Congressman a meritorious performance and one which should entitle him to re-election, without regard to how or to what extent the public interest has actually been served by his activities. No system is perfect or infallible, and as a practical matter the United States does get itself governed by the oratorically inclined politicians who constitute its legislative bodies; but it would be better governed if Congress wasted less time in piffling and proscrastinating talk. Senator Heflin alone has consumed, uselessly, enough of the Senate's days this session to have allowed proper consideration of all the bills introduced; and he was by no means the only offender.

The first session of the Seventieth Congress will not go down in history as the worst Congress that ever sat, nor as the best. It has done some good things, some bad things, and some things which could not be assigned to either category. But it has left undone a great deal that could have been accomplished.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE

Southern California owes much of its present growth and prosperity to the pioneers who came here, generally poor but always ambitious, in its early days, grew up with the country and left both it and themselves richer and better for the constructive work they left behind them.

Another of these old-timers, whose name and success are part of the industrial history of Los Angeles, has just passed on, to leave the future management of his business enterprises to those who have grown up under his careful training. Julius Hauser, after eighty-two years of life, forty-six of which were spent in his chosen city of Los Angeles, has answered the last call, and one more gap is left in the thinning ranks of the men who helped to lay the foundations of a city whose growth has exceeded even their far-sighted vision.

Julius Hauser is but one more instance that in this western democracy there is no prize beyond the reach of grit, industry and determination. He came here a poor boy from his native Germany, but trained to one trade with true Teutonic thoroughness. He made the prosecution of that trade his life work and increased it and expanded it with the growth of the community he served. And he has passed away full of years and honors as one who played a leading part in the industrial development of his city and was respected and esteemed by all who came in contact with him.

MR. LIBBY IN ERROR

One hesitates to criticise the words of a man with so noble a mission as that of Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, but the grave error made in his recent address to the conference of Southern California Councils on International Relations is not to be overlooked. Mr. Libby attacked the administration for its proposed supervision of the Nicaraguan elections and for making itself responsible through the Stimson agreement for a state of affairs which "has resulted in the death of between twenty and thirty marines as well as the wounding and illness of many others."

In saying these things Mr. Libby but repeats the partisan criticisms of our Nicaraguan policy. He falls in line with those who have blinded themselves to the outstanding fact that all we have been striving for in Nicaragua is peace. Peace has been the keynote of all that President Coolidge has said and done with reference to affairs in that disordered and unhappy country. The President sent Col. Stimson to Corinto a year ago to induce two warring factions to lay down their arms, which was done, and an agreement was reached that there would be no renewal of the conflict and that American representatives would be allowed to supervise the elections to be held next October, in order to insure fair and legal procedure. This was done because for years there has not been a fair election in Nicaragua.

Mr. Libby holds that because the Stimson agreement has been repudiated by the Nicaraguan Congress we have no right to supervise the elections. He overlooks the fact that this repudiation was at the instance of Chamorro, former illegal President, chief trouble-maker and enemy of the United States—a thoroughly unscrupulous and irresponsible man. President Coolidge is holding Nicaragua to the Stimson agreement. His stand in the matter is heartily indorsed by Gen. Moncada, the Presidential candidate of the Liberal party, who says: "We put our names to the agreement providing for free elections and laid down arms. The United States has promised free elections. We must stand by our agreement."

The United States will stand by it, too, despite the underhanded and repudiatory work of Trouble-Maker Chamorro, who was deported from the country once and may have to be deported again.

As for the Stimson agreement being responsible for the casualties among our marines, one wonders how such an idea could find lodgment in a mind possessed of the least logic. It is as much as to say that that agreement was invalid and that we should have permitted Sandino to ravage the country, shoot up our nationals, destroy our property, take Managua and make Nicaragua a hotbed of revolt and a standing menace to the peace of Central America, which peace we have promised to maintain.

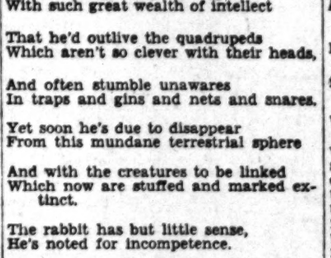
DR. WALKER HONORED

Another honor has fallen on a noted son of the West in the election of Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles, to the responsible position of moderator of the Presbyterian Church of the United States. Dr. Walker has made so signal a success of his ministry on the Pacific Coast that his many admirers inside and outside of his own church feel sure that no wiser choice could have been made by the general assembly of the Presbyterians lately in convocation at Tulsa, Okla.

Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, who nominated the Los Angeles pastor, paid a glowing tribute to the long service in evangelical work, the missionary activities and the ability displayed in executive positions of the candidate for the chief gift in the keeping of the Presbyterian church. But it is worthy of note that the phase in Dr. Walker's church work that carried the most weight with the electors was his active and uncompromising championship of the cause of prohibition. Los Angeles already knows that the newly elected moderator will live up to the teachings of his church and fill the position with credit and success. We prophesy the Presbyterian Church of the United States will feel the same warm sentiment for Dr. Walker by the time his term of office ends.

SPORTING NOTE

Dispatches tell of the capture of a horned rabbit in Arkansas. Some day an Arkansas rabbit may be pitted against a Tammany tiger to give the people a thrill.



EVOLUTION
By James J. Montague

The fox is wily and astute
He lives by craft and stealth and loot,

He has far more than average wit
And makes the very most of it.

And well might any one expect
With such great wealth of intellect

That he'd outlive the quadrupeds
Which aren't so clever with their heads,

And often stumble unawares
In traps and gins and nets and snares.

Yet soon he's due to disappear
From this mundane terrestrial sphere

And with the creatures to be linked
Which now are stuffed and marked extinct.

The rabbit has but little sense,
He's noted for incompetence.

And yet though clumsy and unwise
He multiplies and multiplies.

And promises to linger on
When every fox is dead and gone.

Which leads us sadly to admit
That now and then the most unfit

In this old world can get a start
On those who are too gosh darned smart.

Leeside: I'm ashamed of myself.

Remember what I wrote you about that ole dilapidated blackbird in my back yard? Well, he's got a family—a wife and two flapper daughters. At least, I reckon they're flappers, 'cause they show a lot of bare skin. He's an old pirate, all right, and pretty bad about thievin' food. But I saw him feedin' a lot of it to the babies yesterday and I plumb forgave him. If I'd a knowed he had a family I never would a said a disrespectful thing about him. To a Departed Friend

How dear to my heart is the old roller towel
When laundry bill figures recall it to view,
It lasted a week, for it dried out so quickly—
It grew gray so gracefully we grew not blue.
The guest towel then was a once-a-month stranger,
No youth, Pullman spoiled, thought it proper to yell
For a dozen—a dozen!—a clean daily dozen!
For then we'd have answered: "Oh, go to—hotel!"

The old roller towel,
The finger print towel,
The Bertillon towel I vote to recall—
The once-a-week towel,
The one-good-turn towel,
The self-starching towel that hung on the wall.
LAVAN D. REA.

Ever Think of That?

A Santa Monica friend has a record. He has driven more than 1,000,000 miles in automobiles and never yet was in an accident.

Yesterday we asked him to reveal to us the secret, that we might reveal it to the eager world.

"When I first learned to drive," he whispered, "I took a firm resolve that if ever I were in an accident it would be the other fellow's fault."

Ten-Second Sermon

Of course, it always is the other fellow's fault. But it's worth remembering that the one chap we know who has firmly stuck to that resolve has driven 1,000,000 miles without ever meeting the other fellow.

Confession

We long have prided ourself on our spelling. And this is the most valuable rule we go by: When in doubt as to whether believe or deceive or besiege or aggrieve or achieve is spelled "ie" or "ei" we invariably first type it one way, then work the backspacer back two letters and retype it the other way—and defy any editor or printer or even proofreader to say we didn't spell it just right.

Ah, yes, the typewriter has a lot of real advantages over the old hand orthography.

To Make More Jobs?

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read the item in last week's Times relative to certain county employees asking for increase in wages, also your editorial on same. Pay back East may be slightly higher than in Southern California, but when you consider the climatic and other conditions under which they work and live, there is no comparison. I can get all the help of nearly all kinds in Los Angeles at from 25 to 50 per cent less than what I would have to pay in other sections. Then why pay any particular person or class any better than another. Let's have fair play to all.

I am opposed under present business conditions to any pay increases, and if we have to do anything let the city, county or State pay lower wages and salaries and employ more people, at the same overhead.

I have talked this over with hundreds of people and 75 per cent of the taxpayers agree with this latter idea.

MRS. B. H. WOLFE.

Again the Apostrophe

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your issue of the 23d is a very interesting letter signed "One Who Reads," protesting against the use of the apostrophe in the possessive pronouns.

I wonder if the correspondent has noticed the numerous omission of the same elusive figure. In one day's reading I noticed the following with possessive omitted: Doctor bill, butcher knife, blacksmith shop, barber shop, carpenter shop, tailor shop. The possessive was used in barbers' college, barbers' convention. It would be of general interest if the clever correspondent would express his (or her) views on this.

ANOTHER READER.

Thinks Will All Wet

BERKELEY (Cal.) May 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If you will swear, affirm or even state that Will Rogers is a humorist, why, he's a humorist, that is all there is to it, but after his diatribe in your issue of the 20th inst., I would substitute the expression "alleged humorist" as being the more descriptive.

Whatever "choose" may mean, whether it is "yes," "no," "maybe," "I can't tell yet," "who knows," "search me," "probably," or "perhaps," he may be assured that "I do not choose" means none of those things, and to impugn the credibility of the President is exceedingly poor taste.

Aside from Mr. Coolidge's honesty of purpose, than which there is none greater, he is too astute a politician, had he even a remote idea of standing for re-election, to alienate a very considerable number of his following as he would have done, through a vacillating attitude.

C. A. BURNES.

A School For Congressmen

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The failure of Congress to take action to provide for reapportionment, as required by the Constitution, must, if we are charitable, be attributed to ignorance. Guess their knowledge of this document must be rather hazy, even though they have sworn to uphold it, and suggest that the members all be given copies of the speeches delivered at the oratorical contest in Washington, to the end that their attention may be drawn to the fact that there is such an instrument.

CALLING FOR ALICE

BY EUGENE BROWN

While waiting for the train to Kansas City we are fixing up the slate. You might as well try to play billiards without a cue as to have a convention without a slate. Of course there are a lot of rough-necks who have a lot of fun in breaking it, but you gotta have a program.

For a thousand years the Democrats, along with the rest, held out on their women. They wouldn't give them the vote if they got down on their knees and cried for it. Even poor old Queen Elizabeth had to fade away into her mausoleum without ever having seen a ballot box.

But the minute the skirts of America were freed and given the franchise up bobs the Democracy and claimed that it was their solo job. Our of their greatness of heart they tendered the ladies the ballot and hoped they would use it kindly. They wouldn't give the Republicans any credit for generosity.

Yet men who read and think know that the Republicans were the pioneers and that their organization had a long lead in the matter of conferring the ballot upon the ladies. The rallying cry of the Republican husbands was: "A ballot for every wife."

Well, they have it and now the Bourbons have been trying to make them believe that most of the political recognition and glory that the skirts have so far gained has been with the spontaneous aid of their party.

But that is all poppycock.

The women who have offices worth while are nearly all Republicans, and the exclusive National Committee admits them as playmates. All barriers are down and a lady may climb to any place.

We have had a woman in the United States Senate for a day and we have had nearly a dozen of 'em in the House. Of course they will say that woman's place is in the house, but those who voice it do not mean the national House of Representatives. Nevertheless, there they are and they are doing well.

So what's the matter with Alice Roosevelt Longworth for Vice-President? Nobody can say she isn't qualified. She has listened to every set speech in the Senate for the last six years. She spends more time in the Senate chambers than Hiram Johnson does. If she isn't sitting in on the Senate she is over in the House. There her husband is the boss—the Speaker—and if he ever needs prompting or prodding he gets it from Alice. She knows more about parliamentary law than old man Parliament himself. She has taken the government apart to see what made it tick—and b'gosh! she found out. She can even listen to Tom Heflin without losing her temper or taking the curl out of her hair. She and Ruth Hanna McCormick know more about the social and diplomatic side of Washington life than any ten men you could dig up with a corkscrew.

It would be peek-a-boo for Alice to preside over the Senate. She could make a better job of it than Charlie Dawes and she could keep the boys from fighting in her presence. With Alice holding the ribbons over the Senate and Nick keeping his fist on the House even Ohio would be satisfied.

Alice is all to the berries. She is a woman. She is a wife. She is a mother. She is a trained politician. She is of New York and Ohio. She is the daughter of a popular President and the wife of a popular Speaker of the House. She is wise on our foreign relations, but has not neglected her domestic ones. She knows the legislative machinery as a cat knows its cream. No rube from Arkansas could scare her and no pink diplomat from Bohemia could cozen her. She is wise to the game.

With Alice on the job Alice blue would be the national color and the band would be playing "Alice, Where Art Thou?" or "Don't You Remember Sweet Alice, Ben Bolt?"

I asked my manicure girl what she thought about the idea. "Fine!" she exclaimed with enthusiasm. "Anything to beat Aimee."

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS
by Frederic J. Haskin, Director

Our Washington Bureau of Information is prepared to give you accurate information on any question of fact you may ask. Send in your inquiries together with 2 cents in stamps to cover postage to the Los Angeles Times Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Question: When were 20-cent pieces coined? J. I. S.

Answer: They were coined from 1874 to 1878.

Q.: Why is the phrase, dogs of war, used? V. F.

A.: The expression, dogs of war, is probably based on the actual practice of the ancients of using dogs in warfare. Both the Greeks and the Romans used them for defensive and offensive purposes and for maintaining communication on the field of battle. War dogs are mentioned by Plutarch and Pliny, and Strabo describes how in Gaul, dogs were armed with coats of mail. It is recorded that in 650 B. C., the Greeks of Ionia made use of dogs against the Cimmerians to aid Ardys, the son of Gyges. These were probably wolf-like creatures, which not only chased, but seized and tore their human prey.

Q.: In what State does a criminal have a choice of hanging or shooting when he is to be executed? M. S. G.

A.: This choice is granted in Utah.

Q.: Why is the interest computed in a bank always written in red ink? G. A. P.

A.: The use of red ink by many banks, particularly savings banks, to note the interest, is simply a matter of convenience, the interest being more easily distinguished from the principal sums by being written in colored ink. Any color preferred may be used or it is not necessary to use a different color.

Q.: How many portraits did Thomas Sully paint? L. M.

A.: There are over 2000 listed portraits by this artist. In addition, he executed many miniatures and about 500 subject paintings.

Q.: What is the approximate value of Trinity Church, New York City? G. M. R.

A.: It is estimated that the value of Trinity Church property in New York City is about $17,600,000.

Q.: Is it correct to say "The train is on time"? C. S.

A.: "On time" is properly used as a railroad phrase. In other cases the preposition "in" is used. For example, "I shall be there in time."

THE APPOINTMENT

I waited by the county jail for Alexander James McQuail, his absence was a shock; he'd promised me he would be there to trade his wombat for my mare, at half past nine o'clock. At the appointed hour I found no Alexander James around, invisible was he; I waited in the fog and muck, I waited till the clocks had struck nine minus after three. And as I led my old mare home stern resolutions in my dome, were framed, to be my guide; I'd never trade with him again; I'd never deal with any men who let appointments slide. There's no depending on the skate who idly with you makes a date, and then forgets the same; who leaves you standing in the rain expecting him, and all in vain—such conduct is a shame. Men break engagements every day, and would explain their sins away as though they were a joke; but victims of the broken word think explanations are absurd when viewed in up in smoke. The big men in the world of trade, the guys who have made the grade, punish all appointments good; they say, "At quarter after four we'll meet you by the henhouse door, let that be understood." When is the henhouse you agreed, they're there, exactly as agreed, and not one minute late; they buy your herd of Plymouth Rocks, and pay the cash, the stuff that knocks, which out of thing is great. The men along the ragged edge are those who don't redeem a pledge unless it is by chance; the ones whose promises are vain, who leave you waiting in the rain, don't prosper or advance.

BAPTISTS VOTE FOR SAN DIEGAN

Rev. B. B. Jacques Elected Convention Chairman

Organization Takes Stand for Outlawing of War

Any Change in Prohibition Enactment Opposed

Rev. B. B. Jaques of San Diego was elected president of the Southern California Baptist Convention at the thirty-seventh annual session of that organization conducted yesterday at the First Baptist Church and attended by more than 2000 delegates. Vice-presidents elected are Elmer Gandy, Charles Barker, Charles Sanders, Frank Silverthorn, J. N. Bissett, O. D. McClung and W. J. Beeven. S. V. Fraser was elected clerk of the convention and W.O. Appleberry assistant clerk.

The session was featured by the adoption of resolutions favoring the outlawing of war and the furtherance of religious education and protesting any proposed change in the prohibition laws.

"In the growing prevalence of juvenile delinquency, and of views and practices menacing family life, we recognize a challenge to renewed interest in religious education," said Dr. Alonzo Petty, field representative of the Home Mission Society.

STAND ON DRY LAW

In the resolution regarding prohibition the delegates voiced unanimous opposition to "the nomination or election of any candidate for any public office who favors repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment or any modification of the Volstead law."

Declaring their disapproval of compulsory military training in public high schools "as a serious hindrance to attainment of world peace" the delegates deplored the "expenditure of $10,000,000 annually for military instruction in civil institutions" and voiced approval of "the proposals now under consideration by the Department of State aimed at the outlawry of war."

The delegates pledged full support to W. R. Litzenberg and Dr. W. C. Pearce in their efforts to make successful the World Sunday-school Convention, to be conducted in Los Angeles next July.

PLEA TO CHURCHES

Emphasizing the need for evangelistic work in foreign countries, especially in China, India and Russia, as well as for missionary work in this country, the delegates urged all churches to respond generously to "the specific appeals authorized by the Northern Baptist Convention for the $1,000,000 revolving fund for edifice work at home and the Judson $1,000,000 fund for foreign field work."

President Jacques was authorized and requested to appoint a committee to give consideration to the proposal "to establish, under the auspices of the convention, an orphanage for the care, primarily, of orphaned children of Baptist parentage."

The convention session next year will be conducted at Calvary Baptist Church, Pasadena.

Junior Lawyer Group Headed by Beardsley

Charles E. Beardsley has been elected chairman of the newly formed junior committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association, it was announced yesterday. The committee includes 147 young lawyers, none of whom has been practicing more than three years.

Formation of the new section was in accordance with a plan conceived by Hubert T. Morrow, president of the association. Its object is to advance acquaintance and group activity among the members and to provide opportunities for constructive service in the association. It is estimated that more than 400 local attorneys are eligible to join through a resolution passed to include those admitted to practice not more than five years.

Court Avenges Misuse of Writ

Accused of using a form bearing the heading Small Claims Court Company in an attempt to collect a debt, Ora King, 943 West Seventh street, a plumber, was found in contempt of court yesterday by Presiding Judge Chambers of the Municipal Court and ordered to appear today for sentence. He is at liberty on $100 bail.

Mrs. Eveline Smith, 911 Potter Park avenue, testified she received the letterhead from King summoning her to appear in Municipal Judge Fields's court to show cause why she should not pay a plumbing bill in the sum of $14.91. After waiting in the courtroom half a day on March 16 last Mrs. Smith said, she appealed to the County Public Defender's office and was told the form is illegal.

Sax to Produce Talking Pictures

Talking pictures are to invade the ranks of the independents. As the result of negotiations concluded yesterday, Sam Sax, president of Gotham Productions, will begin soon "The Girl from Argentine," with complete voice accompaniment.

Sax has made contracts with a New York concern to send representatives to Hollywood and set up the machinery necessary to create spoken silversheet dramas.

CRUELTY GETS DIVORCE

Bernard Fred Carpheide not only mistreated his wife, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Carpheide, but also her mother and her grandmother, she asserted at the hearing for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty held before Judge Samuel R. Blake yesterday. She further testified that her husband was aroused to a jealous fury on one occasion when he saw her dancing with another man; that he struck her and dragged her off the floor. The decree was granted.

SAINTS OPEN TABERNACLE

Mormon Worshippers Formally Celebrate Dedication of Splendid Edifice Today

Celebrating the opening of a new tabernacle and recreation center at Zoe and Middleton streets, Huntington Park, being built by the Los Angeles Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at a cost of $125,000, services of exceptional interest, to which the public is invited, will be conducted in the Tabernacle tomorrow at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. The principal speaker at each meeting will be Orson F. Whitney, known as the "philosopher-poet of the Twelve Apostles," who comes from Salt Lake City to conduct the opening of the new center. A chorus of 150 singers, under direction of William Sault, will furnish music.

The new tabernacle will be the gathering place for social and religious activities of one of the three large divisions of this church in California, the Los Angeles Stake having a membership of 5000. The building is typically Spanish in style, containing a large patio with flowers, fountain and artistic little avenues. The auditorium has a seating capacity of more than 1000. There is a splendid choir loft for 175 singers and a dance floor which will accommodate 500 couples. There is also a large stage for dramatic and choral work. The auditorium is connected with a commodious lounge, furnished with easy chairs and davenports, soft lights, warm-tinted carpets and a large fireplace. There are twelve well-equipped class rooms, committee rooms, kitchens and banquet rooms.

TWO COUNTY STAKES

The Latter Day Saints (usually called Mormons, because their church is founded on the Book of Mormon, their Bible, said to have been discovered and translated in America) operate two Stakes, composed of twenty-two wards, in Los Angeles county. There are nearly 14,000 members of the church in the county. Each Stake is managed by twelve men who compose the High Council. Each ward is presided over by a bishop, corresponding to the pastor of a church.

"In spite of misunderstanding and persecution, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints continues a strong force in the religious and moral life of America," said Dr. James Lloyd Woodruff, a member of the High Council of the Los Angeles Stake. "Our religion is based upon profound, fundamental principles and one of God's revelations to man."

Belief in prayers for the dead and in vicarious baptism are among the interesting tenets of the Mormon faith. The Mormons believe in a dual Godhood, maintaining that the universe was created by a Father and a Mother God who are one in spirit and whose purpose is to bring their children back to the Eden from which they strayed. Extreme poverty is unknown among the Mormons. The members, young and old, observe regular fast days, donating the money saved by their self-denial to the treasury which supplies food and clothing to anyone in need.

BURON FITTS TO SPEAK

Lieut.-Gov. Fitts, Past Commander of the American Legion of California, will be the principal speaker at the Memorial Day service to be conducted tomorrow evening in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Jefferson Boulevard and Third avenue. GROVER COMES BACK TO LIFE

Cleveland Name Revived in Two Lawsuits Involving Namesake and Friend

Grover Cleveland was in court yesterday.

Cleveland is no relative of the late President of the United States, but was named after him, lived in the same town and frequently went fishing with him, he said.

He appeared in two suits one as plaintiff and one as defendant in Judge Samuel R. Blake's court. As plaintiff he was suing for $1909 from W. A. Goodwin, while the latter in his suit asked for $407 and $165. Both actions were brought over debts incurred for fertilizer.

Champion Athlete and Film Actor to Do Aerial and Horseback Stunts

From the deck of an airplane and the back of a horse Fred Thomson, motion-picture celebrity and former world's champion athlete, will salute the contenders at the Southwest Olympic finals at the Coliseum on Saturday, June 16. This was announced yesterday by Harold B. Franklin, chairman of the show committee of the carnival.

FRED THOMSON

Flying from Flagstaff, Ariz., where he is on location, Thomson will circle above the Coliseum in his plane, executing stunts at a height within the city laws; then fly to Rogers Field, where he will land and take an auto back to the Coliseum. In the area he will give performances on his famous horse, Silver King.

Thomson has kept alive his interest in athletics. In 1913, competing under the colors of the New York Athletic Club, he scored 7411.50 points to win the national championship—a mark that never has been equaled. In 1910, competing for Occidental College, he also won the national championship for that year, duplicating the perfromance in 1911, when he represented Princeton University.

Besides Thomson, other motion-picture actors will be on the June 16 program at the Coliseum.

The 80,000 persons who are expected to witness the carnival will constitute the greatest cheering section ever organized, led by Burdette Henney, former cheer leader at the University of Southern California, and 150 trained assistants. As a special rooting section, 25,000 school children will be grouped at one end of the stadium.

EAST INDIAN WARRIOR TO VISIT HERE

Capt. Greatwood Makes World Tour to Rest Up Fighting Pathans

Capt. Hugh Egerton Greatwood, who has spent the last eleven of his twenty-eight years on the Northern India frontier fighting the Pathan tribes and the the everlasting snows of the Himalayas, was among the 300 passengers arriving from Honolulu yesterday aboard the Lasco liner City of Honolulu.

CAPT. HUGH EGERTON GREATWOOD

Capt. Greatwood, on a year's leave of absence from the Sixth Rajputana Rifles of the Indian Army, will spend several months here with his mother, Mrs. F. A. Parrott, before completing a tour of the world. Capt. Greatwood is one of the foremost authorities on the Indian economic situation. India's future, he declares, depends on British sovereignty.

"India was torn for hundreds of years by conflict between her two great religious groups, the Hindus and the Mohammedans," he said. "Therefore, there can be no national unity without Britain's guiding influence, the benefit of which I am sure has been proven by events of the past fifty years."

Capt. Greatwood is one of the Indian army's leading polo players. Next year he will go on station for two years at Chitral, a lonely mountain station guarding Gilgit Pass in the Himalayas.

Defense Pleas in Rounsevell Case Concluded

Defense counsel for Fred L. Rounsevell, president of the Western Mutual Finance Company, Inc., and Thomas W. Simmons, a former director, yesterday closed their argument in Superior Judge Hardy's court and James P. Costello, Deputy District Attorney, began his closing summary. When court adjourned last night Costello announced that he will require at least two additional hours when the session is resumed Monday morning.

The two defendants are charged with grand theft based on an accusation that they stole approximately $43,000 from the Western Mutual Finance Company by borrowing $117,000 on property in Placer county for which they paid but $53,000.

J. George Ohanessian opened the argument for the defense and was followed by R. L. McNitt.

Ben J. Scheinman opened the argument for the District Attorney.

ACTION POSTPONED ON STREET IMPROVING

The City Council yesterday postponed action until July 2 on the proposed improvement of Cabrillo avenue in the harbor district, from First street to Sixth street. The State act under which his work is to be done provides for the collection of assessments before the work starts. The total assessments are $235,399. The work will cost $142,404, and land damages are to be paid amounting to $80,919. Councilman Colden said the proposed improvement calls for much grading, and he asked members of the Public Works Committee to inspect the route of the proposed improvement before the meeting on July 2. There are 721 parcels of property in the assessment district.

GLORIFIED PEDDLER DEBARKS

Three Famed Stradivari Violins Arrive

Farris M. Brown

Globe-girdler who makes specialty of collecting and selling rare virtu, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, shown with a $25,000 Strad, and Miss Elma Schade, admiring its beautiful workmanship.

A GLORIFIED peddler is Farris Brown, who came into port yesterday from Honolulu aboard the Lassco liner City of Honolulu, with a collection of rare violins valued at $300,000. Mr. Brown's job in life is traveling about the world selling his wares to violin fanciers and artists who want the best in the world.

On this voyage he has, he said, three Stradivarius instruments, valued at $65,000, while in Honolulu he sold the fourth Strad for $35,000. All, he added, carry the original varnish applied in the seventeenth century by the master maker.

In Mr. Brown's present collection is the Baron Knoopf Stradivarius, which had been in the possession of a Prankfort family for more than a century before he acquired it on his last trip abroad. Mr. Brown will spend several weeks in Southern California before continuing to New York and then to Europe.

Her Honeymoon Evasive Affair

Mrs. Doret Clark, better known as the Doret of magazine and newspaper syndicate fame, was in Los Angeles yesterday, following her arrival on the liner City of Honolulu, en route to San Diego to rejoin her husband, Lieutenant-Commander R. W. Clark of the United States Fleet flagship Texas.

DORET CLARK

Commander and Mrs. Clark were married in San Diego a month ago and the officer forthwith was ordered to Hawaii. After a two-weeks' honeymoon in Honolulu the Texas was ordered back home.

The couple hope to be allowed to complete their honeymoon in San Diego, following which Mrs. Clark will go to New York.

Gunman Suspect Shot by Police Arraigned in Bed

Niley Payne, asserted notorious gunman, who was shot down and captured by Deputy Sheriff Vejar after a wild chase following an attempt to kidnap Carroll Hosbour, Hollywood cleaner and dyer, on the 15th inst., was arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Dailey S. Stafford, charged with grand theft and assault in a manner to cause great bodily harm. Judge Stafford set the preliminary hearing for June 14, and fixed bond at $5000. Payne was arraigned from his bed in the prison ward of the General Hospital. S. S. Hahn appeared as his attorney.

David W. Roberts, asserted "fence" for Payne, was freed in Judge W. S. Baird's court of two charges of receiving stolen property, when his attorney, J. L. Fainer, showed that Roberts did not know he was receiving stolen property.

Accident Victim May Succumb

Henry Hirsch, 60 years of age, 3278 Wilshire Boulevard, received injures which caused his death when he fell in front of a street car at Sixth and Berendo streets yesterday, police report. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and died about 8 p.m.

SENATOR MAKES NEW RADIO BILL

Dill Declares That Monopoly Already Exists

Legislator Names Asserted Combinations

Frolic Hour Will Close KHJ Night Program

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Declaring that the greatest monopolies in America today are built around the illegal use of patents and that legislation is necessary in order to protect the public against such illegal use, Senator Dill is ready to attack the alleged radio trust which, he charges, represents a pool of patents of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the General Electric Company, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, the United Fruit Corporation and the Radio Corporation of America.

NEW BILL PROPOSED

Dill, Senator from Washington, has introduced legislation which would provide that in any infringement suit brought by the owner or holder of a patent it shall be a complete defense to show that that patent is being used in combination with other patents in violation of the Sherman Act or the Clayton antitrust law. This is a substitute for his original bill providing for violation of patents used for monopolistic purposes.

"This combination," asserted Senator Dill," has undertaken to monopolize radio communication, radio broadcast and radio manufacturing and does this all under the pretense of protection by patents. It has done more than that. It has attempted to apportion this monopoly among the constituent members by a series of cross-licensing agreements which violate both the Clayton Act and the Sherman antitrust law."

KHJ FEATURES

Dr. Phillip M. Lovell, editor of the care of the body department of the Sunday Times, will give his usual morning health half-hour at 7:30 today over the Don Lee station, KHJ.

Then the station will be silent until 12 o'clock when it will come on the air again with a continuous program until 1 a.m. Sunday.

The artists on the concert solo program of the afternoon will include John Bohmen, clarinetist, and Clarence Fulwiler, trumpeter.

On the evening program hours the 8 p.m. broadcast will be sponsored by the Frank Meline Company with the studio concert orchestra for the entertainment feature.

When the dance program from the Biltmore signs off at midnight the studio will be on the air with the hour known as the Merrymakers' frolic.

ENGLAND'S PROBLEM IN INDIA GREAT

Warring Factions Make Autonomy Impossible, in Residents' Opinion

After thirty years' residence in Calcutta, Lord Hubert Carr, accompanied by Lady Carr, arrived here yesterday from Australia on his way to London, where he will retire from active business.

"My first four years in India were spent in the tea plantations and then I spent twenty-six years in estate management," said Sir Hubert.

"Were England to withdraw from India that country would revert to a chaotic condition with startling rapidity. Troubles in India are not between England and the populace but are the result of the religious differences between Hindus and Mohammedans.

"England is giving the people of India every opportunity to solve their problems but neither of the factions is willing to divide power or authority nor grant each other's rights.

"One can hardly speak of self-government in India for there is no one race and no one language. You cannot think of an Indian as you think of an American or an Englishman, for there is no unit of citizenship beyond the mere fact of birth. In no sense do I speak as a propagandist in support of England's position in the situation, but merely from the standpoint of thirty years of personal observation."

Texas Girl Takes Jinx on Travels

Rudell Heath, the Texas girl who got herself in and out of trouble in Los Angeles no less than five times within as many months, and as a result was asked to return to her home in the Lone Star State, is under arrest in Phoenix, Ariz., according to telegraphic advice received yesterday by police.

Miss Heath is not wanted in Los Angeles, local police informed Phoenix authorities, who had wired to know whether she was facing any charge here. Details of the girl's arrest in Phoenix were not given in the message.

Miss Heath was first arrested here New Year's Day, when she was charged with assault with a deadly weapon as the result of her firing five shots at a former sweetheart. She was fined $1 for the offense. Then, in quick succession followed her arrest on suspicion of burglary, drunk driving, battery and drunkenness.

Safeway Store Heads Convene to Talk Shop

M. B. Skaggs, president of Safeway Stores, Inc., was the principal speaker at a meeting of forty executives of the Southern California division of the grocery chain which began yesterday morning at the Jonathan Club and will adjourn today.

Edward Dale, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Safeway Stores, presided.

General Business problems relating to the efficient and economical distribution of foodstuffs through the 400 stores' fruit, vegetable and meat departments, were discussed by President Skaggs, Vice-President Dale, H. J. Bruce, sales manager, and other department heads and branch representatives.

The Southern California division embraces store units from San Diego to Santa Barbara and Bakersfield.

TYPE OF SEPARATION PUZZLES YOUNG WIFE

Whether her action to obtain a separation from her husband should be an annulment or a bill for divorce will 'be decided today by Judge Louis P. Russill in the case of Juanita Green, by her guardian, Mrs. A. B. Overley, against Alfred B. Green. Mrs. Green appeared before Judge Russill yesterday asking that her marriage to Alfred B. Green be annulled on the ground that at the time of her marriage to him at Denison, Texas, January 3, 1924, she was not of legal age and did not have the consent of her parents. She said she was only 15 years of age. She further asserts her husband is in a penitentiary.

AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

SHIPPING TRADE GAIN FORECAST

Longshoremen Compensation Act Deputy in Port

Arrives on Lassco Ship from Survey of Hawaii

Predicts Rapid Gain for California Harbors

Los Angeles and San Francisco within a few decades will become the two greatest American ports, according to Warren H. Pillsbury, United States deputy commissioner for the Longshoremen's Compensation Act, who returned yesterday from a survey of Hawaii aboard the Lassco liner City of Honolulu.

"The Pacific area has already become the stage of the greatest commercial development in the world's history," said Mr. Pillsbury, "and from this flood of trade that will follow Los Angeles and San Francisco will benefit above all other ports bordering the Pacific.

"China is awakening to her unlimited commercial possibilities, while our trade with the Antipodes and South America is likewise increasing fast.

"Provided America avails herself of this great opportunity and develops her merchant marine to the point where she is able to carry the bulk of her world trade in which, by the way, she leads all nations, then the economic future of the Pacific Coast is assured."

Mr. Pillsbury will make a survey of water-front working conditions at this port and at San Diego before continuing to San Francisco.

Other passengers of prominence arriving yesterday on the City of Honolulu included Fred C. Muhs, vice-president of the San Francisco Bridge Company, who was on a business survey of Hawaii; Capt. Hugh Egerton Greatwood of the Indian army, on a tour of the world; Farris Brown, collector of rare violins; Lieut. Delmer S. Fahrney, United States Navy aviator, en route from duty at Pearl Harbor to begin a post-graduate course in aeronautical engineering at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis. Lieut. Fahrney is accompanied by Mrs. Fahrney and their small daughter.

Others among the ship's 300 passengers included Doret Clark, Wilmar artist; Mrs. Ruth Hamma, wife of Capt. Fred I. Hamma, commander of the Lassco liner City of Los Angeles; Arthur Horsley, Hollywood cameraman, who has been photographing the natural beauties of Hawaii for Castle Films; Hugo Ludders, manager of the Von Hamm-Young Company of Honolulu, and A. M. Ormiston, director of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, and Mrs. Ormiston.

The City of Honolulu also brought in a quantity of island products, including consignments of coffee, refined sugar and canned pineapple.

CAPT. ZEH NAMED TO COMMAND HARVARD

Capt. George H. Zeh will be the new commander of the Lassco coastwise liner Harvard, it was announced yesterday by Ralph Chandler, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company. He will succeed Capt. W. A. Magee, newly appointed State bar pilot at the port of San Francisco.

Capt. Zeh will take over his new command when the Harvard is in San Francisco June 5, arriving here the following day. In the selection, the Lassco line gains one of the oldest masters in point of experience on the Pacific. Zeh is at present commodore of the Admiral line fleet of the Pacific Steamship Company, with which and its predecessors he has been for more than thirty years.

For years he has been alternate captain on the Admiral line flagship H. F. Alexander, going over to the bridge of the Ruth Alexander this spring at his own request. His successor on the latter liner has not been announced.

Tom Plant, operating manager for the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company at San Francisco, arrived at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday to assist in taking over the West Paralon, another Shipping Board freighter bought by the Oceanic and Oriental Navigation Company. Delivery will be Monday and after loading the ship will sail for San Francisco and begin her new service in the South China service. Plant will return north tomorrow. F. P. Ritchie, assistant superintending engineer, will remain here to receive other ships. The Bearport has been accepted and will go on berth June 7 to load for North China via San Francisco. The West Prospect is to go to drydock at the Bethlehem yards today.

Bids will be opened in Washington June 1 on twelve more Shipping Board freighters, eight of which are laid up at San Francisco. Many have swung idls for years, and some require material reconditioning before they can go to sea again.

A farewell dinner to Capt. S. S. Sandberg will be given by the Bilge Club at its rendezvous at the Cookery, San Pedro, at 7 p.m. the 28th inst. Capt. Sandberg recently was appointed commissioner to the United States Shipping Board, succeeding Philip Tyler of San Francisco, and he will be leaving in June to assume his new post at Washington. He is one of the older members of the luncheon club.

Panama Pacific liner Magnolia is due early today with several hundred passengers and freight from New York by way of Havana and New York.

The Dollar liner President Polk is due at the breakwater at 6 a.m. tomorrow, en route around the world. She has seventy-five passengers from New York, half of whom will disembark here and at San Francisco.

Breakfast: Cottage Shredded Wheat. Lunch: Cooked stuffed celery, mutton chops, tomato-spinach-asbaked pears.

Breakfast: French omelet, dish of raspLunch: Eight-o'clock tea, baked ground beets, and parsley, no

Breakfast: *Baked with milk or cream Lunch: Cooked mashed of molded vegetables celery, cucumber and Dinner: Vegetable soup, baked lettuce, turcause of my trouble, but they do not tell me how to get rid of it. Can you help me with any advice?

A.: The blood never becomes acid until death takes place, but because of dietetic errors the blood which is normally alkaline, loses some of its alkalinity. No actual acid condition is present, but only a decrease in the blood's alkalinity. To increase the bases or alkalies of the blood, use more green vegetables, combine your foods properly, exercise enough to keep your metabolism balanced, and substitute constructive habits of thought into custard cups, being careful to distribute the raisins evenly. Place the cups in a shallow pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until custards are slightly browned on top.

You will find that the raisins make the custard sweet enough without adding sugar or honey. Serve with a little plain or whipped cream if desired.

Sufficient for six servings.

Question: Reader writes: Will you tell me what causes a pain beneath the outer half of the eye? Also what causes black specks to be always present in the vision?

Answer: Your trouble may be caused by improperly fitted glasses, sinus or antrum trouble, abscessed teeth; or, the pain and the symptoms of black spots may be due entirely to liver congestion from autointoxication.

Q.: Cook asks: Will you please print a list of the salad vegetables?

A.: Young tender beets, carrots, turnips and parsnips may be ground in their raw state; asparagus, spinach and oyster plant also make good changes if used raw. Then there are lettuce, celery, cucumbers, parsley and watercress. Make it a rule to use one or more of these salad vegetables each day.

Question: G. H. asks: "Is it all right to take an enema whenever the bowels do not move? I have been doing it and feel much better afterward. I seem to be all right in every other way, and in good health."

Answer: You can never harm yourself by the use of enemas, but I am sure if you will eat correctly there will be no need for you to take even an occasional enema as your bowels should move naturally at least once or twice daily.

Q.: J. H. G. writes: I read so much about acidosis, and my doctors have told me that this is the cause of my trouble, but they do not tell me how to get rid of it. Can you help me with any advice?

A.: The blood never becomes acid until death takes place, but because of dietetic errors the blood which is normally alkaline, loses some of its alkalinity. No actual acid condition is present, but only a decrease in the blood's alkalinity. To increase the bases or alkalies of the blood, use more green vegetables, combine your foods properly, exercise enough to keep your metabolism balanced, and substitute constructive habits of thought for destructive ones. Acidosis is a forerunner of many diseases, and an alkaline balance must be maintained or you will be subject to one disease after another which finds root and starts growth in acidosis.

Sunny Rooms, Good Care Given in Hospitals Today

By Florence La Ganke

Back in the early part of December Nancy had talked over hospital plans with her doctor. She had asked him to make a reservation for her. Today they were talking over the details. "By all means go and see the room, Mrs. Page. It is light and sunny and cheerful. You won't need a private nurse so far as I can see. You are in splendid condition. If I were you I would keep that money for later expenses. A special nurse won't have enough to do, so first thing you know we will find her coddling you and doing unnecessary things for you.

"I want you to plan to spend at least two weeks in the hospital. It will do you good to rest, relax and build up a bit. Then you will need a nurse for at least two weeks after you get home. If you can afford one for a month, so much the better. I have the very woman in mind for you, and will engage her if you want me to do so."

Nancy agreed and then went on to the next subject on her list. "What should I take to the hospital in the way of clothes?" "Very little. The hospital furnishes gowns. You will want a kimono and bedroom slippers. Toilet articles, some toilet water and bath powder won't come amiss. But most of the patients get things like that for gifts. Suppose you come with me now to the hospital and we will check up on the things to bring with you." And off they went.

It takes many more things for a layette. If you are interested, write to Nancy Page, care of this paper, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, asking for her "Layette" leaflet.

THE BIDDING

South Bids	West Bids	North Bids	East Bids
1 C	Pass	1 H	1 S
2 H	Pass	Pass	2 S
3 H	3 S	Pass	Pass

Final Bid 3 S Played by East

Salient Points of the Bidding

The absence of Clubs from West's hand and his holding of four Spades warrant his delayed assist after his partner's rebid.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 2. At a cross-ruff, East can take but nine tricks. He therefore plans the difficult task of establishing the Club suit, notwithstanding the fact that South, lying over him, bid the suit originally. As the first step of this plan, Declarer takes Trick 2 in his own hand to lead a Club.

Trick 3. Assuming South to hold the Ace and Queen of Clubs, East leads the Jack to shut out the ten should North hold it, prepared to follow it up with the King on a later lead.

Trick 6. If South has both the ten and eight of Clubs, Declarer cannot make his contract, as in that case his trump length will not be sufficient for the establishment of the Clubs and the removal of the two adverse trumps. But if South hold the ten of Clubs and North the eight, the Clubs can be established, even though the adverse trumps be in one hand. But to effect this result, Declarer can afford to use but one of his three remaining trumps in ruffing, since two of them will be needed, for the removal of the adversaries' trumps in case both of them are in one hand. Declarer, therefore, at this trick instead of ruffing another Diamond must rut himself in with a trump.

Trick 7. The two adverse trumps falling on Trick 6, another lead is not necessary. Declarer therefore leads the nine of Clubs and, finding the eight in North's hand, establishes the suit and makes game on the hand.

It will be noted that had Declarer reserved the ten of trumps in Dummy for ruffing instead of leading it, one more trick could have been made, but this would have been a hazardous play since the contract could not then have been made had the adverse trumps been found in one hand.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

SPRING VEGETABLES GOOD FOR CHILDREN

There seems to be some fear in the minds of mothers that early spring vegetables are not good for children. Perhaps this arises from the fact that children who have not been eating vegetables regularly may, if fed all kinds of new vegetables, tend to react to them by some bowel activity. The fresh vegetables should be given them just the same. They offer the finest of tonics, and there are still so many persons who think that something must be taken in the spring of the year to "thin" the blood and that cream of tartar and sulphur and molasses is the thing to take. Throw medicines out of the window and eat an abundance of all kinds of fresh vegetables, as they come in season, and let them act as your tonic.

All spring vegetables for kiddies under sixteen months of age, whose vegetables should be sieved, can be treated in the following ways: The vegetables first must be well washed and scraped rather than peeled. Steaming is the ideal method for cooking vegetables, because so little water need be used. Barring that, put them on in boiling, salted water just to cover, cook them over a low fire, so that they won't burn, and keep them tightly covered. When tender, so that they are easily pierced with a fork, drain them—but reserve water to use with the sauce. Run vegetables through fine wire sieve and one serving would be two to three tablespoonfuls of this pulp. To this add two tablespoonfuls of thick white sauce mixed with two tablespoonfuls of the vegetable water, seasoned to taste. Or add the pulp to two tablespoonfuls of thin cream and serve with some bread or sweiback crumbs. One or two tablespoonfuls of this sieved pulp (any kind of vegetable) can be added to a salted custard made of one scant cupful of milk, one egg yolk, and seasoned with salt and butter. This can be steamed in a custard cup.

One-half of the yolk of a hard-cooked egg can be grated over the top of the vegetable, or the cooked yolk may be mashed with the vegetable and spread on thin toast. Any of these methods are quite suited to the digestion of the child from one year to two.

Now for the varieties, though children need less of these than many mothers imagine. They tire of foods because overanxious mothers suggest in their presence that they must be so tired of the same things. Fresh or canned vegetables of the following varieties can be served the child after the first year. If you don't find a vegetable named here it is because it isn't as good for the child. Spinach, carrots, turnips, sweet potatoes, potatoes, squash, beans, peas, asparagus, beets, cauliflower, tomatoes and brussel sprouts. In offering a vegetable which is new to the child, offer half as much as he is used to eating of the familiar one. How about cutting this out mothers? You're sure to forget directions if you don't.

I use Ammonia

"I wonder if you would appreciate a thought from me. While attempting to clean a badly soiled comb and brush I discovered that soaking in warm water, to which 2 tablespoons of your Cloudy Ammonia has been added, loosens the dirt so that it can readily be removed without a brush or cloth.

This is a vast improvement over removing dirt from between comb teeth with a pin or hairpin as most people do." Sincerely,

Mrs. G. G. Custer.

PULLED BREAD

Cut off the thin crust from the outside of a long loaf of French bread, gash the loaf at both ends and pull apart in halves, pulling from the outside toward the center. Cut the halves and separate into quarters, break in the desired lengths, place in the pan and dry out the moisture in a slow oven. Then brown a delicate color.

FLEMISH SOUP

Cook four tablespoonfuls of minced raw ham in one-half cupful of oil or butter, add three sliced onions, three chopped stalks of celery and six medium potatoes sliced and let cook until the vegetabics begin to brown. Place in a saute pan and add four cupfuls of soup stock and continue to cook until the potatoes have boiled to a puree. Strain, return the liquid to the kettle and thicken with three tablespoonfuls of flour rubbed smooth with a little water. Add one-half teaspoonful of poultry seasoning an dsalt and pepper. Just before serving add one cupful of cream and two well-beaten eggs, stir until the eggs are set and serve immediately.

STRAWBERRY CONSERVE

Wash and hull three boxes of strawberries and slightly mash them, add to them one cupful of grated pineapple, one orange and one-half pound of seeded raisins, put through the food chopper, add the juice of one lemon, combine altogether and add an equal amount of poultry seasoning and salt and thick, stirring frequently. Pour into clean glasses and paraffin.

EGGS A LA KING

Two tablespoonfuls of butter, one can of mushrooms, one-half a chopped green pepper, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one and one-half cupfold of of thin cream or rich milk, two egg yolks beaten, one-fourth cupful of cream, eight hard-boiled eggs sliced. Melt the butter and cook the peppers until soft, add the mushrooms sliced, and cook for five minutes, add the flour and salt and thoroughly mix, add the cream and stir until boiling. Mix the egg yolks with the one-fourth cupful of cream and slowly pour into the boiling mixture, add the sliced hard-boiled eggs and stir carefully until heated. Then add the lemon juice. Serve on toast.

WED-OR-DIE SWAIN GETS JAIL TERM

Officer Awaiting When He Arrives at Girl's Home With Loaded Gun

Incensed when his sweetheart refused to marry him, William H. Lawrence, 43 years of age of 911½ Broad avenue, Wilmington, went to her home with a loaded revolver only to be met at the door by an officer, it was revealed yesterday when Municipal Judge Wilson sentenced him to 180 days in the City Jail for carrying a concealed weapon.

Miss Pearl Simmons, 1220 West Fifth street, the complainant, told Deputy City Prosecutor Margad Lawrence sent her a letter promising to kill her Thursday night.

"I'll be out at the house at 8 o'clock and kill both of us unless you marry me," the letter said.

Miss Simmons said she notified authorities and when the defendant appeared at the door at the announced time Policeman Gregerich answered Lawrence's query, "Are you alone?" by placing him under arrest.

Lawrence pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charge and began serving his sentence in the City Jail within fifteen minutes after the complaint had been issued against him by Deputy City Prosecutor Lindsey.

Bank Employee Gives Self Up

Grover Braden, cashier of the trust department of the Los Angeles-First National Bank at Sixth and Springs streets yesterday surrendered to Deputy United States Marshal Lessner as the aftermath of a complaint charging misapplication of bank funds.

Braden appeared before United States Commissioner Head and furnished bail of $5000.

It is charged that while head of his department Braden cashed mortgages which were due and substituted asserted forged trust deeds. The charge mentions $4000, but Asst. U. S. Atty. Layng states that there is an apparent shortage of $14,000.

PAVING ORDERED

The City Council's Public Works Committee has recommended that a property owners' petition asking for the paving of Santa Susana avenue from Devonshire street to Marilla street be granted. The pavement is to be eight-inch cement concrete, the paved roadway to be twenty feet wide with an eight-foot oiled shoulder.

Police Captain Injured Chasing Suspect Better

Captain of Detectives Newstetter, who was injured when his automobile was crowded to a curb and overturned by a fleeing hi-jacker's car Thursday night, is not as seriously hurt as it was at first believed. He escaped with a fractured right leg and numerous cuts and bruises, and is recovering at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Capt. Newstetter, who is in command of the valley division, recognized a car on Sunset Boulevard as one being sought by police in the belief that it is used by criminals. He gave chase in his own machine, and at Beverly Crest and Doheny street the driver forced him to make a sudden turn, overbalancing the car.

Information supplied by the injured officer is being utilized by detectives in an endeavor to apprehend the fugitive.

French Mission on Aviation to be Guests Here

A mission representing the French Committee for the Development of Aeronautics will visit Los Angeles June 3, 4 and 5, according to announcement yesterday by James H. Smiley, district manager of the Los Angeles office, United States Department of Commerce. The mission is being sent to America for the purpose of studying the organization of American commercial air transportation facilities.

It comes at the invitation of the United States Department of Commerce. The department is placing a ten-passenger transport plane at the disposal of the group, and will take it on an itinerary of the United States.

You don't take "a little of this" and "a little of that" and just guess at the oven heat, do you? Then why take a chance on the shortening?

I took my grocer at his word. He told me to try Fluffo, and if I didn't like it better than any other shortening I'd ever used, he'd give me my money back. And then he said if I thought Fluffo spoilt my cake, he'd pay me for the cake, too.

I didn't seem to be taking any chances on a try-out like that. And when I made my cake, I saw right away that my grocer wasn't gambling either.

Fluffo is simply wonderful—that's all there is to it! You know Fluffo will work—just as surely as you know a cup is a cup, or a spoonful is a spoonful.

I'VE TOLD you some of the ways I bake with Fluffo. Here's a real shortening test in cooking—thin white sauces

Mix 1 tablespoon flour with ¼ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Melt 1 tablespoon Fluffo in a saucepan, and remove from heat. Stir in dry ingredients until thoroughly blended. Return saucepan to fire and begin adding milk, stirring constantly, and making sure that sauce thickens with each addition of liquid, before more is added. Continue until 1 full cup of milk has been added. Bring to boil over heat. Then set pan in hot water and cook 15 minutes or longer.

For medium white sauce, use 2 tablespoons flour and 2 tablespoons Fluffo, keeping other ingredients as above. For thick white sauce, increase the Fluffo to 4 tablespoons and the flour to 5 tablespoons.

GOVERNOR SEES VALENCIA SHOW

Evades Welcoming Formality and Inspects Displays

Fullerton Girl is Crowned "Queen Valencia"

Anaheim Lauded by Young on Citrus Exhibit

ANAHEIM, May 25.—Traveling incognito, Gov. Young this afternoon evaded the delegation of Santa Ana celebrities, delegated to watch over the chief executive during his day in the county seat of Orange county, and made a surrepetitious visit to this city to look over the eighth annual California Valencia Orange Show.

Accompanied by his private secretary, C. A. Whitmore, and three or four prominent business men of Santa Ana, the Governor spent more than two hours gazing on the wealth of elaborate Valencia show exhibits giving continuous utterances of admiration and amusement at the extensive proportions of the exposition and the splendor of the scene unfolded before him.

QUEEN ENTHRONED

Tonight, Gov. Young shared the spotlight with Miss Ada Williams of Fullerton, who was crowned Queen Valencia to the accompaniment of deafening applause of another record-breaking throng of show visitors. Queen Ada was resplendent in her gorgeous oriental queen costume with gold inlaid headdress and flowered silken robes, made especially for this occasion and designed by one of the most celebrated of America's oriental costumers.

The queen was accompanied by four ladies-in-waiting, appropriately costumed. They were selected from the four classes of the Anaheim High School.

Gov. Young returned here tonight for his Valencia show address. He stressed the importance of the citrus industry to California and complimented Anaheim on the magnificance of the 1928 Valencia show.

CROWD SETS RECORD

The presence of the Governor at today's program drew out the largest crowd ever to attend a Valencia orange show. Today was American Legion day, with the Legion posts of Orange county in charge of the day's program. In addition to the Governor's speech tonight and the crowning of Queen Valencia entertainment features included Glenn Oswald's orchestra, assisted by a stellar group of vaudeville performers. Richard Coburn, master of ceremonies, kept the crowd in a constant titter of merriment with his witticisms and drew spontaneous bursts of applause at each of his renditions of his latest song hit, "Oh come, Valencia."

Tomorrow is Fullerton day, with an entertainment program featuring George Freeman's orchestra and another coterie of vaudeville acts. Sunday is service clubs day, with Morris Menge's orchestra, and still another group of vaudevillians.

SENTENCED FOR ASSAULT

SANTA ANA, May 25. — Silverio Hernandez of Cypress was denied probation and sentenced to serve three months in the County Jail, when he appeared for hearing before Superior Judge E. J. Marks. He had pleaded guilty to assault upon Victor Ortiz of Cypress.

BOYS TRAILED TO VALLEY

Scoutmaster Reports Pomona Lads Ran Away Into Imperial to Pick Cantaloupes

POMONA, May 25.—The first definite information regarding the whereabouts of Lewis and Nelson Winslow, missing sons of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Winslow of this city, who ran away more than a week ago was received today from H. Gordon Moore, local Scoutmaster, who left two days ago for a comprehensive search of towns between this city and the Mexican border.

Moore reported to local headquarters that he had picked up the boys' trail at Ontario, traced them through Whitewater, and had learned that they were on their way to the Imperial Valley to "pick cantaloupes."

This information was gleaned from a storekeeper at Whitewater, who stated that he had fed the boys at 4 p.m. Thursday after they had alighted from a southbound truck. He stated that the boys later caught a ride on another truck and proceeded on their way.

Moore also reported that he was organizing Boy Scout troops at El Centro to make diligent search for the runaways while he proceeded to Brawley for further search himself.

MEMORIAL RITES OPEN ON SUNDAY

Upland and Ontario in Three-Day Program With Legion in Charge

ONTARIO, May 25.—Starting Sunday morning, Ontario and Upland will begin annual observance of Memorial Day with programs continuing Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ontario post of the American Legion, together with auxiliary will be honor guests at a special Memorial Day sermon preached by Rev. B. A. Fye at Westminster Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. The Grand Army of the Republic and Women Relief Corps will attend services in a body at the First Baptist Church. Upland American Legion post, auxiliary and Daughters of Veterans will attend Upland Methodist Church, the sermon to be preached by Rev. James A. Stavely.

Monday patriotic organizations of Upland and Ontario will unite in decorating the graves of veterans of the Civil War and World War at Bellevue Cemetery.

Tuesday the organizations will gather flowers and take them to Ontario American Legion Hall for use in the programs Wednesday, which start at eight o'clock Wednesday morning, honoring the Unknown Soldiers of all wars.

All organizations of the community will be represented in the parade Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, headed by the new fifty-piece American Legion band.

Mrs. Doulton Given Decree

SANTA BARBARA, May 25.—Mrs. Robert H. Doulton of Montecito, formerly Mrs. William H. Bartlett, Jr., of Denver and New Mexico, was granted a divorce from Robert H. Doulton of Montecito, in a default decree entered in Superior Court here today.

Mrs. Doulton, with her two daughters, Miss Virginia Bartlett and Mrs. Algernon A. S. Davey of Montecito, are owners of the 240,000-acre Vermejo ranch in New Mexico, the estate of William H. Bartlett, Sr.

In her complaint for divorce, which was uncontested, Mrs. Doulton alleged cruelty, intoxication and failure to provide. Doulton, she asserted, "by reason of his idleness, profligacy, and dissipation, failed to provide for her welfare." They were married in Santa Barbara, December 5, 1923, and separated the 11th inst.

Police Hunt Counterfeiter

CALEXICO, May 25. (AP)—An intensive official search was launched today for a man known to have passed six counterfeit American dollars in Mexicali, Mexican border town, yesterday. Recollection of the man was made today after Mexicali officials started an investigation which disclosed that many Calexico merchants had been victims of the bogus silver-dollar operator.

The counterfeit silver pieces were stamped from soft metal and dated 1880. The officials said the distributor was an American.

PIONEER RANCHER'S FUNERAL AT COVINA

COVINA, May 25.—Rev. George Steed will officiate at funeral services tomorrow afternoon for William C. Woodworth, 61 years of age, rancher, who died Tuesday from heart trouble. The Woodworth family have lived here twenty years at their ranch on Vincent street.

The funeral will be held from the First Methodist Church at 3 o'clock and interment will take place in Oakdale Cemetery. The deceased leaves his widow, Mrs. Effie A. Woodworth; two daughters, Mrs. Nieva E. Searcy of Fresno, Mrs. Maud M. Bean of Alameda, and a son, L. E. Woodworth of Baldwin Park; also a brother, H. D. Woodworth, Pomona, and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Larabee of Bristol, Wis., and Mrs. F. C. Hoskins of Pontiac, Mich.

Caltech Plans Commencement

PASADENA, May 25. — Commencement exercises will be held by the California Institute of Technology on Friday, June 8, at 4:30 p.m., it was announced today.

Dr. Eric T. Bell, professor of mathematics at the institute, will deliver the commencement address. Dr. Bell received the Brocher prize of the American Mathematical Society for conspicuous mathematical research in 1924. In 1927, he was elected to the National Academy of Sciences. The subject of his address will be "The Greatest Adventure."

Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, pastor of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles, will serve as chaplain and deliver the chaplain's address.

Master Plan for Ventura Sought

VENTURA, May 25. — Dr. Carol Aronivici, city planning expert, will be invited to make a survey of Ventura to assist in drawing a new master plan and in selling that plan to the public, if the City Council acts favorably upon a request which the Planning Commission decided last night to make.

Dr. Aronivici was present at a special meeting here and went over the work involved with the commissioners, basing his applications of city planning principles to "ventura upon a short trip here a week ago, and an all-day study of this city yesterday. Dr. Aronivici went into the needs of the community, outlined the procedure for putting a new master plan into effect and spoke of the legislative measures involved.

Tire Repairman Becomes Popular

MONROVIA, May 25. — Chief of Police Frank Scott received an unusual call this morning when a motorist phoned in that carpet tacks covered the intersection of Foothill and Canyon boulevards, and as fast as cars traveled over the intersection from one to three tires on each vehicle would be punctured.

Capt. D. H. Davis investigated the call and reported that motorists lined the boulevard repairing tires and that tacks were strewn from one side of the boulevard to the other.

Police removed the tacks but are not certain as to how they got on the thoroughfare.

LOCATION CHOSEN FOR WATER WELL

COVINA, May 25.—Selection of a site for the proposed new city water well was made last night by the Board of Trustees during an adjourned session when a location on Grand avenue, about a mile northeast of Covina, won the unanimous approval of the Council.

Negotiations to purchase the property will get under way before the next Council meeting on June 4, according to City Clerk Hutchinson.

Three bids submitted for sinking the well were rejected, which gives the Council the right to select the contractor who will be named also at the next meeting. Bids were submitted by W. A. Hood, Long Beach, $4710; Southern California Well Drilling Corporation, $5035, and J. P. Overholtzer, Covina, $5350.

ECCENTRICITY NOT INSANITY

Wealthy Redlands Rancher Again Before Court on Complaint of Son But Regains Freedom

REDLANDS, May 25.—Another attempt to place A. J. Boswell, wealthy eccentric, in a hospital for insane failed today when Judge F. A. Leonard dismissed a case resulting from an affidavit of insanity by the man's son, Joe Boswell.

Dr. E. W. Meyer, superintendent of the County Hospital, testified Boswell is not insane but is eccentric and that it might be well to place him in a private institution where he could have good care. W. O. Harris of the American Bank of San Bernardino, also said that Boswell is not insane and is keen in business.

The son testified that his father, who resides on a small ranch here with his three sons, would arise in the middle of the night and shout and threaten his sons, after throwing rocks at the two younger boys. His father complained that people were trying to take his money away from him, the son said.

Boswell first came before the court in December, 1926, when he was given a hearing on an affidavit of insanity. Neighbors complained of his strange actions at his ranch, and accused him of not giving his three sons proper clothing, food and shelter, although being wealthy and able to do so.

Later Boswell left his sons and went East. The three boys were taken by an aunt in Denver. Boswell later appeared in Denver and was struck by an automobile and taken to a hospital. There he was found to have more than $90,000 in negotiable bonds and securities in his clothing. When received at the County Hospital this week for observation, Boswell was found to have more than $100 hidden in his shoe.

ALBATROSS ON GROUND STILL

Winds Block Latest Effort at Endurance Flight

Flyers Hope to Try Again Today if Favorable

Big Monoplane Fails to Lift from New Runway

SANTA ANA, May 25.—Cross winds blew the Albatross off its runway and resulted in a second failure by the big monoplane to take off on its proposed endurance flight at the Orange county airport early today.

Another attempt will be made early tomorrow—if there are no cross winds, it was announced today by R. O. D. Sullivan, chief pilot. Sullivan declared that he will make no more attempts to hop off until wind conditions are right.

Sullivan said that it was impossible to hold the Albatross on its course, because of the cross winds, as the plane sped down the runway this morning shortly after 5 a.m. The ship lifted from the ground at one point of the mile-and-a-half run, but could not stay aloft with its eight-tons of weight, including 1400 gallons of gas.

The attempt finally halted when a tire blew out, and further attempts were called off for the day.

Sullivan was accompanied in the plane by L. S. Sullivan and Sol Spigel. The two Sullivans, unrelated, are naval air service pilots at San Diego. Spigel is a mechanic of the Zenith Aircraft Corporation of Midway City, builders of the Albatross.

The owners and crew have not given up their determination to make the flight and stay aloft seventy hours, which would break the present world record, held by George Haldeman and Eddie Stinson, by approximately sixteen hours.

The runway constructed just before the attempt last Saturday, and which was too soft to hold up the plane then, was packed hard and firm today. Sullivan said it was in adequate condition.

Educational Advances in Mexico Told

PASADENA, May 25.—Commercial aspects of a prosperous Mexico was the topic of an address delivered today by Fred M. Wilcox, member of the board of directors of Pomona College, at the luncheon meeting of the One Hundred Per Cent Club in the Maryland Hotel.

Although the illiteracy of the natives of Mexico has been great in the past, according to the speaker, the Mexican government is accomplishing much along educational lines and is rapidly reducing the percentage of illiteracy, he said.

"Better transportation is being developed, which will be a great help in developing Mexican commerce and there is every reason to predict a splendid future for the country.

"There are only eighteen inhabitants per square mile in Mexico as compared with thirty-three per square mile in the United States. The urban population in Mexico is 25 per cent in Mexico, 51 per cent in the United States, and 66 per cent in California."

Kent to Lead Brotherhood

PASADENA, May 25.—S. J. Kent of 2640 North El Molino avenue was elected president of the United Church Brotherhood of Pasadena at the annual dinner-meeting held last night in the Presbyterian Church.

Lewis Salisbury was elected first vice-president and W. C. Lieberg was elected second vice-president. J. Bassett Willard, executive secretary, and J. A. Miller, treasurer, were re-elected for another year.

A motion to appoint a committee to pass upon the qualifications of Presidential candidates and make suitable recommendations was withdrawn when objections were made that the brotherhood should "keep out of politics."

The present tendency of certain persons to substitute philosophy for religion was criticised by Dr. Frederick P. Woellner of the University of California at Los Angeles, who delivered the principal address.

PASADENA PLUMBING INSPECTOR CHANGED

PASADENA, May 25.—Following the acceptance of the resignation of R. S. Scott, city plumbing inspector, today, City Manager R. V. Orbison announced that he has named J. B. Davis as Mr. Scott's successor.

Davis, by virtue of his office, will become chairman of the board of plumbing examiners, which will conduct tests for master and journeymen plumbers in July. Scott resigned to accept a position with the Washington Iron Works. He assisted in framing the city's sanitary code.

POSTAL SERVICE AT AZUSA IS IMPROVED

AZUSA, May 25.—Beginning June 1, a newly authorized city-delivery mail service by three carriers will take the place of the one carrier, according to Postmaster J. W. Calvert, Jr. That growth of the post-office business necessitates the addition of the three carriers to the staff was cited by Calvert.

For the purpose of lightening work for the office employees, a new cancelling machine has just been installed which has a capacity of 800 letters per minute.

THREE-LEGGED FAMILY FOUND

Huntington Park Flower Pot Reveals Strange Group of Hoptoads

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 25.—A family of hoptoads, each member of which has but one hind leg, has been found living in a flower bed in this city. While one of the residents of the city was passing along the City National Bank front yesterday, his attention was attracted to a toad, which was hopping along rather lop-sided.

The pedestrian made a closer observation with the result that he discovered the toad to have only one rear leg. The observer then followed the toad to a flower bed where he discovered nineteen additional three-legged toads. Residents of this city are at a loss to explain the phenomenon.

Officer Wins Damages for Blast Injury

SANTA ANA, May 25.—A jury in Superior Judge E. J. Marks court yesterday awarded Robert Gill, Los Angeles county deputy sheriff, $15,000 damages against J. G. Young and Carl A. Lundberg, partners in operation of an oil lease at Huntington Beach.

Gill was severely burned in a gas explosion at the lease, where he asserted he had gone as a guest of the defendants, by appointment with Lundberg. His burns disabled his left hand, his "gun hand," he alleged, and thereby increased his damages by impairing his efficiency as an officer.

The jury deliberated an hour and forty minutes, returning its verdict by a vote of 10 to 2. The defense is expected to move for a new trial, and to appeal if this is denied. In the trial of the case the defense raised several legal questions, including whether Lundberg's invitation to Gill to come to the lease was binding upon his partner, Young, and whether Gill, having collected accident insurance for his injuries, was barred from recovering damages in a court action.

Heads Chosen by Endeavorers

LAGUNA BEACH, May 25.—The officers of the Orange County Christian Endeavor union were announced today by Warren O. Mendenhall of Anaheim, president, following the thirty-ninth convention of the union here.

The officers are: First vice-president, Clarence Rohrs, Santa Ana; second vice-president, Charles Spotts, Orange; third vice-president, Dorothy Abbott, Placentia; secretary Earl Zahl, Anaheim; treasurer, Walker Merrifield, Fullerton, intermediate superintendent, Everett Schneider, Anaheim; assistants, Edward Dews, Orange and Edwin Hind, Laguna Beach; junior superintendent, Mildred Binkley, Orange; Evangelistic superintendent, Grace Moody, El Modena; prayer meeting superintendent, Nordin Brothers, Santa Ana; social superintendent, Leora Healton, Anaheim; life work recruit superintendent, Thelma Green, Placentia; quiet hour superintendent, Elizabeth Todd, Santa Ana; hospital superintendent, Hazel Barnett, El Modena; tenth legion superintendent, Sherman Denney, Huntington Beach, music superintendent, Don Milligan, Placentia; press superintendent, Lloyd Ross, Anaheim, Christian Endeavor representative, Bennett Rohrs, Santa Ana; hospital chaplain, J. Green, Placentia, introduction superintendent, Harold Zahl, Anaheim; missionary superintendent, Louise Dews, Orange; citizenship superintendent, Harold Fish, Santa Ana.

ONTARIANS ARRANGE GOOD-WILL DINNER

ONTARIO, May 25.—A "golden-rule dinner," planned on a menu similar to the daily fare of inhabitants of the Near East, will be served at Ontario Methodist Church immediately after the Sunday morning services as the opening movement in the campaign sponsored by Upland and Ontario to raise $3000 for Near East relief.

Mrs. J. S. Armstrong is chairman of the golden-rule dinner committee. At conclusion at the dinner each person is to be asked to give what he considers the meal worth to him. The proceeds go into the Near East relief fund.

Dr. W. Maxwell Bprk of Los Angeles will make a short address on conditions in the Near East.

PROBATION GRANTED AS CHECK REPAID

SANTA ANA, May 25. — Superior Judge E. J. Marks today granted probation to Charles Shafer, who pleaded guilty to passing a worthless check for $20.45 to the First National Bank of Garden Grove last December 7. Attorney James L. Davis, appointed to defend Shafer, appeared for him in court.

Shafer was ordered to repay the amount of the check to the bank, and to abstain from use of liquor during the three-year period of probation granted him.

BLIND MAN ON TOUR

CHATSWORTH, May 25. — Although blind, William Currie of this city h left for a three months' tour of the East. Currie will travel alone, and will visit relatives in eastern States. He expects to visit Chicago and other metropolitan centers.

SCHOOL BOARD RESENTS PLEA

Petition from 130 Teachers Returned by Officials

Faculty Protests Displacing of Dean of Girls

Move to Embarrass Executive Body is Charged

PASADENA, May 25.—Characterized by Judge Raymond G. Thompson, school-board president, as a "conceived attempt to embarrass the board," a communication signed by 130 teachers urging that Miss Nellie G. Clarke, recently deposed high-school dean of girls, be retained as a faculty member was sent back to the circulators today.

The teachers were also criticised by the Board of Education for allowing students to circulate a petition in the high-school classrooms protesting against the proposal of the board to enlarge the size of classes next year. This petition was signed by 964 pupils.

GRIEVANCE DISCLOSED

Several teachers stated today that their particular grievance against the school board consists in the manner in which Miss Clarke was notified that she had been displaced as dean of girls. "After a teacher has served the community well for many years, it does not appear that the board used good judgment in allowing Miss Clarke to read of her demotion in the newspapers without giving her any warning in advance of their intended action," declared one faculty member.

Miss Clarke probably will be assigned as vice-principal in one of the junior high schools of the city, John A. Sexson, superintendent of schools, informed members of the faculty who objected to her removal from the position of girls' dean.

SUPERINTENDENT REPLIES

"While all members of the Board of Education and the superintendent will welcome conference and consultation with any interested individuals, it is obvious that they may not be influenced in their actions by the presentations of those who are not informed as to the conditions to be met, or by those who are making presentations simply in behalf of their own personal interests, or those of their friends," declared Mr. Sexson.

The Pasadena Board of Education has been engaged for more than a year in a controversy with County Superintendent of Schools Mark Keppel regarding many school administrative problems.

The resignations of six teachers were accepted by the Board of Education last night upon the recommendation of Sexson. They are Harry B. Milholin, high-school athletic coach; Miss Marjorie Kelly, Miss Ruth Lundeen, William A. McGinnis, Miss Eugenia Ong and Alma L. Wursch.

Assignments of teachers for next year will be considered at a closed meeting of the board on Monday night.

FOUR GIRLS RACE FOR QUEEN HONORS

MONROVIA, May 25.—Who is to reign as queen over the American Legion Exposition being held at the corner of Huntington Drive and Myrtle avenue? A foursome of pretty girls, Peggy Farmer, Ruth Stevens, Lillian Savage and Margaret Purbaugh, are vying to win the crown which will be presented by Jack Harris, commander of Monrovia American Legion Post 44, sponsors of the exposition, tomorrow night at 10:30 o'clock.

Commander Harris will present the queen with a diamond ring, also the first maid of honor who will be the contestant with the second largest number of votes. As the contest stands today, Miss Savage is leading, while Miss Ruth Stevens is a close second. Miss Farmer is third and Miss Purbaugh, fourth.

MONROVIA CHAMBER PICKS CANDIDATES

MONROVIA, May 25.—Ballots for the Chamber of Commerce primary election were counted this morning by the election committee in charge of Homer Mead, chairman, who announced that 149 ballots were cast.

Sixteen members receiving the highest number of votes will be placed on the general ballot for the election of eight directors who will serve two-year terms.

Candidates on the general ballot will be V. R. Bush, S. J. Ryan, W. J. Ellery, H. P. Eastman, Homer Mead, Dr. J. S. Allison, J. B. McBratney, Dr. R. E. Hewes, Fred Schwartz, J. M. Hume, W. C. Barks, Walter P. Dunn, Bartle Harvey, G. B. Moehrl, J. O. Peterson and G. F. Bentley.

PUT GUARDS ON COLLEGE BALLOT BOX

Old Political Tricks Charged as San Diego Election is Stopped

SAN DIEGO, May 25.—After considering evidence of attempts to influence voters and asserted illegal voting, the executive committee of the State Teachers' College student body at noon today declared the election of the associated student body illegal, halted balloting today and tomorrow, and called a new election for Monday and Tuesday.

When students entered the polling places to vote today it was said marked ballots were found inside the booths and that sample ballots were handed the student voters as they entered the booths.

This was declared illegal and contrary to the rules of the associated student body. Rival tickets for officers of the associated student body aroused such interest that the two factions are accused of attempting tricks known to professional politicians.

The executive committee issued a statement at the close of its meeting that a thorough investigation would be made to ascertain who is responsible for efforts to influence the voting students, and the committee also voted a fund to employ watchers or guards to be stationed at the polls next Monday and Tuesday to see that no further attempts at illegal voting would be made.

Bishop Will Break Ground for Hospital

ORANGE, May 25. — Groundbreaking ceremonies for the $500,000 General Hospital to be built on Stewart Drive by the Sisters of St. Joseph, will be held tomorrow at 4 p.m.

The first spadeful of dirt will be turned by the Rt. Rev. J. J. Cantwell, bishop of San Diego and Los Angeles diocese. Other church dignitaries are to be present and assist in the ceremonies. A concert will open the program, the music to be furnished by the boys' band of St. Catherine's Academy. The band has thirty-five members and will march in military formation.

When the first spadeful of dirt has been turned the dirt is to be blessed, and Bishop Cantwell is to give an address in which he will outline the work that is to be done and tell something of the aims of the institution. Other speakers of the program will include civic leaders from Orange county towns.

City Official Opens War on Loud Speakers

INGLEWOOD, May 25. — Radio loud speakers in this city are not going to be so loud hereafter if City Councilman Robert Haenggi has his way about it.

He voiced a complaint at last night's Council meeting, concerning the noisy braying of these asserted instruments of torture from in front of stores and from open windows in homes during the nocturnal hours when he and other residents prefer a little sleep.

City Attorney Clyde Woodworth was instructed to ascertain if there is any precedent for an ordinance which will make the loud speaker not so loud and otherwise regulate its activities.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR CARPINTERIA SEWER

SANTA BARBARA, May 25.—First steps to provide a sewer system for the recently created Carpinteria sanitary district were taken yesterday, when the district board approved the recommendation of R. F. Goudy, State sanitary engineer, for the employment of an engineer to make a survey of the needs of the district.

Goudy estimated a system could be placed in the district for approximately $50,000. He further outlined the needs of the district and the board's relation to them. He was accompanied by Dr. F. G. Crandall, county health officer, who also conferred with the board. An engineer will be hired within a few days, it was indicated. The survey will require about three months.

BUILDING PROGRESSES

BALBOA, May 25.—With day and night shifts of about twenty men each on the job this week, the pouring of concrete for the walls of the new Bank of Balboa building here was completed today, according to W. H. Bowman, contractor. It will be ready for occupancy in August, it was said.

JURY PICKING IS SLOW

Wide Interest Attracted by Trial of Teacher at Santa Barbara on Cruelty Charge

SANTA BARBARA, May 25.—The trial of Wilbur A. Selle, instructor in physiology in the Santa Barbara State College, on a charge of cruelty to animals, growing out of experiments on a small dog, got under way in justice court here this morning, but when court adjourned at 5 p.m., it had exhausted a venire of sixty persons and seated eleven jurors temporarily. A new venire of thirty-five was ordered to appear at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Selle, it is charged in the complaint, operated on a small terrier during the course of his investigations at the college hospital, and the dog was found by neighbors in a vacant garage. The instructor in his defense asserts that he was performing the experiments under the direction of a doctor of the University of Toronto.

Intense interest in the case brought scores of humane officials from Southern California to the trial this morning, as well as many students from the college. Included among those attending the trial is Mrs. Rosamonde Ray Wright, president of the California Anti-Vivisection Society, honorary vice-president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of France, and ex-president of the Los Angeles Humane Commission.

At the close of court tonight, the defense had used three of its ten peremptory challenges, while the prosecution had utilized two.

Consolidation of City ... County Offices Fixed

Ways to Meet Anticip... Shortage Discussed

SAN DIEGO, May 25.—One of the problems occasioned by the recent county election in order to consolidate the city-and-county tax offices here was offered when the City Council met in conference agreed to the following points:

Taxes will be collected by County Tax Collector Herbert A. Gahan, who has agreed to keep the city in its dilemma.

The city taxes will be payable for the first six months of the year and the rate for that period will be 56 cents on the $100 valuation.

The valuation made by the Assessor will stand.

DISCOUNTS SCALED

Taxes are due and payable Oct. 11. They become delinquent November 1. If paid in June, a 3 per cent discount will be allowed; 2 per cent if paid in July, 3 per cent in August and 1 per cent in September.

For the fiscal year from July 1, next, to July 1, 1929, taxes collected on a valuation to be fixed by County Assessor George A. Moulton.

To aid the county collectors in the June tax collection, deputy Tax Collector Jack T. Miller, his deputies are to be sworn in as deputy tax collectors and the official work heretofore performed by the city employees in connection under Croghan's direction. All statements prepared by the city are to be used and mailed to payers under the 56-cent rate and under the rate to be fixed by the new fiscal year beginning July 1, will afford the city ample funds to meet all obligations and the bond retirements and interest thereon up to July 1, 1929, by protecting the city's margin.

The Council was told by City Attorney James E. O'Keefe that the 90-cent limit tax rate for the purposes was obsolete, as the consolidation Act gave the Council power to fix any tax rate under State law and that the limit for State purposes was 61. O'Keefe and Attorney said that when the new tax rate was fixed the Council would be acting under State law and that it could fix any rate to meet expenditures.

DEFICIT PROBABLE

The City Auditor gave the Council figures to show that all County payments of the city could operate as usual under taxes collected by the county in October, this year. In April, next year, however, there are no taxes assessed valuation to be made by the County Assessor, when there are no taxes collected, there would have to meet a deficit from July 1, 1929, of $350,000, the Auditor said.

Discussion of how to meet this figure was varied. An increase in water rates was suggested and opposed. A higher tax rate to meet the loss in revenue was discussed. No action was taken.

However, as it was made plain by the Council by City Attorney O'Keefe that no matter what befell the city financially, all departments would continue to function and that if necessary, the city could borrow money enough to meet any deficiency that might arise.

At the Council conference this morning no mention was made of the proposed revaluation of city and county properties. It was suggested that if any of the improvements would have to slow up for lack of funds it would be the parks and playgrounds, and only for a short time.

DOES OPPORTUNITY KNOCK TWICE

Could you see Wilshire Blvd. a few years ago when it was cheap? Do you envy the smart ones who bought Wilshire and have since cashed in? WOULD YOU BUY a BUSINESS CORNER ON WILSHIRE BLVD. today at only $300 per foot, if we can show you where you will make a fortune by holding? Don't say opportunity only knocks once. Here she is AGAIN. Climb aboard NOW and reap the harvest of dollars. REMEMBER, this road that leads to the ocean is the pathway to wealth. See M. F. Hurley.

YOUTH REPEATS OFFICE HOLD-UP

Boy Bandit Robs Telegraph Clerk Second Night

Entire City Searched by Special Squads

Smiling Outlaw Suspected of Many Other Crimes

Eluding the police dragnet which has been spread over the city for the past two weeks, the 16-year-old "boy bandit" last night shortly after 9 o'clock returned to the office of the Western Union Company at Figueroa and West Adams streets, and demanded additional money. The same telegraph office was the scene of a hold-up Thursday night.

Last night there were few preliminaries, according to the report to police by Albert Woodhouse, in charge of the telegraph office. Woodhouse was seated at the telephone desk when he heard some one enter. He turned around and the "smiling boy bandit" was just stepping through the swinging gate, with his revolver in his hand.

Mutual recognition passed in a flash, Woodhouse said, and the bandit said, "Get 'em up." Then "I see by the papers that I got $100 here last night. It was only $80. I came back to get the balance."

STILL SHORT $5

The robber then pulled open the money drawer in back of the counter; took out $15, all in sight, and exclaimed: "I'm still $5 short."

Smilingly backing out of the office the bandit stepped into a yellow roadster, with top down, which he had parked in front of the building and drove away.

According to Woodhouse, the boy was dressed exactly as on the night before, and was wearing his overalls, white shirt and soft gray cap.

Police credit the boy with at least ten service-station robberies, covering a period of about ten days, and he has been the object of an intense search by special details for more than a week.

BOLDNESS DISPLAYED

Most of the hold-ups have been characterized by extreme boldness, and in many cases confined to a small area of the city.

While most of the boy's getaways have been accomplished in a battered Oldsmobile coupe, last night he was driving a Buick roadster, and police now believe that he is not working as a "lone wolf" as first hold-up reports indicated.
